HARBOR GRACE (N. F.) Oct. 9. [illegible] trans-Atlantic flight is [illegible] tonight. Two men who [illegible] made the voyage were [illegible] their way to England in [illegible] and true Columbia, which [illegible] the ocean three years ago. [illegible] Errol Boyd, first Canadian [illegible] in the Royal Flying Corps [illegible] World War, and Harry P. [illegible], former lieutenant in the [illegible] States Navy, took off for [illegible] at 11:20 a.m. (eastern standard time). Fifty minutes later the [illegible], in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine flew from New York to Germany in 1927, passed over St. John's and was on [illegible] course to added fame.

REPORTED BY SHIP

[illegible] she was seen flying only [illegible] above the water by the crew [illegible] steamer Quaker City, 100 [illegible] northeast of Cape Race. [illegible] hours of silence followed, [illegible] was explained by fog which [illegible] much of the North Atlantic [illegible] would have hidden the [illegible] ships unless she passed [illegible]. At 5:40 p.m., however, the liner Lancastria reported that [illegible] passed the Columbia about [illegible] east of Harbor Grace.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 9. [To the Editor of the Times:] If it ain't one calamity hits us it's another. Did you read where Jessie Livermore, E. F. Hutton, Marshall Field, Frelinghuysen, Sloan of General Motors and Farrell of United States Steel and a host of others have been buying their "antique" furniture in England before it was even aged in the wood. They couldn't make these new antique "high boys" fast enough for our new rich "old boys." This expose will bring a hardship on our wealthy. It's liable to force 'em to use American-made furniture. Us middle class over here never have to worry about having old furniture to point out to our friends. We buy it on payments and before it's paid for it's plenty antique.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

MATERNITY PREDICTED AS FASHION

Psychoanalyst Says Birth of Lindbergh Baby May Influence Young Women

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (Exclusive) A prophecy that motherhood as a popular aim of young women soon will be back in fashion, and a suggestion that the birth of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., about a year after the marriage of his parents might be a strong influence in bringing this about was hazarded today by Fritz Wittels, Viennese psychoanalyst, right-hand man of Dr. Sigmund Freud, who is lecturing at the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science.

"Ideas these last few years have not been favorable to motherhood, and young women have not welcomed it," Dr. Wittels told reporters. "As a doctor I see that this blocking of natural impulses is the basis for many neuroses. But nature will find her own way to keep up the continuity of life, and it may well be through fashion. Surely the example of Col. Lindbergh, the national hero, may be a strong influence in settling the fashion.

"Already the maternal, womanly woman again has become fashionable. The longer skirt and long hair have come back, and womanly curves of the figure."

Panic in Church Blaze Averted

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Fire broke out last night in St. Isadore's Polish Catholic Church while 200 worshipers were attending services there. A rush for the exits that threatened to become a panic was halted when Rev. Father Thaddeus Nowak, with his back to the flames, besought the members of the congregation to move slowly, that there was plenty of time.

The fire, which started behind the sacristy, did small damage.

RECORD SET IN BUILDING

Federal Total $43,000,000

Contracts Let Since January Number 1666, Report by Heath Discloses

Forty-nine Others Involving $30,000,000 More to Be Awarded This Year

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—The Treasury has contracted for $43,000,000 worth of public buildings since January.

Ferry K. Heath, assistant Secretary, disclosed the figure today in answer to a complaint to President Hoover by an unnamed member of Congress that the government is not expediting the expanded public building program as much as possible. The contracts number 1666.

In addition to these contracts, forty-nine others, aggregating $30,000,000, will be let in the remaining months of 1930. Adding the cost of the land to the $73,000,000 called for in the year's building program, the total cost will be approximately $100,000,000.

"Since the foundation of the government we have never had a building program of such magnitude as is now in progress," Heath said. "The Treasury and Postoffice departments are exerting more diligence than ever before in pushing the building program."

Treasury officials estimate that, of the total cost of the buildings this year, $40,000,000 will be paid to labor.

The expanded program calls for a total expenditure of $568,000,000 over a ten-year period which began in 1928.

On January 1, last, the Treasury had thirty-two building contracts under way and in the intervening months twenty-one buildings have been completed. Contracts are being awarded at the rate of one every two and one-half days.

Date Fixed for Royal Wedding

ROME, Oct. 9. (AP)—The religious marriage of Princess Giovanna, daughter of the King and Queen of Italy, to Boris, Bulgaria's "Bachelor King," will be performed at San Rossore, near Pisa, summer home of the royal family on November 15, next.

Official announcement of the date and plans for the international marriage were made public today. King Boris is scheduled to arrive on Saturday for the final arrangements and official betrothal.

SHOUP OFFERS SLUMP CURE

Check-up on Mistakes, With Ban on Panaceas, Urged by Espee Chief in Chicago Talk

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—"'It is most important,' as John Quincy Adams once said in a similar crisis, 'that we should beware of the panaceas offered us and rather take stock of the things we have done that we should not have done, than to correct these faults by flying to asserted new remedies.'" So declared Paul Shoup, president of the Southern Pacific Company, in an address before 500 members of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce at its annual transportation meeting here today.

Mr. Shoup said he is not alarmed by the present business depression, expressing the opinion that it is a healthy phenomenon which will bring business back to normal methods. Like a dozen similar depressions in the past, the present business slump soon will be overcome, he declared.

INDIVIDUAL MATTER

"I have an idea that this question of business depression is more of an individual matter than we fully realize. It becomes quite general when too many of us, in addition to having a rainbow around our shoulders put the ends in our pockets and believe that fortunes are attached thereto.

"The process of adjustment are under way and when they are concluded we will be on our way onward and upward, just as this country has continued to climb decade by decade almost since it was established. Charts of 1907 and 1908 and of 1920, 1921 and 1922 show that while in the period of depression a month in one year may show a great drop in business from the corresponding month of the preceding year, almost invariably the same month in the following year shows an increase in business.

WELL EQUIPPED

"In no other period of reaction have we been so well equipped to meet the troubles incident thereto as we are now. A nation is on trial in the period of its greatest prosperity, but its real strength is brought forth by adversity. It is a good thing for us to walk a while instead of being given a ride."

Mr. Shoup devoted the bulk of his remarks to a discussion of the duplication of service in rail, steam-

British Imperial Conclave Takes Up Question of Great Broadcast Station

LONDON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Erecting of a broadcasting station capable of reaching all British colonies and dominions was among the major items before committees of the imperial conference today.

The communications committee threshed out the details but reached no decision.

Trade matters continued to occupy attention but there were no evidences that anything concrete has been formulated.

Although the Sankey committee discussing the manner of choice of governors-general was in continuous session all afternoon, there was no intimation of its findings.

Transportation matters were discussed by the economics committee and the board of trade.

GOOD CONDUCT NETS RICHES

Chicago Broker to Get $1,900,000 Under Ruling That He Fulfilled Terms of Father's Will

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—Vincent Kerens, 54 years of age, Chicago and Dallas broker, will receive at once his $1,900,000 share of the estate of his father, Richard C. Kerens, former Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, as a result of a decision handed down by Federal Judge Faris today.

A trust company was instructed by the court to proceed at once to close the trust fund established in the elder Kerens's will, filed after he died in 1916. The will required that Vincent should live a life of "sobriety and good behavior" for five consecutive years. The court held that evidence submitted in a trial of the case several months ago showed that Kerens has complied with the terms of the will.

Objections to Kerens's receiving the money were made by his two sisters, Mrs. Madeline Kenna of New York and London, and Mrs. Gladys Colket of Oklahoma, on the ground that their brother had failed to live up to the good behavior clause by divorcing his first wife and marrying a second time, violating the tenets of the Catholic Church. Richard Kerens was a devout Catholic. Replying to this objection, Judge Faris said:

"Good behavior does not connote or imply any command, request or direction of Vincent Kerens to work or labor or engage in any gainful occupation. It does not connote any requirement that Vincent shall adhere to the faith or tenets of any particular religion.

"Nor did the terms forbid him from resorting to a court, in common with other citizens, to dissolve the bonds of matrimony for good cause to be shown to the court. The terms command him to be a law-abiding citizen and to adhere to human standards of decent morality in living and actions."

LEGION MAN FINED FOR RUM SALES

Check-up Discloses 358 Cases of Alcoholism in Convention Week

BOSTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Paul E. Leary, Little Falls (N. Y.) legionnaire, who set up a bootlegging establishment in a room in the Copley Plaza Hotel, was fined $250 by Judge Lowell in Federal court today on a charge of possessing ten quarts of liquor.

Federal prohibition agents who searched Leary's room said they found liquor price lists and letters and telegrams concerning the delivery of liquor from Miami.

A check-up on hospitals revealed that 358 persons had been treated during the week for alcoholism and that there were four deaths and scores of cases of temporary blindness and paralysis.

Leary's case was handled by Legion counsel, Attorneys James Curran and Frederick J. Muldoon. Leary was one of several to be arraigned as a result of the activities of the prohibition agents. Several other asserted bootleggers were haled before United States Commissioner Jenney and held for hearing.

Jonathan Lewis, prohibition administrator for New England, tonight denied a "hands-off" policy for the Legion convention and stated that the arrest of intoxicated persons is purely a local police function. He was explicit in not blaming conditions on the Legion.

Needle Reveals Earthquakes in South Seas Area

SYDNEY (New South Wales) Oct. 9. (AP)—The River View College seismograph today recorded severe earthquake shocks commencing at 12:48 a.m., today and continuing intermittently until 3 a.m. The epicenter of the disturbance was estimated to be 1900 miles northeast of Sydney in the neighborhood of the Fiji Islands.

CATANZARO (Italy) Oct. 9. (AP)—Two earth shocks were felt in this district at 5:31 a.m., and at 5:45 a.m., today.

Damage was small, consisting principally of fallen chimneys. The populace became panic-stricken and fled into the public squares.

LEGION HAS NEW CHIEF

Kansan Elected Commander

Proposal Regarded as Slap at Hoover's Regime Meets Defeat

Move to Put Dry Issue Up to Assembly Also Beaten; Angeleno in Clash

BOSTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—The 1930 national convention of the American Legion came to a close here today after a seven-hour session during which national officers were elected, important resolutions adopted and committee reports accepted.

Ralph T. (Dike) O'Neil of Topeka, Kan., was elected the next National Commander over Col. J. Munroe Johnson of Marion, S. C. National Vice-Commanders chosen are Harry B. Henderson, Jr., Cheyenne, Wyo., Bert S. Hyland, Rutland, Vt., Neal Williams, Excelsior Springs, Mo., Roland B. Howell, Thibodeaux, La., and James A. Duff, Martinsburg, W. Va. Rev. Joseph Barnett of Oshkosh, Wis., was named chaplain.

"SLAP" DEFEATED

The Legion again defeated what many delegates charged was an attempt to drag it into politics by rejecting a proposal for the immediate payment of 80 per cent of face value of adjusted compensation certificates. Proponents of the measure held it would be a great aid in relieving the hardships of veterans who are unemployed, but the opponents saw in it a slap at the Republican administration which sponsored the present program of compensation.

A move to put the prohibition question before the assembly also met with defeat when Commander O. L. Bodenhamer ruled it was out of order.

The compensation measure brought a sharp clash. The New York and Texas delegations were cosponsors of the compensation movement, but found only scant support as a roll call evidenced the tremendous opposition to the measure.

CHEERS GREET RULING

The resolution dealing with prohibition was taken into the convention by the department of New York and called for the Legion to go on record for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Bodenhamer's ruling that it was out of order brought a volley of cheers.

Several preparedness resolutions were adopted. These included indorsement of a standing army of 12,000 officers and 125,000 men and a National Guard of 210,000 men. Others favored a merchant marine which would be a credit to the nation in peace and of assistance in war; further experiments in lighter-than-air craft; support of a bill for the construction of an airship for the army and the continuance of exploration for new sources of helium. A resolution was also adopted favoring new medals for bravery because of the unsatisfactory circumstances inseparable from the silver star citation and citations without the silver star.

Legislation to provide further help for World War veterans was favored in the adoption of a report from the legislative committee.

ADEQUATE PAY URGED

The report urged that provision be made for the payment in full of adjusted compensation to the dependents of deceased veterans and to all permanently and totally disabled veterans and the passage of legislation providing adequate compensation for all armed forces of the country.

Among other measures proposed were:

Creation by the United States Senate of a committee to deal entirely with veterans' affairs.

Removal of time limitations on World War citations.

Steps for better preservation of all World War records.

That women who served with the

BRAZIL TEST FIGHT NEAR

Federals March on Rebels

Important Battle Expected Seventy-five Miles From City of Sao Paulo

Insurgents Report Seizure of Railway Junction Controlling Area

MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay) Oct. 9. (AP)—Soldiers of the Brazilian revolution are reported sweeping northward tonight toward the port of Sao Paulo, with the prospect they are near a battle with the Federal troops of President Luis.

Dispatches from revolutionary sources indicated the conflict would be near Castro, a town in the State of Parana seventy-five miles from Sao Paulo.

While rebel forces which marched up from Rio Grande do Sul and Santa Catharina already are near Castro, under command of Gen. Miguel Costa, reinforcements left Santa Ana do Liveramento to join them. The new unit comprises the Fifth Artillery and Seventh Cavalry, a force of reserves, and a detachment of 800 volunteers.

THOUSANDS VOLUNTEER

In the southern States which gave birth to the revolt thousands of volunteers continue to join the rebel colors—some of them civilians, some State police and some soldiers of the regular army. Many of the latter are commanded by their officers, although in some cases the commissioned ranks refused to fall in with the movement and were permitted to go to neutral territory.

Chieftains of the revolt assert 100,000 men have been mobilized, with 30,000 marching toward the Uruguay River for a union with the main body and onward toward the capital district in the north.

SEIZE JUNCTION

The La Nacion correspondent here received a report today which, if verified, would mean a severe blow to the Federal government. This said revolutionaries have seized the railway junction at Lorena, a city in the State of Sao Paulo midway between the city of the latter name and Rio de Janeiro. Its capture would cut contact between the capital and city which is the first goal of the rebels, destroying one hope of the Federal government to effect joint action between the republic's two largest cities.

In the north Capt. Juarez Tabora commands a rebel army which faces an attack by Federal forces, under Gen. Santa Cruz, which will operate out of Bahia. Tabora's army, composed of Pernambuco insurgents and recruits from Parahyba, is reported marching through the small State of Alagoas, which was taken over, to meet Santa Cruz's troops.

FEDERALS PREPARE TO BATTLE REBELS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 9. (AP)—The Brazilian Federal government, faced by revolt in nearly all directions from the neighboring cities of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, marshaled its forces today for a conflict with the oncoming rebels in the State of Parana. This State borders on Sao Paulo.

Gen. Costa of the loyal troops is preparing for an engagement with a revolutionary force commanded by a rebel chieftain of the same name, Gen. Miguel Costa. The Federal Gen. Costa is basing his operations from Florianopolis, State of Santa Catharina, and extending his lines into Parana from there. His chief offensive army is five regiments of cavalry containing 500 men each.

STRATEGIC MOVE

His use of Florianopolis constitutes an important strategic move as this city lies between Rio Grande do Sul, where the revolt began last week, and the revolutionary contingents now on the march in Santa Catharina and Parana. Thus two important rebel strongholds are divided along the coastline.

The government reports some success in regions other than south-

OBSCENE BOOKS VANISH

Curious Borrowers Lead Customs Men Merry Chase for Naughty Volumes Lent Senators

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Curious borrowers, willing lenders and insistent purchasers of books that have fallen into the Customs Bureau's category of forbidden literature are producing some interesting complications as an outgrowth of the obscene book controversy that stirred the Senate during the tariff debate.

Many of the books confiscated under the old law and lent to various Senators as exhibits in the tariff discussion have disappeared. Some have been returned to the Customs Bureau and some still repose in Senators' offices, but a majority of them apparently are following an endless chain of borrowers and lenders.

NEW LAW GIVES TROUBLE

In addition to its difficulties in trailing the books, the Customs Bureau is having its hands full administering the new law's provision barring obscene and immoral books and articles. Seizures are being made almost daily and at least half a dozen importers have begun court contests to recover their foreign purchases. Two of these will be fought out in Chicago.

Under the old law the Customs Bureau was virtually a censor, having final authority to seize and confiscate books it regarded as unfit for the American reader, but the new law permits an importer to contest seizures in the Federal courts. It also gives the Secretary of the Treasury discretionary power to allow importation of classics or books of literary or scientific merit for noncommercial purposes.

SEIZURES ADD BURDEN

The seizures by customs collectors are adding an additional burden to already crowded Federal court dockets, and rather than wait a year or two for a decision the bureau is endeavoring to speed up the procedure by having collectors ask importers to agree to confiscation without contest.

Rather than go to the expense of a court trial, several importers already had assented to confiscation, but at least six, including the two in Chicago, have determined to test the new law, which was a compromise between the opposing views of Senators Cutting of New Mexico and Smoot of Utah.

Where Revolutionists Are Battling to Overthrow Government

Vastness of the territory embraced in the revolution in Brazil may be appreciated when it is considered that more than 3000 miles separates Pernambuco, center of the rebel movement in the north, and Porto Alegre, rebel headquarters in the south, a distance comparable to that between Los Angeles and New York. Only a comparatively small territory adjacent to Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, the two largest cities, remains firmly in control of the Federal government. The wealth of the nation, however, is largely controlled by these districts. The map was drawn by a Times staff artist.

wars. Federal airplanes are reported to have bombed Bello Horizonte again today, with the rebels there said to be about to surrender. Bello Horizonte is the capital of Minas Geraes.

HOLD PERNAMBUCO

In the north the rebels hold the city of Pernambuco and are reported marching through the State of Alagoas, but Gen. Santa Cruz has been ordered to establish a Federal base of operations at Bahia and operate against the insurrectionists in the upper States. The government also hopes to recapture the States of Rio Grande do Norte and Parahyba, which are north of Pernambuco.

Another northern State, Amazonas, is reported on the side of the government, with the Legislative Assembly voting fealty to President Luis. Amazonas occupies a large area divided by the Amazon River in the extreme northwest of the country.

Far to the northeast the city of Para (or Belem) is reported to have been the scene of a battle, with warships and loyal police firing upon soldiers who had revolted.

The government is gradually restoring train service in Minas Geraes, the large State which lies just north of Rio de Janeiro. Federal engineers today opened a line as far as Juiz de Fora, about 100 miles north of the capital.

Manpower is being assembled by a call to reservists. Land reservists between the ages of 21 and 30 years were summoned several days ago, while naval reservists of the same ages were called today. The first reservist to report was Victor Luis Pereira, youngest son of the President.

The government hopes to fight part of this civil war in the air and already has made inquiries in the United States regarding the purchase of the latest type bombing planes.

In both Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, prices scales have been set for food, to prevent profiteering, but there is said to be no danger of a shortage.

REVOLUTIONISTS CLAIM SEIZURE OF AIR FORCES

PORTO ALEGRE, Oct. 9. (AP)—Capture of Federal aviation squadrons when the northern insurgents took the cities of Recife (Pernambuco) and Natal was announced at revolutionary headquarters here today.

A message from the rebel headquarters in Parahyba stated troops will be sent northward into the vast regions of equatorial Brazil to spread the revolution there.

Occupation of the northern states of Ceara and Maranhao by insurgent forces today was announced at revolutionary headquarters here.

A telegram from Adhemar Vidal, Secretary of the Interior of Parahyba, asserted Capt. Juarez Tavora, northern insurgent commander, has 30,000 men under arms and ready to meet any Federal attack. State police of Parahyba are leading supporting columns. The Federal governors of Ceara and Maranhao have been deposed.

LOSS OF STREET CARS REPORTED TO AMERICANS

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—The American and Foreign Power Company, which has public utility subsidiaries in Brazil, announced today that the only damage to properties of its companies in that country was suffered at Bahia, where some street cars have been destroyed.

Private advices, the statement said, are to the effect that business is proceeding as usual in Bahia, Pernambuco, Porto Alegre and other cities.

HIGH COURT RULES LYON OFF BALLOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9. (AP)—The State Supreme Court today ruled the name of Senator Charles W. Lyon of Los Angeles cannot appear on the November ballot as a candidate for the Assembly from the Fifty-seventh District. Lyon was defeated for re-election as Senator and sought to run as an independent for the Assembly. Secretary of State Jordan refused to permit Lyon's name to be placed on the ballot and Lyon appealed to the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Tennyson, At 72, Praises New Sargon

"I'm seventy-two years old and didn't think any medicine made could help me, but when I read of a lady eighty-four years old, right here in Long Beach, being restored to health by Sargon, I just sent down and bought some, and the results have been wonderful.

"The first sign I had of trouble was three years ago when my stomach got all upset, I lost my appetite, and went down in weight to one hundred pounds. My hands and feet felt numb and cold from poor circulation; my kidneys were overactive and I got very little sleep. I was constipated, my liver was sluggish, my tongue coated, and I had an awful taste in my mouth. I had headaches and dizzy spells until I couldn't see straight, and I was about ready to give up. But I've gained ten pounds since I commenced the Sargon treatment; every ailment I had has disappeared and I have more strength and vitality than in years. I eat three hearty meals every day that comes.

"Sargon Pills regulated my liver and bowels and entirely relieved my toxic condition. Nothing but a marvelous medicine could do what the Sargon treatment did for me."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Agnes Tennyson, 1508 E. 2nd St., Long Beach.

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

JUDGE LASHES AT CAPONES

Lyle, Terror of Gangsters, Cancels Ralph's $10,000 Bond and Treats Him Roughly

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—Judge Lyle, terror of gangsters, earned their deeper hatred today when he canceled a $10,000 cash bond put up by Ralph Capone, brother of the notorious "Scarface Al," because the bond had not been signed by any judge, and ordered the millionaire gangster hustled to the identification bureau, "mugged," his finger prints taken and directed that he be subjected to thorough questioning by police authorities.

When Attorney Devine, appearing for Capone, pleaded for more courtesy from the court, Judge Lyle leaped to his feet, his face a deep crimson.

"COURTESY TO A CAPONE?"

"Courtesy!" he shouted. "Courtesy to a Capone? Courtesy to a man whose deeds have outdone anything ever perpetrated by Bluebeard! Courtesy to a man who has terrorized this community, who has slipped in and out of Chicago with a band of murderers led by his brother with this man in command! Courtesy to this man, one of the two greatest hoodlum overlords in the United States?"

Turning to a bailiff, Judge Lyle then ordered that Capone be taken at once to police headquarters and treated as any other criminal. He also directed that the $10,000 cash bond be investigated, together with the man who provided it.

RECORD TO BE STUDIED

Assistant State's Attorneys Ditchburne and Brown were ordered to make inquiry in New Orleans for full particulars as to Ralph Capone's arrest there in January, 1926, and to look up his criminal record thoroughly.

Plea for Music in Home Made by Mrs. Edison

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Oct. 9. (AP)—Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, speaking over the radio today, advocated the charms of family music as an escape from "this restless and complex age."

In an address before the Congress of the National Recreation Association, of which she has been a director for sixteen years, the inventor's wife said: "Some of the finest memories of home life that your children will have tomorrow will be the memories of music shared together.

"Our happiness as a nation rests not alone on material progress, but upon the free growth and wise cultivation of things of the spirit. The greatest value of music in our minds, I believe, is its power to transport us quickly from the material to the spiritual world."

PROTECTION FIGHT ON IN ENGLAND

Bennett Proposal for Preferential Tariffs Theme of Addresses

LONDON, Oct. 9. (AP)—A long and bitter political fight on the tariff issue was presaged today by the booming guns of political oratory on both Conservative and Labor sides.

Breaking a silence of many weeks, Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader and former Prime Minister, prophesied in a public statement that the next British general election, "guided by the views expressed yesterday by the imperial conference," will be fought out chiefly over the tariff question.

He said his party will line up solidly behind proposals, brought up by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada and other Dominion statesmen, for a large increase in the preferential duties in empire trade.

Meanwhile, the Labor First Lord of the Admiralty, A. V. Alexander, speaking at Leicester, denounced "attempts to use the conference for stampeding the country into protection."

Rolph en Route to Los Angeles

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Oct. 9. (AP)—Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, California Republican gubernatorial nominee, left here by train tonight for Los Angeles after heavy rains prevented his departure by air late today at the close of his tour by plane of the lower Colorado River.

Together with a party of prominent Californians, Mayor Rolph made a two-day air tour of the all-American canal route and an inspection of the Boulder Canyon Dam site as the guest of the Imperial Irrigation District.

boat, air lines and State highway transportation.

"The service of this country," he said, "is wrapped up in the welfare of the railroads in the sense of maintaining them as an efficient major agency of transportation, and the money they take in is largely spent along their lines in such a way as to be productive of more uniform prosperity among the people than almost any other great expenditure.

"The Federal government in giving aid to inland waterways and the Panama Canal and to State highways, producing competition without capital investment for roadbed and right of way, should exercise a wise discrimination in the interests of the people lest it impair their greatest agency for transportation."

Ex-Follies Girl Weds Attorney

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Miss Gloria Christy, former Follies girl and musical comedy actress, became the bride of Ronald W. Nichols, attorney and son of Supreme Court Justice Nichols of Indianapolis, in a surprise wedding at St. Paul's Episcopal Church today. The bride is 23 years of age, and Nichols is 31.

Nichols and Miss Christy met a year ago in Hollywood where she was appearing in pictures and he was doing scenario work.

GREEN TO WAR ON RACKETEERS

Federation Head Promises to Clean Up Unions

Speech Delivered Before Boston Convention

Secretary Davis Expresses Optimistic Views

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a speech before the federation's annual convention today pledged himself to do all in his power to drive racketeers from his organization.

"If there is brought to my attention the racketeer moving under the garb of trades unionism, and I can place my hands upon him with convicting evidence, I will drive him from this movement, if I can," he declared. "And I know the brave men and women associated with me who try to place this movement upon a plane of honesty will join with me in that noble effort."

WARNING SOUNDED

Green's declaration came after Rev. J. W. McGuire, president of St. Viator College, Illinois, had warned the convention that the work of "dishonest and grafting" union leaders is being used to discredit organized labor.

Instances in which he had taken steps against racketeers in Chicago and New York were cited by Green, who said:

"I have been conscious of these invasions of our sacred precincts. I know that men and women have exploited us, as they have others, but so far as we are able . . . we will drive from our midst every racketeer that we know of."

He defended the reputation of labor unions in his declaration that "in most of the cities of our land, (in practically all of them with few exceptions) central bodies, and in our States, the State Federations of Labor, occupy as honorable a position in the life of the nation as do the churches themselves."

DAVIS OPTIMISTIC

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, in another address before the convention, expressed an optimistic view of the future for labor and industry. "I am one who believes," he said, "we will soon emerge from this period of depression and enter upon a new and lasting era of prosperity, surpassing perhaps all former periods of prosperity in the history of our country."

Referring to immigration and its effects on the American workman, Secretary Davis said: "I have long advocated the adoption of a selective system under which no unattached immigrants should be admitted to the United States except to meet actual needs in this country. In my opinion the American wage earner is fully entitled to the protection such a system would afford and I am confident that before very long you will be found squarely behind the selective immigration and other plans for immigration control which have been advocated by the Secretary of Labor."

Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit spoke on the part played by government in unemployment. He criticised efforts of some public officials, who he said, sought to conceal the true facts of the situation. He said no man in Detroit will be without food or shelter this winter nor will he have to accept charity if it is at all possible to provide work.

MARY GARDEN BACK FROM RIVIERA STAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Mary Garden arrived on the Bremen today, "quite frisky," as she expressed it, after a summer on the Riviera during which she spent much time swimming with the fishes and—to quote her again—with no more on than they had. After singing on the radio here the 15th inst. Miss Garden will go to the west coast to take a voice test and find out if she is equipped to star in a film opera.

BAIRNSFATHER CASE SET FOR NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (Exclusive) London may be a "better 'ole" for divorce so far as Bruce Bairnsfather, the famous British cartoonist, is concerned, but New York is the place where his wife will tell of his asserted high jinks with Constance Collier, English actress. Supreme Court Justice Glennon firmly informed Bairnsfather today that, whether or not he is a subject of King George, the Bairnsfather domestic battleground is over here where the causes for it developed.

VALIDITY OF DRY LAW ATTACKED

Amendment's Ratification Declared Irregular

State Legislatures Asserted to Lack Authority

Argument Made in Trial of Possession Case

TRENTON (N. J.) Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—A group of lawyers argued in Federal court here today that the Eighteenth Amendment never was properly ratified and, therefore, is not a part of the Constitution.

Specifically the arguments were on a motion to quash an indictment accusing William H. Sprague, a former Essex county clerk and now a farmer, of possession and transportation of beer. Sprague was arrested last March.

Wets expect to carry the assault on the validity of the ratification eventually to the United States Supreme Court.

BASIS OF ATTACK

Frederick M. P. Pearse of Newark led the fight on the amendment, and associated with him were former Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan and Selden Bacon, representing the New York County Lawyers' Association; Julius Henry Cohen of the Association of the Bar of New York City, and Leslie J. Tompkins, head of the New York University school of law.

The attack on the amendment is based upon the contention that it was ratified by the State Legislatures, rather than by constitutional conventions of the several States.

Pearse said that the Tenth Amendment clearly expressed a distinction between the powers reserved to the States as such and the powers reserved to the people themselves.

POSITION STATED

"Rights and powers reserved to the States may be surrendered by the States themselves, through their Legislatures," he declared. "Powers or rights reserved to the people can be surrendered only by the people, and they act in such cases only on their constitutional conventions."

He asserted that Legislatures may, under the Fifth Article and the Tenth Amendment, ratify only those amnedments that surrender or yield powers belonging to the States.

Pearse said the validity of no other amendment is involved, as no other amendment ever has attempted to give the national government added direct powers over the people or their rights.

Judge Clark will give his decision the week of November 2.

BOARD TACKLES DRY-ISSUE TASK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—President Hoover's law-enforcement commission got down to business today in secret session on the task of formulating its prohibition report, but Chairman Wickersham carefully guarded the nature of the first discussions on this subject.

The demand of some members that prohibtion be made the immediate order of business of the commission thus was acceded to.

This same group, including Federal Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa and Kenneth Mackintosh, former Washington jurist, is insisting there be "no pussyfooting" on the wet-and-dry report and that the commission go to the bottom of the problem.

Mackintosh said today he does not expect the commission's statement on enforcement will be ready "tomorrow or the next day," but added he is backing Chairman Wickersham's statement of yesterday that the report can be expected for Congress "early in December."

Church Urged by Gloomy Dean to Aid Eugenics

NEWPORT (Wales) Oct. 9. (AP)—Dean Inge, known as the "gloomy dean," in another of his pointed speeches on social problems warned the church congress today the church should not be indifferent to the question of producing children from unfit parents.

"The eugenists have no wish to introduce unseemly methods of bettering humanity," Dean Inge asserted. "But we cannot repeal the laws of nature by ignoring them."

The advance of knowledge has laid upon church people new moral obligations, he said, among them being duties to posterity. "When knowledge is available," he added, "and we do not use it, it is counted to us for a sin."

Film Man Told to Pay Alimony

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (Exclusive) Marcel Le Picard, Hollywood motion-picture cameraman, must pay $17,460 back alimony to his ex-wife, Mrs. Mary Le Picard, or risk a stay in jail if he ventures into New York.

Supreme Court Justice Mullan made this decision today when he signed an order for Mrs. Le Picard, ordering her former husband to appear on the 27th inst. and explain why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt for his failure to pay the prescribed alimony.

Concert Chiefs Select "Czar"

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Six concert managers said to control about two-thirds of America's bookings, today selected a "czar" to co-ordinate their work. They formed the Producing Music Managers' Association, Inc., to present a "united but friendly front" to the radio, sound films and mechanical music in general.

The dictator is Milton Diamond, attorney who helped draw up the peace treaty between American and German film interests last summer.

Although they are expected to encounter fog and rain over most of the course to Croydon, a strong favorable wind was predicted for almost the entire journey over water.

MacLAREN RUNS INTO FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Lieut. William S. MacLaren, Jr., former Navy flyer, announced today his proposed trans-Atlantic flight with Mrs. Beryl Hart, which was to have begun today, has been temporarily postponed because of financial difficulties. The flight was to have been from New York to Paris and back by way of Bermuda and the Azores.

The financial backer of the proposed flight was Victor J. Pere, president of the Washington National Bank of New York.

army be counted in the census as veterans.

That public lands in Alaska be opened to service men.

More employment officers in the Labor Department.

That cigarettes intended for use in veterans' hospitals be tax free.

A spirited interchange of remarks preceded the acceptance by the convention of the report of the child-welfare committee. After the report was read Joseph L. Fainer of Los Angeles gained the floor and charged the committee had "broken faith" with the public. He said when the Legion convention's child-welfare work was first inaugurated its purpose was described to provide a home for the orphan or otherwise destitute child of every veteran without sending it to an asylum or other institution.

The Legion collected $5,000,000 for that purpose, he said, with the understanding none of that sum would be expended for administration purposes. He said the committee has not spent the money according to stipulation, that much of it was expended for "paid servants," traveling expenses and literature, and that veterans' children were being sent to institutions.

He was answered immediately by J. W. Tyson of Jackson, Mich., and James A. Drain, former national commander, members of the committee, who emphatically denied the charges.

ARIZONA WOMAN HEADS AUXILIARY

BOSTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Mrs. Wilma Hoyal of Douglas, Ariz., was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion at today's session of the auxiliary's national convention. Mrs. Hoyal has been active in the American Legion almost from the time of its inception, and has served in important State aid national offices for many years.

Five vice-presidents, nominated yesterday, were elected without opposition.

They are Mrs. Hazel Dudgeon, Welch, W. Va.; Mrs. Ralph S. Eaton, Closter, N. J.; Mrs. Rose Gilmore, Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. E. E. Laughbaugh, Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. A. C. Carlson, Willmar, Minn.

The national executive committee ratified the reappointment of Mrs. Gwendolyn Wiggin MacDowell of Story City, Iowa, as national secretary, and re-elected Mrs. Cecilia Wenz of Indianapolis as national treasurer.

Mrs. Minerva Olson of St. Joseph, Mich., was elected national chaplain, and Mrs. Bessa E. McKay of the Panama Canal Zone was made national historian.

CHURCH EASES DIVORCE RULE

Lutherans Make Desertion Justifiable Cause

Adultery Previously Only Ground Recognized

Dispute Avoided on Women as Synod Delegates

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 9. (AP) — The United Lutheran Church in America through its convention delegates today authorized desertion as a justifiable ground for divorce.

Previously the church had recognized adultery as the only grounds.

The anticipated contest over allowing women to act as synod delegates failed to reach the debate stage. The subject was referred to a committee to report back at the next biennial session.

The resolutions on divorce deplored "increasing disregard for the sanctity of the marriage tie" and protested against "all teachings and practices which violate this sanctity and are therefore contrary to the revealed will of God."

Regarding participation in war, the convention held the state to be a divine creation for the protection of Christian men and hence it was not wrong for the citizen enjoying such protection to "exercise his conscience" regarding military service in a "just war."

FRENCH LEADER JANGLES SABER

President Doumergue Sounds Militaristic Note

Warning Given Nation Able to Meet Attacks

People of Brittany Urged to Be Prepared

QUIMPER (Finistere, France) Oct. 9. (AP)—President Doumergue today gave warning in an address at a reception in the City Hall that it will not be well for anybody to attack France again.

The President, responding to an address of greeting by the Mayor, who had just described the ancient virtues of the people of Brittany, declared that to exercise those virtues peace is necessary. "Nobody knows so well as France, from her recent experiences, how precious is peace. We know, however, that it does not depend upon us alone that peace shall last.

"We know everybody is not animated by the same sentiments. You must consequently preserve your old qualities in order that people may understand it will not be well for them to attack France again if painful circumstances should so will. It is well to inspire—I will not say fear, but a sort of respect. In that way peace and security will be preserved."

SPEECH BELIEVED AIMED AT GERMANY AND ITALY

PARIS, Oct. 9. (AP)—President Doumergue's warning at Quimper today that it would be dangerous for anybody to attack France again was regarded as very significant in the French capital, where people have been unaccustomed for a long time to such energetic language in official speeches.

Political circles assumed his remarks were intended first for Germany, and second, for Italy.

"BIG BILL" BOOMS SELF AND HEARST

Chicago Day Used as Excuse for Political Fireworks by Mayor

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—W. R. Hearst for a while today was the official guest of Chicago in a program of parades, wreath-laying, music and speeches and banquets. It was Chicago Day, commemorating the fire of 1871, and also a political occasion for Mayor Thompson, who invited Hearst here.

Perhaps there was some disappointment in it for promoters of the Hearst parade and the Mayor's political fortunes, because the crowd at Soldiers' Field, which seats 125,000 persons, at no time exceeded 50,000, despite the fact that reserved-seat tickets were voluminously distributed by all city employees at the Mayor's command, and that both Hearst papers have been printing coupons, good for reserved seats, for eighteen days.

The Mayor in a speech of welcome referred to his guest as "the greatest living American." Hearst dwelt feelingly on his expulsion from France.

EXPERTS SURVEY UNEMPLOYMENT

National Conference Hears Varied Suggestions

Shorter Hours of Labor as Cure Challenged

Long-Distance Planning of Public Works Urged

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (Exclusive) No panacea for unemployment exists, speakers from several sections of the country said here today at a national conference sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, but palliatives suggested included reduction of the hours of labor, long-distance planning of public works, creation of reserve wage funds by individual industries and publicity programs to stimulate buying among those not affected by current depression.

Henry R. Jackson, president of the Social Engineering Institute, Inc., of New York, expressed doubt that cyclical periods of unemployment can be prevented, while C. W. Doten, professor of economics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, challenged the suggestion of shorter hours as a cure-all. Dr. Doten said that this year is the first time reduced hours have been advocated to reduce production instead of for the workers' well-being. Reductions of from twelve to ten or eight hours have not corrected the unemployment problem, he reminded.

PUBLIC WORKS

Along with Mr. Jackson, Maxwell S. Wheeler, president of the Associated Industries of the State of New York, and a member of the Governor's committee on stabilizing of industry, favored the reserve-wage fund idea. The soundest suggestion for unemployment relief, he said, is the idea of planning public work ahead so construction can be ordered when men most need work. He expressed the personal opinion that now "jobs are as scarce as hens' teeth."

Dr. Doten suggested that the chief permanent good of such a conference would be the preservation of temporary unemployment plans, usually forgotten when business picks up. Back in 1907, 1914 and 1921 the same problem was discussed in the same way, he said.

The chief encouragement from unemployment conferences this year, Dr. Royal Meeker of New Haven, former United States Commissioner of Labor Statistics, said, is the fact that business men admit that unemployment exists which is not due to unfitness or laziness of individuals.

AMERICAN "DOLE"

"So far as this problem is concerned, probably our only advance over old Rome is that the emperors gave bread and circuses while we dispense bread and soup. Most employers haven't really thought about unemployment as a recurring phenomenon. An employer expects the public to maintain his force through periods of depression until he needs them again. It is the American dole system, but the employer does not think it is charity. He avoids the term unemployment insurance, but any sort of fund must be based on the insurance idea."

Reports made from various sections of the country included a description of a reserve fund project which has been in effect for eight years in the S. C. Johnson and Son Company of Racine, Wis. Arthur S. Toffel, credit manager for the company, explained that under the system each employee contributes a monthly sum—varying from 50 cents to $2, depending on his salary—and unemployment payments are guaranteed by the company for a maximum of 200 days. The plant contributes an amount equal to the total contributed by the employees and those in the various salary classifications would receive $1 to $4 a day during unemployment.

PROBLEM OF WOMEN

Detroit's experience in a campaign including a program of publicity to change the psychology of buyers was explained by John L. Lovett, secretary of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association.

Barney Cohen, director of the Illinois Department of Labor, blamed mass production by machines for unemployment and suggested that married women whose husbands are employed should not be allowed to take jobs from other persons in need. He estimated that 2,000,000 women had jobs when there was no pressing economic need for them to work. A summary of methods of employment stabilization used by numerous large plants was given by Noel Sargent, manager of the industrial relations department of the manufacturers' association. He advocated experimentation with unemployment insurance, but admitted that employment depends on stabilization of production and sales.

John E. Edgerton, president of the association, who presided at the conference, suggested that the general situation is not so bad since "the bottom of this depression is not as low as the normal level of other years."

Other speakers included Morris E. Beeds, chairman of the Philadelphia committee on employment; Dr. F. C. Hicks, former president of the University of Cincinnati; William H. Book of Indianapolis, Ind., and M. B. Folsom of Rochester.

KELLOGG COMPANY GOES ON FIVE-DAY WEEK BASIS

BATTLE CREEK (Mich.) Oct. 9. (AP)—The Kellogg Company, manufacturer of cereals, announced today that it will immediately place its employees on a five-day week basis, in order to give employment to about 300 additional men.

The company has been operating its plants on a twenty-four-hour basis with three eight-hour shifts and will continue this production. W. K. Kellogg, chairman of the company's board, said that the present working force of 2500 is greater than that employed a year ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Fourteen young Russians, detained at Ellis Island for investigation when they arrived Tuesday to study industrial and economic conditions, were granted permission today to enter the country for six months.

Twelve others of the group are held pending disposition of their cases.

The Amtorg Trading Corporation had posted a $500 bond for each one admitted. Second-class passengers complained the Russians had made derisive and abusive remarks about the United States.

ARMY TRIUMPHS IN MIMIC BATTLE

Mechanized Equipment Used in Demonstration

Self-Propelling Guns Now Down Opposition

Show Put on in Maryland for Ordinance Men

ABERDEEN (Md.) Oct. 9. (AP)—An army on wheels today gave a demonstration of what war of the future may be like, in a mimic battle staged before government officials and industrialists at the army proving ground here.

With observation planes droning overhead, armored motor cars serving as scouts advanced on simulated enemy positions followed by tanks of all sizes and heavy artillery on self-propelled mounts. Radio played a greater part than ever before in similar exercises, officers said, in relaying information.

The demonstration was for the members of the Army Ordnance Association, which has been holding sessions of the twelfth annual convention at Washington.

Everything was mechanized. After the heavy artillery opened fire on targets, mounted antiaircraft elements advanced to protect the advance of the ground forces. Following in rapid succession came the light artillery and chemical mortars reinforced by heavier-caliber guns firing in support of the attack.

Next medium tanks rushed the principal hostile defensive elements, crushing mimic machine-gun nests and attacking antitank guns. Finally cross-country cars and cargo carriers brought forward the infantry with automatic rifles and machine guns to complete the capture of the position and divisional infantry represented by a war-strength platoon advanced to release the mechanized forces for further forward movements.

A backing freight car passed over both limbs. Regaining consciousness en route to the hospital Elin pleaded that a minister be called.

CHINESE PEACE MOVE IN OFFING

Reports Say Rehabilitation Conference Planned

Opposing Leaders Declared Ready for Parley

Chiang Statement Forecasts Early End of Strife

NANKING, Oct. 9. (AP)—With Chengchow, Honan Province rebel stronghold, captured by government troops and insurgents retreating westward and northward, reports came tonight that government and rebellious leaders are planning to confer for China-wide rehabilitation.

Official circles decline to comment on the reports. Among them was a Chinese press dispatch from Peiping stating President Chiang Kai-Shek, despite numerous utterances to the contrary, has agreed with rebel leader, Feng Yu-Hsiang, to meet Chang Hsueh-Liang, Manchurian dictator, at Peiping soon to discuss reconstruction measures. The story is generally believed here.

Nationalist dispatches, however, are warlike in tone. They assert rebel forces of Feng Yu-Hsiang in the sector east of Chengchow are being driven northward of the Yellow River.

President Chiang Kai-Shek, who arrived in Nanking tonight via airplane from Chengchow, said: "The day of restoration of peace is near."

REMOVES GREASE SPOTS WITHOUT LEAVING A "RING"

Most silks are now "weighted" or "loaded" with foreign substances to make them appear of better quality. Liquid cleaners dissolve this "weighting" or "loading," and this causes "rings" on Silks. We have therefore created Carbona Grease Absorbent Powder for use on Silks only. This Powder will not affect "weighting" or "loading" in any way—it absorbs Grease Spots instead of dissolving them, and no "rings" can result from its use on Silks.

GEN. ATTERBURY BOLTS PINCHOT

Railway President Quits as G.O.P. Committeeman

Defection Attributed to Utilities Issue

Pennsylvanians Expect Him to Back Hemphill

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Oct. 9. (AP)—Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad and one of the most prominent figures in Pennsylvania politics, today resigned as Republican National Committeeman for the State. Gen. Edward Martin, Republican State chairman, who announced the resignation, said Gen. Atterbury had relinquished his post because he was unable to support all the candidates on the State ticket.

Although the announcement mentioned no specific candidate, political observers found little trouble in agreeing that Gen. Atterbury referred to Gifford Pinchot, the Republican gubernatorial candidate. In the spring primary Gen. Atterbury was aligned against Pinchot but had supported all the other nominees now on the State ticket.

Announcement of the resignation climaxed a series of developments within the party concerning Pinchot's place on the ticket, beginning at Philadelphia several days ago with the defection of Charles B. Hall, City Councilman and one of the leaders of the Philadelphia Republican organization.

Unlike Hall and other war leaders who declared themselves for John M. Hemphill, Pinchot's Democratic-Liberal party opponent, there was no notice given of Gen. Atterbury's future course. It is generally agreed among political observers, however, that the Pennsylvania president ultimately will throw his support to Hemphill.

There was no reference to Pinchot in the Martin statement, but it was taken for granted Pinchot with his platform for reformed control of public utilities was the stumbling block to Gen. Atterbury's swearing allegiance to the ticket.

Pinchot recognized the Atterbury resignation as directed at him. He issued a statement accusing Atterbury of "treachery" and saying:

"My demand that Atterbury as National Republican Committeeman from Pennsylvania should either perform the duties of his office or resign has borne fruit. There was only one other man in Pennsylvania who by bolting the Republican party could have helped the State ticket as much as Charlie Hall has helped it, and that man was Atterbury."

ACTRESS CLEARED OF ASSAULT CHARGE

Sally Rand

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Arthur Hammerstein, theatrical producer, was cleared of a charge of assault today after he and the former dancing director of his current musical comedy had told the court details of an altercation which interrupted a rehearsal several weeks ago and resulted in the dancing master's dismissal.

Sally Rand and her brother Harold, members of the chorus, also were cleared when the magistrate dismissed assault charges against them. After the hearing Jack Haskell, the dancing director, posed with the producer for photographers to show they still are friends.

PORT OFFER ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—The War Department announced today acceptance of an offer by the Board of Port Commissioners of the Port of Oakland, Cal., to advance $197,000 to increase the width at the entrance channel of the harbor project.

BLAST TO MIX HUGE COCKTAIL

Wrecked Liquor Ship to Be Dynamited

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—The granddaddy of all cocktails is to be shaken up here shortly but nobody'll be on hand to drink it but some fish, and they're going to end their drinking days at the very moment the alcoholic dish is served.

The cocktail will be composed of 141 parts (meaning bottles) of champagne, 71 of various other wines, 169 of liquors, 159 of whisky, 106 of gin, 63 of rum, 304 of beer, 269 of ale and 184 of stout.

It's all part of the cargo of the Bermuda liner Fort Victoria, which sank at the entrance to Ambrose channel after a collision last year and which is to be dynamited within the next few days.

Even now the dynamite, twenty-five tons of it, is aboard the little two-masted schooner Annie May of Bowers, Del., anchored in a cove on the near-by Jersey coast awaiting only favorable weather.

The theory is that when a switch is pulled the explosion will dig a hole in the sand of the sea bottom and topple the Fort Victoria into a new made grave.

If the blast works up instead of down, throwing water all over the bay in preference to digging the hole, Contractor Charles T. Johnson of Lewes, Del., will have to think of some other way of disposing of the liner at his own expense.

CURE FOR NECK CRICK COMES NEAR TO HANGING

CUTHBERT (Ga.) Oct. 9. (AP)—The rope cure for cricks in the neck will not be used again by its inventor, John Emanuel, railroad crew foreman, he announced today from his hospital cot.

Subject to cricks, Emanuel has long employed a therapeutic method just short of hanging. He used a rope attached to his neck and the ceiling just a little longer than would produce strangulation or fracture, but still short enough to give the neck a crick-cracking jerk.

This week he underestimated the length of the rope, and when he jumped he found himself suspended with pawing toes. His wife had him removed to a hospital, unconscious.

"Better a neck with a crick than none at all," Emanuel philosophized today as he rubbed a broad, red circle just below his Adam's apple.

JUVENILE HOME CALLED FAILURE

Dr. Van Waters Declares It to Be Crime Breeder

TOLEDO (O.) Oct. 9. (AP)—Juvenile homes and institutions designed for the correction of delinquent children are in reality "incubators of crime," Dr. Miriam Van Waters, referee for the Juvenile Court at Los Angeles and advisory member of the Hoover Crime Commission, told the Ohio welfare conference here tonight.

Dr. Van Waters, nationally recognized authority on child delinquency, offered probation as an alternative and more scientific corrective method. Present living conditions, she said, have robbed children of home life.

LOOSE
what it is . . how to remove quick relief for infected, burning and itching sca

Great dermatologists declare that a normal, healthy scalp is extremely rare. Some go as far as to say that there is no scalp that is not troubled in some way, to some degree.

The most common—and humiliating—condition is loose dandruff.

Infection makes fat glands overactive

Dandruff is caused by overactivity of the fat glands of the scalp—which expel a greasy whitish substance known as sebum.

This overactivity is the result of infection, many dermatologists claim. They advise immediate treatment. Whatever the cause, this activity should be checked lest the condition continue and cause eczema, falling hair, and baldness.

Why Listerine checks dandruff

Frequent shampoo, vigorous massage, and the use of an antiseptic constitute effective treatment for ordinary cases of loose dandruff.

The success of Listerine in combating this condition is due to certain unusual qualities.

Since it is a safe though powerful germicide* Listerine combats any irritation that may be present on the scalp.

It dissolves and removes incrustations of sebum from the hair and scalp, assuring antiseptic cleanliness. It produces on the scalp an astringent effect, exhilarates and invigorates the tissue around the hair roots.

It allays itching, and soothes inflammation and eruption frequently associated with dandruff.

Results achieved quickly

You simply use Listerine as a part of the shampoo, or independent of it. Douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously.

Keep the treatment up, using a little olive oil if the scalp is excessively dry.

You will be delighted to see how quickly you get results. Frequently loose dandruff disappears after one or two treatments. Sometimes however, if the case is stubborn, a week or two and perhaps more will be required. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Germicidal Power—with safety

*Though safe to use in any body cavity, full strength Listerine kills even the resistant Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds. (Fastest time science has accurately recorded.)

Bert Wheeler Demandado por Daños a la Propiedad

Bert Wheeler, cómico de la pantalla, trató muy mal una casa que alquiló en el 2170 de Hollywood Drive, según lo afirma su demandante, quien le exige $665 de daños y perjuicios. La acusación fue presentada ayer al juez municipal Baird.

E. W. Brewster, dueño de la casa, alega que el cómico le arañó un valioso óleo, dejó que su perro maltratara los pisos de entarimado fino, y agujeró los tapetes con las colillas de sus cigarros. Además, se llevó de la casa retratos con autógrafos pertenecientes a Brewster, según declara éste.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

XIII.

Los muchachos le condujeron por entre las frías tinieblas hasta el estanque; allí le calzaron un par de patines, y partieron con ella a través del hielo. Pero es éste tan resbaloso! La pobre Clarita cayó dolorosa y repentinamente de rodillas casi antes de empezar. Y como sabréis algunos de vosotros, no es cosa agradable eso de caer sobre el hielo. Las dos rodillitas resultaron cortadas, magulladas y con sangre; pero Clara era valiente y no se dio al llanto. Se cubrió las heridas con su bufanda de lana, y cojeando se fue a acostar a su casa (The boys led the way through the queer, shivery darkness to the pond, strapped a pair of skates on Clara's feet, and started out across the ice. But ice is so slippery! Poor little Clara fell down on her knees very suddenly and very hard, almost before she had begun. And ice is not a pleasant thing to fall on, as some of you may know. The two little knees were cut and bruised and bloody, but Clara was a brave girl and would not cry. Instead she wrapped her woollen comforter around her hurts and limped back home to bed).

METCALF IN RACE AGAIN FOR SENATE

G.O.P. in Rhode Island Renominates Entire State Administration

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Oct. 9. (AP) United States Senator Metcalf and the entire present Republican State administration, headed by Gov. Case, were renominated here today by the Republican State convention, which, in the platform adopted, declared the party will abide by the result of the referendum on prohibition to be held next month. The nominees for Congress are: First District, Clark Burdick of Newport; Second District, Richard Steere Aldrich of Warwick, and Third District, William R. Fortin of Pawtucket.

Fortin is the only new man on the ticket. He will seek the Congressional seat which Jeremiah E. O'Connell vacated last spring when he became a State Superior Court judge. Fortin was nominated both for the unexpired term of Judge O'Connell and for the full term ending March 4, 1933.

The keynote speech was delivered by Representative Hooper of Michigan, who discussed chiefly the administration of President Hoover.

He praised the President for "his achievements in the midst of adverse circumstances and in the face of crises which have beset him since he was elected Chief Executive of the nation."

He voiced his belief that Senator Metcalf will be returned to Washington this fall "to stand by President Hoover with a predominantly Republican Senate and House."

Britten Compares Naval Expenditures With Total Outlay for Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Chairman Britten of the House Naval Committee today set for his group the task of comparing the reduction of naval expenditures with the outlays for prohibition enforcement.

Britten said he had been informed the prohibition bureau has requested an additional $2,000,000 for enforcement, while the Naval Department is making plans for further economies by reductions in personnel and scrapping of ships.

He contended Congress will not countenance unreasonable naval and war expenditure restrictions in favor of appropriations of "further unpopular Federal prohibition enforcement." Retrenchment should be doubly applied to prohibition, he said.

At the same time Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, was protesting against the announcement that the Navy contemplated a reduction in personnel by 4800 men. "It is an outrage for the administration to set such a bad example by adding to the unemployment conditions," he said, asserting 5,000,000 of the 45,000,000 workers in the country are out of jobs.

North Africa Tribal Battles Costs 155 Lives

BENGAZI (Cyrenaica, North Africa) Oct. 9. (AP)—One hundred and fifty-five tribesmen have been killed in two battles the last few days, in which the forces of Omar El Muchtar have been defeated.

The first battle, at Latrum, an oasis, cost the desert tribesmen 100 dead, including Fadil Du Omar's lieutenant. The second, at El Garib, cost fifty-five lives. It is believed Omar El Muchtar personally commanded the tribesmen.

It was in order to deprive El Muchtar of provisions and munitions, as well as recruits, the Italian government recently moved 80,000 persons out of the region to the coast with all their possessions.

Inspectors Seize Poisoned Milk

OAKLAND, Oct. 9. (AP)—A large quantity of accidentally poisoned milk ready for delivery to Oakland families was seized by milk inspectors here today.

George Kaufman, Alvarado dairyman to whose farm the milk was traced, was fined $25 and deprived of his license when milk inspectors pointed out the poisoning was accidental. Kaufman, the inspectors said, was using a chemical as a preservative, but put too much in.

The seizure came during a milk war.

Irving T. Bush Heavily Fined

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Irving T. Bush, head of the Bush Terminal Company, paid an $83,000 customs fine today on undeclared jewelry brought in on the steamship Bremen September 22.

It was a 100 per cent penalty, the heaviest the customs department can inflict, and payment of the fine confirmed reports current two weeks ago when the Bremen docked a "prominent Wall street man" was in difficulties with the baggage inspectors.

Davis Attacks Administration

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate in 1924, made a radio speech tonight in which he attacked the Republican party on several scores.

Mr. Davis criticised the Hawley-Smoot tariff measure, the Farm Board's program for agricultural relief, the administration's optimistic predictions as to business conditions and its asserted failure to redeem campaign pledges.

1930 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

ARE YOU GETTING GOOD MEASURE?

Prudent men and women now, as never before, are seeking adequate and guaranteed interest on their funds. But, above all, they insist upon getting good measure in safety.

In Pacific States Savings' time-proved facilities for savings, more than 70 thousand conservative individuals, firms and corporations find good measure of both yield and safety. Here their funds earn attractive interest under the guardianship of the Nation's largest building and loan association.

And they enjoy such distinctive protective factors as these: The largest non-withdrawable invested capital and voluntary cash reserve of any building and loan association in the West; a financial structure free from real estate, furniture and fixtures and bank indebtedness.

Does not your sense of prudence tell you that here is such a measure of safety as you seek for your funds? Now is an especially advantageous time to reshape your financial plans so that you may take advantage of our 6% and 5¼% facilities for savings.

COTTON MARKET BOOST PLANNED

Conference of Industry Called in South

"Confidence Psychology" to Be Invoked

Prices Declared Now at Rock Bottom

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—Prices of cotton have reached rock bottom and only "confidence psychology" is needed to send the market up, in the opinion of Carl Williams, cotton member of the Federal Farm Board.

Mr. Williams expressed this view today in announcing plans for Federal participation in a meeting of representatives of all branches of the cotton industry sponsored by officials of the Atlantic Cotton Shippers' Association in New Orleans next Monday.

Mr. Williams, Chairman Legge of the Farm Board, and Secretary of Commerce Lamont will attend. Eugene E. Meyer, head of the Federal Reserve System, has been invited.

Mr. Legge now is in Chicago from where he will go to New Orleans the end of the week.

"The purpose of the conference will be to instill a psychology of confidence into the cotton market," explained Williams. "Cotton is about as low as it is going to get. Stocks are depleted. Shelves are bare. An actual dearth of cotton goods exists at the finished end of the line and the time is ripe for buyers to renew their stocks.

An increase of 210,000 bales in exports so far this fiscal year, as compared to last year, shows that European merchants already are awake to the desirability of buying now, Williams stated, although American merchants still are holding back. He added that the present price of American cotton is equal to or lower than that of the foreign product, while its normal parity is somewhat higher. This, he said, puts American cotton in a price position to be used in preference to foreign cotton.

HAWK BECOMES GOLF HAZARD

Iowa Threesome Declares Bird Made Off With Ball of Player

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—Here is a new hazard in golf. According to Luxton H. Stubbs, local insurance man, he and R. D. Hunting and Rowland Bosworth of New York City were playing a round of golf yesterday. The ball stopped in the fairway and a chicken hawk swooped down and made off with it.

Murder Hinted in Rail Death

OAKLAND, Oct. 9. (AP)—Police today investigated the theory a Southern Pacific train was used as a murder instrument.

The body of an unidentified man was found on the Southern Pacific tracks and a piece of rope led police to believe his hands had been tied.

ROAD BOOSTERS AT WHITE HOUSE

Hoover Confers With Heads of Auto Chamber

Highway Financing Problem Topic of Discussion

World-wide Development Demand Stressed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—That the universal demand for improved highways reflected in the statements of delegates to the International Road Congress is already having a favorable influence upon world relations and will have more in the future, was the judgment expressed to President Hoover by members of the board of directors of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce in a conference at the White House today.

Speaking for the motor industry, Alvan MacAuley, president of the chamber, told the President that one of the largest questions facing public authorities is that of road finance.

"While every country now has some sort of a road program from the large expenditures of the more heavily populated areas to the preliminary work of thinly settled regions, the public demand for more rapid development is an urgent one.

"For example, China with an area greater than that of the United States, has but 34,000 miles of road. Further improvements are greatly needed to prevent famine.

"Columbia is seeking a bond issue to link up gaps in important roads which are preventing development of the country and many other countries present similar conditions.

"If attention could be concentrated upon the constructive value of loans of this character much could be done to increase employment, improve living standards and so obtain for other nations the advantages which come from improved communications with their resultant effects upon international relations and trade."

BEGGARS FLEE TO AVOID BATH

Mexico City's Streets Free of Mendicants Because of Police Drive

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 9. (AP) Beggars who ordinarily infest Mexico City's streets by hundreds have practically disappeared as a consequence of a thorough scrubbing they got from the authorities who rounded up 200 Wednesday and housed them in jail.

Most who were not arrested fled or are in hiding in view of the authorities' announced intention to continue the drive.

THOMAS BEATEN IN LABOR VOTE

Sir Oswald Mosley Victor in Party Contest

Sensation Created by Rich Socialist's Triumph

Minister's Defeat Ascribed to Various Causes

LLANDUDNO (Wales) Oct 9. (AP) The defeat of J. H. Thomas, Secretary of State for Dominions, in today's election for national executive for the Labor party, by Sir Oswald Mosley, wealthy Socialist, provided the sensation of the session on the national Labor party conference.

Thomas, Labor party Minister since the government separated the posts of dominions and colonies, came out at the bottom of the poll. Observers offered two explanations. One was that this major party upset seemed to show the Minister's stock with the Labor party had taken a decided slump. Another was the Labor movement in general intended the downfall of Thomas as censure of the manner in which he handled unemployment as Lord Privy Seal.

There was yet another viewpoint. This was that the vote was intended to register the personal unpopularity of the Cabinet member and a dislike for his dress suit and aristocratic social activities. The truth may be a combination of all of these. At any rate the conferees looked on and cheered, and some of them laughed, as the millionaire ousted the railway locomotive engineer and Sir Oswald secured election for the first time to the party's national executive body.

WIFE WEARIES OF BEING JINX

Judge Rules Blame for Bad Luck Warrants Divorce Decree

Helen Hope Brown got tired of being called a jinx by her husband, she testified in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday, where she was given a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

"Before we were married he said I was his inspiration," Mrs. Brown testified. "Afterward, he said I brought him bad luck and spoiled everything he tried to do."

FLYER ANSWERS PLEA FOR PARALYSIS SERUM

An urgent call for a plane to carry infantile paralysis serum from this city to Santa Maria was answered by Gordon Mounce, western representative of the Fleet Aircraft Company, who happened to be at the Grand Central Air Terminal in Glendale yesterday afternoon when the call came in. He took the serum in one of his company's planes and set out at 4:30 p.m. for the northern town, where it was to be used in the treatment of a 4-year-old girl named Nina Bradford, who had contracted the dreaded disease.

INSANITY PLEA SCORNED

Woman Accused of Killing Sister Insists on Declaring Self Not Guilty

Scorning Superior Judge Wood's suggestion that she enter a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity to the murder charge pending against her, Mrs. Ruth Weimer of 418 East Thirty-seventh street yesterday insisted upon trial under a not guilty plea. Mrs. Weimer is charged with the "mercy" killing of her sister, Mrs. Mabel Steele, September 14, last.

When she appeared for her plea, the woman, through Nathan O. Freedman, her attorney, announced that she wished to plead not guilty and requested a jury trial. Judge Wood suggested that he believed the woman might better defend herself by pleading not guilty by reason of insanity.

Freedman, however, insisted that the woman had no adequate insanity defense and refused to permit her to enter such a plea.

Judge Wood then set the matter over until the 14th inst., when the question of the plea will be discussed at length.

Mrs. Weimer is accused of shooting her sister to death after the latter had become mentally unbalanced through grief for her two children who were in the custody of her estranged husband. For several days the sister, Mrs. Steele, had wept and prayed for death, Mrs. Weimer told investigating officers, and she finally yielded to a sudden and irresistible impulse to kill her.

PROCEEDINGS ABANDONED

The City Council, by ordinance yesterday, abandoned the proceedings for the improvement of streets in the Upperton avenue and High street district.

Kicked Out of Bed, Wife Says

Otha Frank James kicked his wife out of bed when she objected to him associating with another woman, Mrs. Mary M. James testified in Superior Judge Jones's court yesterday, at the trial of her divorce suit.

Mrs. James's mother corroborated the plaintiff's testimony.

SHIP AGENTS WILL SAIL FOR ENSENADA

Hugh B. Brittan, general passenger agent; W. P. Bannister, operating manager, and R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent of the Pacific Steamship Company, will sail tonight on the Admiral liner Ruth Alexander for Ensenada to hold conferences with the owners and operators of the Playa Ensenada, the new hotel and casino at the Mexican seaport, regarding ocean transportation. One of the major points to be discussed will be the inauguration of service by the Admiral Rogers, flagship of the Alaska-Seattle fleet of the company, to ply continuously between Los Angeles Harbor and Ensenada.

Council Exempts Bureau From Budget Restrictions Until January

The City Council yesterday lifted the lid somewhat for expenditures in the Bureau of Engineering, but not without frank discussion, in which Councilman Burns of the Finance Committee said that reductions in Municipal Court fines and other income are reducing the city's revenue by nearly $2,000,000 under former years.

The action taken by the Council exempted the City Engineer from the one-twelfth budgetary restrictions until January. This means that the engineer can exceed his monthly allowance, with the necessity of additional appropriations or severe retrenchment at the end of the year.

The motion was made by Councilman Lewis, who protested that the Council spends sums of money upon many matters of less importance than keeping together an efficient organization in the Bureau of Engineering. Only Burns and Martin voted against the motion.

WIFE GIVEN DIVORCE ON DESERTION CHARGE

While fur buying in Medicine Bow, Wyo., her husband disappeared, Mrs. Mabel Winsor testified yesterday in obtaining a divorce from Allen R. Winsor on grounds of desertion. They married November 10, 1921, and separated April 30, 1923. Judge Burnell granted the wife a decree.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

W.C.T.U. HAS WHEELER HABIT

Veteran Leader Re-elected Head for Tenth Term

Mrs. Doughty, Also Voted for, Makes It Unanimous

Appeal Made to Popularize "Dry" Fruit Cocktail

SANTA ANA, Oct. 9.—Polling 422 votes out of slightly more than 500 cast, Mrs. Eva Craven Wheeler of Los Angeles county was re-elected president of the Southern California W.C.T.U. in annual convention here today, and following her election Mrs. Hattie Doughty of Los Angeles county, who received forty-three votes for president, moved that the secretary cast a unanimous ballot for Mrs. Wheeler. This was done amid applause, and in a speech of acceptance the president said she would rededicate herself to the dry cause. Her re-election marks her tenth year as president. Previous to the balloting, Mrs. Doughty gained the floor and denied that she was a candidate. She said she had been approached during the early part of the convention by a delegate who suggested that she was electioneering. She denied that she had done any campaigning and reiterated her statement that she was not a candidate. Despite her declaration, she received forty-three votes from the convention delegates.

OTHERS RE-ELECTED

Re-election of Mrs. Wheeler was followed by the re-election of Mrs. Laura McCurken, vice-president; Mrs. Anna Brown Hall, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hattie Corline Young, recording secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, assistant recording secretary and Mrs. Bertha Brinker, treasurer. A strong appeal for the popularizing of the nonalcoholic fruit-juice cocktail, indorsed by the national W.C.T.U., was made by Mrs. Alberta Andrews, director of the nonalcoholic fruit-juices department of the Southern California dry organization. A number of other department heads made brief reports.

Tonight the main address was delivered by Nathan Newby, president of the Los Angeles City Church Federation, who discussed "Principle Above Party."

The report of the resolutions committee and the election of the executive committee are on the program for tomorrow morning. Rev. James Walton, State secretary of the California Anticigarette League, and Dr. M. A. Shipman, superintendent of the Law Enforcement and Civic Research League, will speak tomorrow afternoon. J. Frank Burke, local newspaper editor, will be the speaker at the annual banquet.

ROWELL IN PREDICTION

"No one now living will see any change made in the Constitution as regards the Eighteenth Amendment," Chester Rowell, former newspaper editor and political observer, told the convention in discussing "International Aspects of Prohibition." Rowell said observers from other countries often made the mistake of studying the problem in large cities where prohibition was at its worst, instead of concentrating upon the country as a whole.

"Prohibition has three phases," he said, "first, the enthusiastic adoption of laws for prohibition and prohibition enforcement, second, the reaction and the doubting stage; third, adequate enforcement. Canada and Australia were unable to pass through the second stage, he declared, but the United States will pass through it with prohibition unscathed," he predicted. "The whole world is talking and thinking about prohibition," he continued, "and if it is to be adopted as a universal law, it must first be made a tremendous success in the United States."

Plantings for Imperial Area Show Increase

EL CENTRO, Oct. 9.—Imperial Valley's lettuce plantings this winter will amount to 36,000 acres and the pea crop will total 11,000 acres, according to estimates made public today by County Horticultural Commissioner B. A. Harrigan. These figures are both in excess of last year's crops. Plantings in carrots and cabbage are also higher than last season, Harrigan said.

The grapefruit output in the valley this season is estimated at 800 carloads. Fruit men state that the set is lighter than last season, but increased acreage in bearing will make the total output 25 per cent higher than in 1929-30.

LEGION AUXILIARY ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

LAGUNA, Oct. 9.—The American Legion auxiliary, Post No. 222, of this city has named the officers for the ensuing year. Mrs. Clara Warman, president; Mrs. Margaret Adair, first vice-president; Mrs. Grace Wilson, second vice-president; Mrs. Ruby Gunter, secretary; Mrs. Phyllis Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Venia Shrewsbury, chaplain; Mrs. Julia Hayward, historian; Mrs. Inez Lambert, musician; Mrs. Augusta Benson, sergeant-at-arms, and Mrs. Hannah Moen, marshal.

BUS LINES BUSIER

SOUTH GATE, Oct. 9.—The total number of passengers carried on the municipal bus line of South Gate during the past month was 75,338, is the report which has been given by E. R. Adams, superintendent of the local system. The receipts of the department reached $3944.56, and the number of miles traveled by the busses reached a total of 46,690. A slight increase in business was noticeable on all local lines with the exception of Nos. 6 and 7.

BEAR DIDN'T PUT FOOT IN IT

But County Hospital Staff Did, When Surgeons Label Severed Paw of Defunct Bruin Pedal Extremity of Adult Woman; Hunter "Confesses All"

ANAHEIM, Oct. 9.—A foot of a bear killed two years ago by H. M. Miller of this city, yesterday threatened to become the corpus delicti in a murder case, gained the distinction of being labeled by nine doctors the "right foot of an adult woman," and found its way into the District Attorney's office only to be knocked into a cocked hat today by Miller himself.

Mystery brewed deeply when the janitor at the Angelina Hotel reported to the police department that he had found upon the roof of the hotel an object which he believed to be a human foot. The object, wrapped in a newspaper dated October 2, 1928, was rushed to the County Hospital where the entire staff of physicians and surgeons is said by Chief of Police James S. Bouldin of Anaheim to have identified it as the "right foot of an adult woman."

The member had been severed by a diagonal cut across the shin bones, an operation declared by the examining medical fraternity to indicate the hand of an amateur.

Today the Anaheim police department is in possession of a complete "confession" by Miller. A bear was killed by Miller in the autumn of 1928 and skinned in the mountains. The huntsman decided that the task of skinning the feet out in the mountains was too tedious, and resorted to a saw to sever the feet from the legs. In his hotel apartment Miller completed the skinning operation, placing the feet on the roof of the hotel to dry. He believes a cat moved one of the feet to the place where it was found yesterday.

The Anaheim police today admit that it was a "bear" of a story while it lasted.

NATIVE SONS IN RITUAL

Grand Officers of California Order Dedicate Junior High School Building at Rialto

RIALTO, Oct. 9.—With all the ceremonial impressiveness of the Native Sons of the Golden West's ritualistic services, the grand officers of the order today dedicated Rialto's new $50,000 Junior High School. The structure, of Spanish-type architecture, was dedicated "to all men who love truth, justice and honor." The building, the Native Sons said, is another monument to a greater citizenship which Californians are building.

Judge Charles A. Thompson of Santa Clara, grand senior vice-president, was the orator.

Other officers participating in the dedication were John T. Newell of Los Angeles, grand president; Charles L. Dodge of Martinez, junior past-president; Dr. Frank I. Gonzales of San Francisco, first vice-president; Seth Millington of Colusa, second vice-president; Justice Emmett T. Seawell of Santa Rosa, third vice-president; John A. Corotto of San Jose, treasurer; Benjamin Harrison, San Bernardino, trustee, and John T. Regan of San Francisco, secretary.

Virgil M. Pinkley, chairman of the San Bernardino High School district, spoke briefly, introducing J. C. Boyd, who represents Rialto on the district board.

The new building was opened on September 15, when the 1930-31 school year began.

The grand lodge officers yesterday dedicated the new Woodrow Wilson elementary school in San Bernardino, using virtually the same program. Last night the dignitaries were guests of the Arrowhead Parlor, Native Sons, at a banquet and lodge meeting.

INITIAL TRIP OF AIR MAIL SCHEDULED

Tomlinson to Pilot First Cargo Out of Glendale Under New Contract

GLENDALE, Oct. 9.—The first cargo of transcontinental air mail destined for New York under the terms of the contract recently granted to Western Air Express and T.A.T.-Maddux lines will leave here next Wednesday morning, taking off from Grand Central Air Terminal at 11 a.m., it was revealed today. The plane carrying the mail will be piloted out of here by Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, former leader of the Sea Hawks and now vice-president of the Maddux organization.

The new service linking Glendale with the eastern seaboard is said to be the first of its kind in the history of air mail and passenger lines in the United States. Designs are now being prepared for a special cachet or stamp to be borne by letters sent out on the initial trip, the cachet for all points along the route having been authorized by Postmaster-General Brown. J. T. Nicholson of the Glendale Stamp Club has been entrusted with the task of designing the new cachet and will submit it to officials of the transportation company for approval. At present all air mail leaving from Glendale bears the Los Angeles cachet.

While the first mail plane will take off from the local field, it is stated that the Alhambra Airport of Western Air Express will also be used as a terminal of the combined mail and passenger service.

Montebello Will Hold Bird Show

MONTEBELLO, Oct. 9.—A type bird show will be held Sunday at the Boy Scout cabin in the municipal park here. All exhibit birds will be judged at 11:30.

Bird authorities from all over Southern California plan to attend the show and a large exhibit has been arranged. Canaries of all types and many foreign birds will be shown. All birds will be judged for type and feathers—no attention will be paid to singing qualities.

The bird show is being sponsored by Fred Sproul, breeder of canaries, who will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Hood of Maywood.

Asistencia Can't Assist Kittens

REDLANDS, Oct. 9.—The romances of the early California missions tell that the stranger was always made welcome. But those in charge of the asistencia of San Gabriel Mission, west of Redlands, say it is being carried too far.

For Senorita Rocha, daughter of Juan Rocha, the potter at the mission outpost, says that recently people have taken a fancy to abandoning their cats and kittens there. A dozen stray cats have turned up at the mission recently and today when a mother cat and kittens was abandoned there, the senorita threw up her hands in despair and called for aid from the Humane Society.

BANK BRANCHES IN INGLEWOOD MERGED

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 9.—Consolidation of two branches of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles in this city was announced yesterday when it was made known that the Lennox branch, now located at 4475 West Lennox avenue, will on Monday morning transfer all its accounts and business to the Inglewood branch at 161 South Commercial street. The Inglewood branch is under the supervision of W. G. Brown, vice-president, and A. H. Nieter, manager. Ray M. Stevens, manager of the Lennox branch, will be connected with the Inglewood branch in the consolidated organization.

Redlands Fall Flower Show Date Decided

REDLANDS, Oct. 9.—The annual fall flower show of the Redlands Horticultural and Improvement Society will be held on November 6 and 7. The date was set this morning when the directors of the society met and heard reports from the various gardens showing that the fall flowers will be at their best about that time.

The society also decided to sponsor a yard and garden contest for Redlands but it will be independent of the national contest sponsored by the Davenport (Iowa) headquarters. The society will make awards of $200 to those adjudged having the best yards and gardens. Frank Jackson, Don Anderson, E. R. Fisher, Mrs. Willis Craig and Miss Meda Hinckley will have charge.

In this connection the society will draft a request to the City Council calling attention to the unkempt avenues in the city, unsightly signs upon the streets, orange groves with weeds in them, and other instances of untidy premises which detract from neighborhood appearances.

The flower show will be in the same hands as last year except that Mrs. E. M. Cope will be in charge of prizes. Frank Jackson has charge of classification, Don Anderson of staging and W. C. Collett of judges.

The society also decided to make a protest against the roadside signs, which are so unsightly, especially near the various stands and service stations. Political signs and other signs also stirred the indignation of the members present.

JAMES BENNETT TO HEAD LEGION POST

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 9.—James Bennett, Supervisor of Public Works of this city, was named commander of the American Legion Post, No. 331, at the annual election. Other officers elected include: Earl Moore, vice-commander; Howard Harper, second vice-commander; V. D. Bailey, adjutant; Virgil Westbrook, historian; Harry Comber, chaplain, and Pete Stavon, sergeant-at-arms.

Tom Guderian is retiring commander. Virgil Westbrook, on flying duty with the Army at Rockwell Field, was the first commander of this post. Bennett will name his committee chairmen soon.

AGED ANAHEIM MAN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

ANAHEIM, Oct. 8.—James R. Shearer, 72 years of age, despondent over reported financial reverses, committed suicide here this morning by shooting himself through the head, the police department reports. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Bessie Shearer, and two sons, Fred F. of Ventura and Lester W. of Banning. The police report that no inquest will be held. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BOY SINGER IN BAND CONCERT

Santa Monica to Hear Billy Lennon

Juvenile Tenor Goes Through Music With Director Ferullo

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 9.—The city of Santa Monica will play host on Sunday evening to the biggest municipal band concert attendance of the season when, it is expected, thousands will throng the pavilion at Ocean Park to hear Master Billy Lennon, the guest artist.

The commissioners, as well as Francesco Ferullo, band conductor, will present the 15-year-old boy, protege of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and famous as a vocalist, in concert recital.

Ferullo has made special arrangements of his song selections, and will personally conduct.

Master Lennon, who numbers among his admirers such noted singers as Tito Schipa, Mme. Schumann-Heink, Gennaro Barra, Tudor Williams and others, has appeared twice at the Hollywood Bowl.

His beautiful voice has also been heard at the White House. He made a phonographic recording some months ago for President Hoover, with Carrie Jacobs-Bond and Mme. Schumann-Heink, and won the high praise of the nation's Chief Executive.

On next Monday evening Master Lennon will be guest artist at the pre-State convention rally of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Long Beach.

ROLPH FLIES TO BOULDER DAM'S SITE

He Says if Elected to Governorship, He Will Work for Project

IMPERIAL, Oct. 9.—Accompanied by a party of friends from the northern part of the State and representatives of the Imperial Irrigation District Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco left here at 10:40 a.m. in a trimotored plane for an aerial trip up the Colorado River as far as Boulder Canyon damsite.

The plane will make a brief stop at Las Vegas before returning to Long Beach late this evening.

Mayor Rolph was the guest of the Imperial district at a dinner in Barbara Worth Hotel here last night. Speaking to the 300 Imperial Valley residents who were present, the Republican candidate for Governor said that if he is elected on the fourth of next month, he intends to call on the newly elected Governor of Arizona for a conference at which efforts to adjust the controversy over Colorado River power and water resources will be renewed.

"I am 100 per cent for anything we can do for the advancement of any part of the State of California," Rolph said, "and you people of Imperial Valley may be assured that I will do everything within my power to advance the completion of the Boulder Dam if I am elected."

The San Francisco Mayor was accompanied on the air trip today by his son, James Rolph III, State Senator Roy Fellom and Supervisor Joseph M. Toner of San Francisco, Mayor Emily L. Jones of Eureka; John L. Bacon, former president of the Boulder Dam Association; ex-Senator S. C. Evans of Riverside, and M. J. Dowd, engineer for the Imperial Irrigation District.

Drunk-Driving Sentence Long Term in Jail

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 9.—Fred Blackburn, who a year ago escaped death after plunging over a seventy-five-foot cliff in an automobile, this morning was sentenced by Judge William D. Dehy in Superior Court to 100 days in jail or to pay a $200 fine for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The sentence was pronounced after a Superior Court jury deliberating for an hour returned a verdict of guilty. Blackburn was arrested after he had driven his car on to a boulevard center island for several hundred feet and it had turned over.

He and two companions escaped injury. About a year ago Blackburn was in another automobile accident when two men were killed outright and another died later when the car in which they were riding plunged over a cliff along the water front in Montecito.

On the stand in his own defense, Blackburn testified he was blinded by a street light and did not see the boulevard island. Dr. F. E. Blaisdell, Jr., who examined him after the accident, testified Blackburn's eye reactions were such that he could not see the street light or the island curb, either.

PEACE PRIZE GOES TO ROLAND RUTLEDGE

UPLAND, Oct. 9.—Speaking on the sixth object of Rotary, which is "International Peace," Roland Rutledge, Chaffey Junior College student, won first prize in the annual peace prize contest of Upland Rotary Club, and the Crombie Allen trophy was awarded him. Ward Haldane was declared second-prize winner.

Rutledge compared the World War to a forest fire, and advocated peace, praising Rotary as one of its greatest sponsors. Haldane emphasized education as a necessary element of world peace. The prizes were awarded by Crombie Allen to the boys, who represented the public-speaking department of Chaffey Union High School and Junior College.

Hospital Angle of Good Case Not to Be Sifted

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 9.—Charges against Chairman Charles L. Good of the Board of Supervisors, involving the County Hospital, probably will not be looked into by the county grand jury, it was indicated today. The indication was that the inquisitors have not regarded the charges as of sufficient importance to merit attention, and this was borne out when it was learned Dr. G. R. Stevenson, superintendent of the hospital, had left the city. Dr. Stevenson will be gone some time, and before going he ascertained that he would not be called as a witness. It was further indicated that the grand jury has heard all its members care to concerning charges that Dr. Good engineered business transactions between his ranch, adjoining Edgemoor County Poor Farm, and the county to his own profit, and that after today's evidence concerning the Good ranch and asserted use of county equipment in improving it, the investigation will near conclusion.

CEMENT POURED ON MANCHESTER AVENUE

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 9.—Cement is now being poured on Manchester avenue in that portion from Freeman avenue in the western portion of this city on to the sea at Playa del Rey, it was announced today by George F. Lepper of the Manchester-avenue committee of the local Chamber of Commerce. Contract for this work calls for its completion by March 1, and at that time the local chamber is planning to hold a monster celebration to mark the opening of this important artery.

Purchase by Warner Brothers of two and one-half acres of ground on Manchester avenue west of Western avenue and east of Inglewood for a theater and parking space has been reported, Lepper states, and this attraction will greatly enhance the importance of Manchester avenue in its westerly portion, he predicts.

FERTILIZER STEALING LATEST RACKET NOW

ONTARIO, Oct. 9.—Even the fertilizer that reposes in mounds in the citrus groves is safe no longer. William Gist, East A street citrus grower, fell first victim to the new racket of fertilizer stealing. Gist reported to authorities that two men drove into his grove and informed him they had been sent by an Upland fruit grower to get a truckload of fertilizer from Gist. They loaded their truck with 110 cubic feet of fertilizer while Gist looked on, and told Gist they would return for more later on. After they had gone Gist discovered he had been victimized and a search was instituted by police for the truck and drivers.

CHIEF SEES "HEAP BIG CONDOR"

Cocupa, Aged Head of Mountain Tribe, Visits for First Time Haunts of Civilization and at Ensenada Glimpse of Amphibian Stuns Him

CHIEF COCUPA

ENSENADA, Oct. 9.—Brought down by friends to Ensenada from the rugged recesses of San Pedro Martir Mountains, which attain a summit of more than 10,000 feet, old Chief Cocupa, centenarian and feeble of both mind and body, today saw civilization for the first time. Ensenada was the first city every visited by the Indian and his bewilderment was complete, despite the fact that he saw no railroad, street cars, tall buildings or even a modern newspaper plant.

Living a few hundred miles from Los Angeles, the chief had never before seen even a motor car, to say nothing of a steamship. The paved sidewalks nonplussed him, the concrete evidently being too hard for his bare feet. Escorted down to the beach near the new Hotel Playa Ensenada, he was just puzzling over the tall campanile of that structure when on a sudden the oppression induced by strangeness changed to joy.

For the chief, happening to look into the sky, saw with yet-keen eyes a great bird circling over Ensenada Bay. Here at last was a link with the life he knew, for was it not the great condor of his tall sierra home, largest of birds? He watched as the leviathan of the air dipped regally and appeared about to come to rest on the flank of a mountain far inland.

But no! The bird changed its mind and darted with amazing speed for Ensenada, passing directly over the hotel and the Chief. On closer view the Indian saw that it was no condor, and besides it made a great noise! Curious were the wings, very long the legs trailing flat behind, and there was a great pouch in the lower jaw of the creature. "Pelicano!" the Chief at last summed it up.

But he had never seen a pelican nearly so large, and when, a moment later, it came to rest gracefully on the water, he revised his second conjecture in favor of a duck. The duck, however, did not remain warily away from shore but turning about sped gracefully, with courage, wholly unducklike, directly to the beach where Chief Cocupa and dozens of other spectators were congregated.

Now the monstrous bird gains the shoreline and on short round legs clambers up on the beach. A moment later various objects emerge from it. "Pelicano!" again mutters the chief, but a second look reveals that the objects are white men. "No pelicano!" he exclaims excitedly, and then, apparently overcome by the enigma, begins talking to himself. Hours later he still is talking to himself, and his friends arrange to have the old fellow taken back to his isolated peaks.

The new amphibian air service between San Diego and Ensenada is seemingly guilty of having deprived the chief of his remnant of remaining reason.

QUICK AND DEAD CALLED

Nearly 100 Santa Paula Residents, Including Elite and Defunct, Subpoenaed in Case

VENTURA, Oct. 9.—Nearly 100 leading Santa Paula citizens, including one who is in Washington, and several who are dead, have been subpoenaed to appear in the court of Justice M. Dimmick here tomorrow to testify in a nonsupport case brought against Walter Helvy, former resident of that city, who is now residing here.

Constable John Messer has been working night and day serving subpoenas, and much grumbling was heard today up and down the main thoroughfare of the Glen City over the interruption of business and other activities which is to result from the forced wholesale migration to the county seat.

Each of the citizens, it was said, has been called as a character witness for Helvey.

In the long list of Santa Paulans summoned were included the names of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Teague, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hardison, Leo Smith, Leon Pressy, Joseph Leavens, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walden, L. D. Webster, I. P. Browne, A. H. Blanchard, A. L. Shively, Harry Reddick, Henry Balsom, M. H. Butcher, W. T. Cowden, J. D. Culbertson, E. H. Gottschalk and many others of the valley town's 400.

MAN BORN IN GREECE HONORED

James G. Galanis Elected Commander of Ontario Post, American Legion

ONTARIO, Oct. 9.—In electing James G. Galanis to head Ontario Post of the American Legion the members have chosen a commander who was not born in America, but has adopted the United States as his land, and is known as one of the stanchest workers for better Americans in California.

Galanis was born in Greece, and was a well grown youth when he landed in America, unable to speak the English language, and unable to understand the top-speed way of doing things in America.

When the war came Galanis enlisted and saw plenty of action. To top off his war experience he became critically ill, and was nursed back to health by an American nurse who is now Mrs. Galanis and the mother of two husky young Galanis youngsters.

Galanis took vocational training at Chaffey Union High School after the war, purchased a few chickens and went into the poultry business. He now has one of the largest poultry ranches in the district.

His untiring efforts in Americanization work won Galanis a place on the State American Legion Americanization committee.

He is also a member of Masonic bodies and the Rotary Club.

Disabled Men's Post Installs

VENTURA, Oct. 9.—The Ventura post of the Disabled Veterans of the World War had its official beginning last night when officers were installed at ceremonies held in the Ortega adobe.

Installing officers were H. E. Pinnley of Los Angeles, national executive commander of the veterans' organization, and William Conley, commander of Roosevelt post of the organization in Los Angeles.

Officers installed were: Arthur Keene, commander; L. L. Hollingsworth, vice-commander; J. F. Aubrey, adjutant and treasurer; Walter Honoman, chaplain; M. J. Fleming, sergeant-at-arms, and Carl C. Baker, officer of the day.

CHAIRMEN CHOSEN FOR HOLLOWEEN FUN

ONTARIO, Oct. 9.—With plans progressing rapidly for the community Halloween frolic, chairmen of various committees to "put the show over" were announced today. The chairmen are: Parade, Arthur DeBerard; major-domo, Col. H. J. Caldwell; publicity, R. D. Newton; vaudeville, Arthur I. Peterson; judges and prizes, Verne Pittenger; adult, Ed Middough; registration, Elmer F. Coble. The committees have been called together for a meeting Tuesday night to draw up the line of march.

Since announcement of the frolic was made recently it has been learned that youngsters have been preparing their costumes since the first frolic was held last year. A large number of prizes will be given for costumed marchers in the parade.

Both Humane Societies Have Identical Name

REDLANDS, Oct. 9.—Some feeling in the county seems to have been aroused regarding the humane society work in the county as members of the newly organized San Bernardino County Humane Society appeared before the Supervisors today and demanded recognition. They were Mrs. H. M. Barton, president; Mrs. H. A. Snyder, secretary; Mrs. A. L. Hurt, Mrs. O. D. Guire and Richard Roberts, all of San Bernardino.

The society was organized on July 22, 1930, it was stated. Due to the fact, however, that a society exists in Redlands carrying the same name and has for many years, the Supervisors took no action.

James C. Scott has been the county humane officer. He lives here, but has just resigned and R. H. Melville has been appointed in his place. The San Bernardino group asked that Lloyd Feather of San Bernardino be made the county humane officer. The Redlands society has been in force since 1884, but the newly organized society contends that it can not do all the work necessary.

Ventura Seeks Fire-Rate Cut

VENTURA, Oct. 9.—A complete survey of Ventura's fire-defense system and lower insurance rates on certain business buildings where the premiums are now unusually high, will be demanded Monday from the Pacific Board of Fire Underwriters in Los Angeles by Fire Chief H. A. Johnson.

Chief Johnson will appear before the board with facts and figures which show why Ventura is entitled to better consideration from the fire insurance companies.

With a better rating in effect, Johnson predicts that the insurance companies will make a general cut in rates.

"The recent three-day preliminary survey here by the underwriters was not large enough to do justice to the city, and I shall demand that a complete check-up of conditions be made just as soon as the new 1000-gallon pumper is added to the department," Johnson declared.

The City Council last Monday night voted to purchase a 1000-gallon pumper to enlarge the present pump truck fleet to three vehicles.

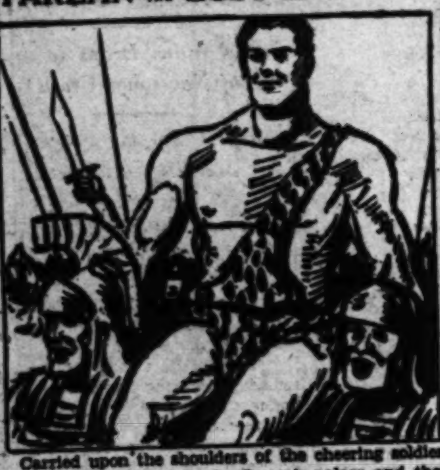
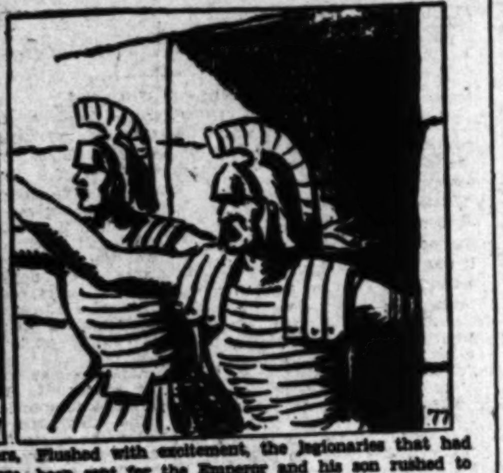
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

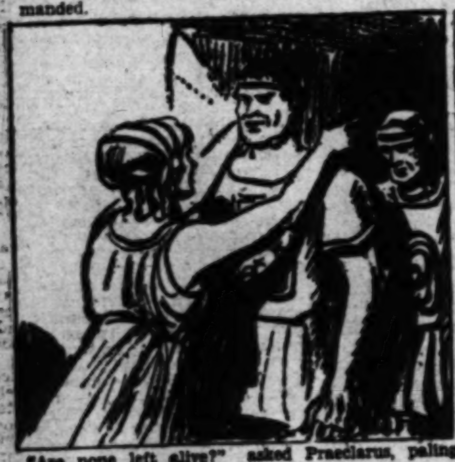
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



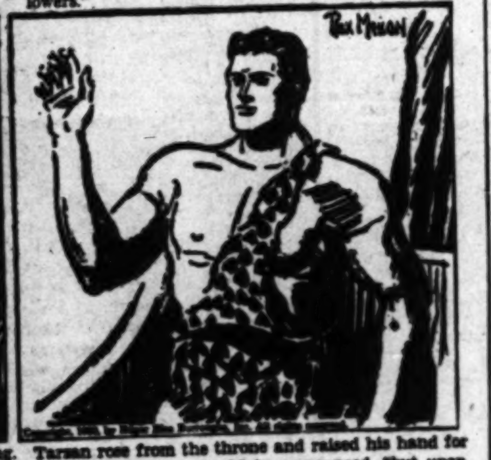
Carried upon the shoulders of the cheering soldiers, Tarzan was brought into Caesar's palace and there sat upon the throne, with Praeclarus and Dilecta and Cassius Hasta and Metellus about him, while little Nkima sat upon his shoulder. "Send legionaries to fetch Sublatus and Fastus," Tarzan commanded.



Flushed with excitement, the legionaries that had been sent for the Emperor and his son rushed to the throne-room. "Fastus is dead!" they cried. "Sublatus is dead! The barbarians from the outer villages have slain them in revenge. The corridors are filled with the bodies of Caesar's closest followers."



"Are none left alive?" asked Praeclarus, paling. "A few," said a legionary. "They come now." Leading a remnant of the wedding guests came Dion Splendidus and, at the sight of him, Dilecta gave a shout of joy and rushed down the steps of the throne and along the aisle to meet him.



Tarzan rose from the throne and raised his hand for silence. "Caesar is dead," he announced, "but upon someone must fall Caesar's mantle." "Long live Tarzan!" cried the crowd. "I have other work," said Tarzan. "Long live Dion Splendidus, the new Emperor!" And thus did Tarzan refuse a diadem and create a Caesar.

NEW YORK BROKERAGE HOUSE FAILS

Prince and Whitely, One of Oldest in Street, Falls Victim to Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed this afternoon in the United States District Court against the brokerage firm of Prince & Whitely, which was suspended from the Stock Exchange today.

Eugene L. Garey of counsel for the firm, said the financial difficulties were brought about by the effort the firm had made to support certain stocks in an endeavor to protect customers. The Prince & Whitely Trading Corporation, he added, was completely solvent and not affected by the crash.

The firm of Prince & Whitely was one of the largest and oldest brokerage houses in Wall street. In addition to two offices in New York City, it maintained offices in Philadelphia and Reading, Pa., Chicago, Cleveland, Akron, Detroit and Boston. The firm had correspondents throughout the country and maintained a large security distributing organization.

The firm was established in 1887. Besides its membership on the New York Stock Exchange it held memberships on the Chicago and Cleveland Stock exchanges, the Chicago Board of Trade and the New York Curb.

J. Mitchell Hoyt, senior partner in the firm, is connected with the management of several important companies. He is a director and a member of the executive committee of National Dairy Products Corporation, and of the Kelvinator Corporation. He also is a director of Hahn Department Stores, Inc., L. A. Young Spring and Wire Company, Manning-Bowman Company and Crosse & Blackwell, Ltd.

Eugene L. Garey, of Garey, Crowley & Beatty, attorneys for Prince & Whitely, said the company's difficulties appeared to be merely temporary and there probably will be no loss to creditors. He added a reorganization is being worked out.

Bendix Aviation Earnings Down

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Earnings of the Bendix Aviation Corporation for 1930 are not likely to cover dividend requirements, Vincent Bendix, president, indicated today on his return from Europe. Heavy inventory write-offs in the first six months and the process of general adjustment in business will cause a decline in earnings for the year, he said, but effective economies are expected to improve the company's position when the turn in business comes.

Regarding the automotive brake business which Bendix dominates, he said: "We have recently acquired a large increase in our General Motors business and this, in addition to new contracts from other leading auto companies, assures us of a satisfactory gain in our brake business for the coming year, which comprises by far the largest percentage of our total activities."

Carriers Place Steel Contracts

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (Exclusive) Railway equipment orders announced today include contracts for rails by Kansas City Southern, Delaware & Hudson and Canadian National and a contract for 500 steel box cars from Chicago Great Western.

Kansas City Southern ordered 8000 tons of 127-pound rails costing about $335,800 and distributed among the Illinois, Inland and Bethlehem Steel companies. Delaware and Hudson ordered 12,500 tons of 120-pound rails costing about $525,000 from Bethlehem. Canadian National ordered material for 140 miles of track from Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation and Chicago Great Western ordered 500 fifty-ton steel box cars from Pullman.

EXTRA ADDED BY OIL RECTIFYING CONCERN

D. C. Norcross, president of the Petroleum Rectifying Corporation, announced yesterday an extra dividend of 15 cents in addition to the regular quarterly of 35 cents a share, payable November 1 to stockholders of record the 15th inst.

UNION OIL DEFINES POLICY

Official Statement Indicates Likelihood of Extras in 1931 if Business Good; Form Uncertain

BY EARLE E. CROWE

To anyone familiar with the Union Oil dividend record, the future policy relating to extra payments is fairly well defined by the statement made in the third quarterly report. The company announced that hereafter "the question of declaration of stock dividends will receive consideration at the close of each fiscal year."

Looking back over the record of dividends in the last several years, it is not difficult to deduce the conclusion that Union Oil directors are reasonably liberal with extra disbursements whenever earnings justify. The form of the disbursements varies, but stockholders are rarely disappointed in the size of the total annual return.

DEPENDS ON BUSINESS

Some kind of extra payment probably will be made in 1931 if the oil business is healthy. After the close of the year the directors will survey the year's results and then decide on the wisdom of extra payments. They may be in the form of extra stock, extra cash or subscription rights.

Standard Oil of California follows a similar policy, its announcements of extra dividend action usually coming in the final month of the year.

Including the 1 per cent in stock authorized for the final quarter of this year, Union Oil has paid a total of five quarterly dividends in stock. The quarterly plan of distributing stock dividends is undoubtedly at an end with this year, but it is not reasonable to assume that extra stock dividends have been abandoned. At the close of 1931, the company may decide that business has been sufficiently satisfactory to warrant an extra payment, but only in stock in order to conserve cash.

Extra cash dividends have been employed by this company in the past and may be used in the future. The last extra in cash was in February, 1927, amounting to 50 cents a share.

Union has also utilized stock subscription rights in order to raise new capital. The last offer was in December, 1928, the rights having a cash value of approximately $1.75 to $2. If stock market conditions next year are favorable to the offer of new stock the company may elect to adopt this plan as a means of satisfying its capital and dividend requirements at the same time.

TREND SATISFACTORY

If affairs in the oil business run along next year as they are now, there will be no complaints heard from the oil companies. The occasional stories of financial weakness affecting a few companies are traceable to conditions now remedied by the recent readjustment of crude oil and gasoline prices, and the increasing success of the crude-oil curtailment program.

Crude production in California is now down to approximately 586,000 barrels daily, compared with better than 600,000 before the new order became effective. The output is still about 36,000 barrels above the objective, but progress to date indicates the industry will enter next year on a firm basis of stabilization.

Given crude oil and gasoline prices permitting a fair margin of profit, the industry should report satisfactory earnings next year. Curtailment will eliminate the possibility of abnormal profits from flush crude production, but the stronger companies may do well enough on a stabilized market to consider larger dividends.

Exchange Lops Half Hour Off Trading Time

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange voted yesterday to cut one-half-hour off the trading session of the market. Effective next Tuesday the exchange will open at 8 a.m. and close at 2:30 p.m. for a session of six and one-half hours. On Saturdays the market will operate for three hours from 8 to 11 a.m. At present all sessions open at 7:30.

It is understood the Los Angeles Curb Exchange will vote to take similar action.

Both markets will be closed next Monday in observance of Columbus Day.

Trade Reported Holding Gains in Local Field

From present indications business in Los Angeles for the month of October will compare favorably with September results which in turn had shown an upward turn over August, the weekly summary of the Bradstreet Company stated yesterday.

While progress for better business conditions is slow, manufacturers and wholesalers have been holding back production to retailers' demands. This has left inventories in all lines in a more liquid condition, according to the summary.

Although building has been held back in Los Angeles, the harbor district made considerable gain in building over the first part of the year. A great deal of the activity was in factory building which is aiding this district with increased pay rolls, it was pointed out.

Radio manufacturers continue to report good business but profits are small due to extreme competition.

Typewriter Net Earnings Drop

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Underwood, Elliott Fisher Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ended September 30, last, today reported net income of $459,588 after charges, depreciation and Federal taxes, equal after 7 per cent preferred dividends to 59 cents a share on 696,835 no-par common shares as against $1,337,348, or $1.79 a common share in the third quarter of last year.

Net income for the first nine months of this year was $2,805,789, or $3.81 a common share as compared with $4,711,532, or $6.36 a common share in the 1929 period. As the company's business during the last quarter always is the best of the year, it is believed that the dividend requirements for the current year will be earned by a comfortable margin.

WARNER JOINS SKELLY

Charles C. Warner has become associated with Douglas L. Skelly Company, it was announced yesterday by Douglas L. Skelly, head of the company. Mr. Warner has been associated with Ames, Emerich & Co. for the past twelve years in the Chicago, Milwaukee and Los Angeles offices.

RESERVE BANK CREDITS UP

Weekly Statement for System Shows Increase in Item of $29,000,000 for Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—The daily average volume of Federal Reserve Bank credit outstanding during the week ending the 8th inst., as reported by the Federal Reserve banks, was $1,041,000,000, an increase of $29,000,000 compared with the preceding week and a decrease of $383,000,000 compared with the corresponding week in 1929.

The Federal Reserve Board's weekly review, issued today, added that on the 8th inst. total reserve bank credits amounted to $1,012,000,000, an increase of $2,000,000 for the week. This corresponds with an increase of $14,000,000 in member bank reserve balances, offset in part by a decline of $5,000,000 in money in circulation and increases of $3,000,000 in monetary gold stock and $3,000,000 in Treasury currency.

Holdings of discounted bills decreased $13,000,000 during the week, the principle changes being declines of $3,000,000 each at the Federal Reserve banks of Boston and St. Louis and $2,000,000 each at Philadelphia, Atlanta and Chicago.

The system's holdings of bills bought in open market increased $18,000,000 and of Treasury certificates and bills $1,000,000, while holdings of Treasury notes declined $1,000,000.

Los Angeles brokers' loan for the week ending the 8th inst. as reported yesterday by members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, totaled $19,237,359, an increase of $181,690 for the week. The high figure for 1930 is $29,419,173, established March 5; low for 1930 is $18,063,975 reported September 17.

Pig'n Whistle Sales Sustain Upward Trend

September sales of the Pig'n Whistle Corporation amounted to $322,637, as against $299,561 for September, 1929, an increase of 7.7 per cent, Sidney Hoedemaker, vice-president and general manager, announced yesterday. This increase compares with a gain in August sales of 3.69 per cent over August a year ago.

Sales of the organization for the twelve months ended September 30 aggregated $4,040,104. This compares with $3,720,602 reported for the same period a year ago and represents an increase of $.59 per cent.

The Pig'n Whistle Corporation has shown a steady increase in its sales during the last few months. Its system comprises some twenty-two combination restaurant, candy and bakery shops on the Pacific Coast, the majority of its operations being centered in and about Los Angeles. It recently reported net earnings for its fiscal year ended August 31, last, equivalent to $1.81 a share on 85,000 no par participating preferred shares outstanding.

HOOVER VIEWS SIGNIFICANT

Revision of Antitrust Laws Seen in Reference to "Destructive Competition" at Boston

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The far-reaching implication of President Hoover's Boston speech before the American Federation of Labor on "destructive competition" has not been given the attention which it deserves.

President Hoover, when Secretary of Commerce, gave close study to the workings of the antitrust laws. It was to be expected that he would make a constructive suggestion regarding the matter some time during his administration. Does it mean that the administration has decided to ask Congress to overhaul the antitrust laws and bring them up to date? It looks like just that.

The President pointed to "destructive competition" as a major cause in the troubles affecting the coal industry now. When he said that it was not the purpose of our competitive society to bring about a condition "which destroys stability in an industry and reduces to poverty all those within it," he was touching the problem from a unique angle, for a President of the United States.

"If our regulatory laws be at fault, they should be revised," was his comment.

Atty.-Gen. Mitchell, however, continues his efforts to vigorously prosecute all violation of the law, without fear or favor. "So long as the antitrust laws are on the statute books, my job is to enforce them," said the Attorney-General, when we were discussing its provisions recently.

But now it looks as though the whole problem will be thrown into Congress, there to be discussed fully, with a view to modifying some of the laws' provisions, in order to bring them into line with modern national and international business life.

Radio is one business that is recovering very rapidly. Manufacturers of radio sets were about the first to feel the decline, but they are among the first to spring back into vigorous activity. True, the business is largely seasonal and the orders pouring in now are for the Christmas trade. But even then the figures are impressive.

James M. Skinner of Philadelphia, vice-president and general manager of the Philco Radio Corporation, tells me that he is breaking production records every week and seventy-five new employees are being added every day to the force.

"Six months ago, we had 1500 men and women on the pay roll, now we have 4000 and we'll soon have 5000.

"Production is at the rate of 5000 sets a day. We cannot comfortably fill the orders that are on hand and keep streaming in every day," says S. M. Ramsdell, another Philco manager. "The great majority have just as much money to spend now as they did last year, for the increase in unemployment has affected a relatively small proportion of the working public."

Reports from other well-known radio makers—like Victor, Atwater Kent, Crosley and Majestic—bring the same news—all trying to keep up with the new flood of orders.

It was R. H. Bennett, Canadian Prime Minister, who threw the big bomb into the free-trade plan of the British Empire at the London Imperial Conference.

On the other hand, the Bennett plan for empire preference made real headway. It received the support of other dominions, especially of N. C. Havanga, the South African Finance Minister.

After declaring that empire free trade was out of the question—"neither desirable nor possible," he made this suggestion:

"I offer to the mother country and to all other parts of the empire preference in the Canadian market in exchange for a like preference in theirs, based upon the addition of a 10 per cent increase in the prevailing general tariffs or upon tariffs yet to be created," he said.

Here is a plan concrete and definite enough for British statesmen to discuss in specific terms.

The champions of "free trade within the empire" are not only surprised and amazed, but deeply chagrined at the new turn of affairs.

DEMAND FOR TIN CANS IN SHARP GAIN

September Business of California Continental at Year's High Mark

Reflecting the increased demand for its containers, Continental Can Company, Ltd., of California, subsidiary of Continental Can Company, Inc., completed the best month of the year in September, officials of the Los Angeles concern stated yesterday.

Production was 7½ per cent higher than in August and 15 per cent greater than in September, 1929. The September record was also 3 per cent better than any other month this year.

The increased demand for containers was attributed to larger packs, particularly of tomatoes.

Indications are that the balance of the year will show an improvement over the corresponding period of last year, according to the company's officials, who anticipate the completion of the current year ahead of last year. Increased volume is expected more than to offset the decline in prices.

The company now has over 300 employees on its pay roll.

Butter Futures Lowest in Years

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The worst break in the history of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange took place in butter futures today, prices dropping off $456 per car on the November delivery, which reached an all-time low at 32 5-8 cents. The low mark represented a loss of around $800 per car since the 1st inst. and of $1500 per car since September 1.

General pessimism in trading circles as to the condition of the butter market despite favorable storage withdrawals brought about today's break. While considerably more butter is being removed from storage centers than last year, receipts are lighter, which means that comparatively the butter movement is poor. Consumption is reported at the lowest mark in years.

Group Index Drops to Low of November Crash

Sharpest Decline Shown in Leading Securities

Sales of 5,050,600 Shares Largest in Months

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—The stock market swept down through last November's lows today.

Weakened by a month of almost steadily declining quotations, the price structure gave way under the unfavorable news of suspension of another member firm for insolvency. However, the market did not collapse; the decline, averaging 3.8 points, was orderly and gave no evidence of demoralization. There was a rally after the first flood of selling had been exhausted, but the recovery enabled the shorts to cover without much sacrifice of profits and the decline was resumed, with the closing not far above the bottom.

The final composite price on ninety leading shares was 140.3, duplicating the 1929 low established November 13, although more inclusive averages went below the November 13 level several days ago. It was the largest drop since August 8 and the total sales of 5,050,600 shares were the largest since June 18.

Weakness in bonds which had been moving against the trend of the market for equity securities was a noteworthy feature of the day, although much selling doubtless came from holders in need of funds for stock accounts. Foreign bonds, with few exceptions, sagged.

Favorite investment stocks, which have been weak, gave ground freely and many, including United States Steel and American Telephone, broke through their November minimums on extreme losses that averaged 5 points. Attempts at support were ineffective. The most striking example in this direction was the lively battle at the United States Steel post in the forenoon when large buying orders failed to hold the stock at 150. It subsequently touched 146, closing at 146 3-8, off 4 3-4. American Can and Atchison were virtually the only active favorites that did not make at least new 1930 lows.

Broker loans in the past week declined $158,000,000, establishing a new low for the year for the second successive week.

Rates on time accommodations were stiffened slightly, but call money was unchanged at 2 per cent. Net losses of 5 points were shown by Case, Coco Cola, Electric Power and Light, Johns-Manville, New York Central and Columbia Gas, Goodyear Rubber, Ingersoll-Rand, International Business Machines, Vanadium, Standard Gas, Rock Island, Allied Chemical and Westinghouse Electric closed 6 or more lower, while in the 4-point list were American Can, American and Foreign Power, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Gillette and Air Reduction. General Electric lost more than 2. Auburn Auto declined 8 3-4 and People's Gas and Hahn Department Stores preferred 10.

With the exception of the unsettled Latin?American foreign currencies were firm.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Bonds joined the trend of other securities today. Declines in both foreign and domestic issues were the most drastic in several weeks and in many instances were measured in points rather than fractions. No section of the list escaped from the selling pressure which was largely ascribed to the weak share market and disturbing news from foreign countries.

The selling swelled the sales to $17,[illegible],000, which has been surpassed on only a few days this year.

Nearly 100 foreign bonds sold at new lows for the year on declines ranging from fractions to 17 points.

Liquidation of Latin-American bonds was brisk and prices were off several points. Rio Grande do Sul 7s reacted 17½ to 56, and Antioquia third 7s tumbled 15½. There were many losses of 5 points or more and virtually every active South American government bond set a new low. Losses among European issues were generally smaller, but the selling covered a wide list of obligations.

In contrast was the firmness of French bonds. The 7½s equaled the year's high at 126 and the 7s advanced [illegible]. Atchison general 4s eased [illegible]. Pennsylvania general and debenture 4½s lost [illegible] and [illegible], respectively. Rather large losses were registered in Great Northern 4½s and Pacific general 4s.

Wide losses were sustained by speculative bonds in the industrial list, particularly those of oil and sugar companies. United States Liberties were less affected than Treasury issues. The 3⅜s yielded about [illegible] of a point.

If last price omitted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

Prices Break Into New Low Ground as Shake-out Hits Local Stock Market

Shaken out of a rut of extreme uncertainty the Los Angeles Stock Exchange plunged into new depths yesterday when severe selling hit all divisions of the market and broke the averages of thirty representative common stocks more than 20 per cent below 1929 bottom levels. The liquidating wave which followed a similar break in the East gained momentum as the session progressed and grew to substantial proportions after the New York close.

No indications of a technical rally appeared before the final bell, closing prices for the majority standing at the day's lowest levels. Thirteen issues on the board worked to new record lows with numerous recessions from 1 to 2 points scattered throughout the list. Such issues as Transamerica, Standard of California, Southern California Edison, Pacific Gas, California Bank and Union Oil were among those to tumble to new bottoms. Edison was the only one of the group to remain above its 1929 low.

More than 28,000 shares of Transamerica crossed the board. The stock toppled to 17 3-4 and snapped back to a close at 18⅛, off 1 1-8 net. Edison hit 50 and recovered to 50 3-4, down 2. Richfield after striking 7 3-4 ended at 8, off 1-4. Practically the entire balance of the board closed at the day's low.

With losses of 1⅛ points or more, Union ended at 32; Union Associates, 31; Standard of California, 53⅛; Signal, 22; Pacific Gas, 50 1-4; Pacific Public Service, 26 1-8; Hancock, 10⅛; Pacific Mutual, 70; California Bank, 98, and Claude Neon, 20 1-8. Losses of less extent were recorded for Byron Jackson, which hit a new low at 9; International Re-Insurance, which fell to a new bottom at 35, and others including Pacific Finance and Pacific Western Oil. Security-First National Bank remained above 100.

Superior Oil preferred, on which there is no record of sales on the exchange over the past two years, crossed the board at 25, while common stock of the same company sold for 21. The preferred has more than $16 a share in arrears payable before dividends can be paid on the common and shares equally with the common after its regular dividend has been met.

Sales totaled 68,819 shares, valued at $2,059,400; previous day, 18,687 shares, valued at $753,173.

LOS ANGELES CURB

In the decline in security prices on the Los Angeles Curb yesterday fourteen dollar stocks fell to new low prices for the year. Fractional losses were sufficient to send six of these issues to new bottom prices, while four of them showed declines of less than 2 points.

Bank of America, N.A., on a small volume dropped 15 3-4 from the previous close to a new low at 87 1-4. Cities Service common declined 2 3-8 to 23 7-8, a new low, on sales of 500 shares. General Aviation, formerly Fokker Aircraft, on a turnover of 900 shares, lost 2 1-2 points to 9, a new low, and R.-K.-O. slumped 5 points to a new bottom at 20.

Consolidated Steel common and preferred, Continental Oil, Grigsby-Grunow, Cord Corporation common and Packard Motors sustained only fractional declines in making new low prices.

Caterpillar Tractor, General Motors, Montgomery Ward and Pacific Indemnity each dropped less than 2 points in registering their new lows.

In the penny list Yellow Pine Mining was down 2 cents to a new low at 12 cents. Bandini Petroleum on a turnover of 2000 shares showed a net loss of 30 cents to $4.10 at the close and Lincoln Drilling dropped 35 cents to $1.40. United Vanadium Mining advanced 25 cents to $1.

Sales totaled 28,207 shares, valued at $279,011; previous day, 18,575 shares, valued at $148,518.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Suspension of another large brokerage firm for failure to meets its engagements sent curb-market shares crashing to new lows, and resulted in sales of more than 1,000,000 shares.

While Prince & Whitely, the second important commission-house casualty of the year, was less interested in curb shares than was J. A. Sisto & Co., which failed last week, its suspension was even more unsettling to the curb, owing to the sharper decline on the big board. Losses of 2 to 11 points were numerous.

Prince & Whitely trading dropped from 7½ to 50 cents a share, and closed at 4. The preferred dropped from 34½ to 14 and closed at 20. Associated Gas fell more than 3 points to a new low under 26.

Electric Bond & Share dropped more than 5 points to 55. American Gas tumbled nearly 11 points, and Northern States Power A, more than 8. Losses of 1 to 3 points were recorded by practically all of the active utilities.

Oils dropped about 1 to 3 points, several to the new lows, with Gulf and Humble making the maximum losses. Cities Service dropped 2 to 24, and closed at 24½. Standard of Indiana sagged a point to 43⅞, another new low.

In the industrials, losses of 2 to 9 points were numerous, Aluminum Company dropping 9 to 179¼. Columbia Pictures dropped about 4.

Goldman Sachs dropped 2 points to 10⅞.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Weakness in the stock market and reactions from opening advances in grain appeared to have an unsettling effect on sentiment in cotton today. New December contracts sold up to 10.44 early, or 13 points net higher, but met some southern as well as local or Wall-street selling. Offerings were not particularly heavy, but there was not much support in evidence, and the midafternoon market showed net losses of about 9 to 12 points with December selling around 10.30 and March 10.51.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—The cottonseed oil market was moderately active today with trading mostly local. The sharp break in stocks and easiness in grains and lard failed to stimulate heavy selling pressure while the fairly steady tone of cotton promoted a little buying. Old contracts closed 8 points higher to 2 points net lower and new contracts 5 points lower to 1 point higher. Total sales were 700 barrels old and 3150 new. [illegible] Good Gas [illegible] Oil Syndicate suc[illegible] completed No. 1-A in the [illegible] oil field recently [illegible] initial flow of approximately [illegible] barrels of oil a [illegible] and settled down to 1400 [illegible] from the Myer zone. [illegible] No. 1-A originally was [illegible] completion, and later [illegible] back to the Bell zone. [illegible] a while it was sus[illegible] a year before op[illegible] resumed. It is one of [illegible] for the San[illegible] field during the last [illegible]. The project is located [illegible] of the structure.

[illegible]-Canfield Midway [illegible] has just completed [illegible] producer in the Midway district. Its No. 87 on Section 8, 37-23, recorded an initial yield of 640 barrels of 20-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 2960 feet, and the flow is clean. This new producer is within a short distance of the Republic Petroleum Company's No. 38, which came in several weeks ago for about 700 barrels daily.

Increases Flow

Yield of the Belridge Oil Company's No. 15, on Section 26, 27-20, in the north Belridge district, has increased to 3000 barrels of high-gravity oil per day along with 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas, according to a gauge of the project yesterday. Pressure on the tubing is 800 pounds and 1600 pounds casing pressure. It is producing through four one-inch beans.

Fishing Job Delays

A fishing job has tied up operations in the Olympic Oil and Refining Company's Hearst No. 1 wildcat near Calabasas. For the past three weeks Olympic Oil has been endeavoring to recover drill pipe with bottom of the hole at 5680 feet. Oil-sand showings were encountered higher in this undertaking, but failed to develop production while testing several months ago.

Takes Leases

The Sovereign Oil Company is reported to have leased ten lots in the vicinity of Denker and One Hundred and Seventh streets, midway between the Potrero town-lot area and the Athens oil field. The property acquired by Sovereign is believed to be for protection purposes, and is a block from the wildcat to be drilled by the McKeon Oil Company.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—One load of Imperial Mexican steers and a load of steers in feeder flesh comprised bulk of the light, fresh supply, and the moderate holdover was largely common to medium she stock. Trade was rather slow, but largely steady, with majority of offerings changing hands.

A load of 803-pound Imperial Mexican steers brought 6.50, with odd head of low grade steers at 4.25@5.50. The load of feeders averaged 703 pounds and went out at 6.75, with a few out.

A few head of fairly good medium weight cows brought 5.75@6.25, with bulk of common to medium kinds at 4.50@5.50. Low cutters and cutters scored 2.25@4.25, with thin shelly cows at 2.00. A few good bulls brought 5.75@6.25, with medium kinds down to 5.00.

CALVES—Strictly good vealers were scarce and quotably fully steady, with odd head selling up to 12.00. In-between calves were uneven higher with a load of 223-pound Arizonas selling at 9.75, with very common heavies down to 6.25.

HOGS—With two loads and a few trucked-in butchers available trade was of short duration with little change in values. A load of 176-pound Nebraska butchers topped at 11.25 and a load of 166-pound weights brought 11.15. A few 185-pound locals brought 10.50, with other 140 to 220-pound averages at 10.00@10.15. No packing sows were offered.

SHEEP—The light supply of Utah lambs and ewes was quickly disposed of at prices which looked somewhat higher, condition and quality considered. A deck of 63-pound lambs largely in thin flesh sold at 6.25 straight and on this basis good to choice killer lambs are quotable around 7.50. A deck of medium ewes made 3.50, averaging 114 pounds.

Together with any additions to such unit as shown below plus the proportion of any other property held by the trustee applicable to each share.

The portfolio of CUMULATIVE TRUST SHARES is given a composite portfolio rating of "A" by Moody's Investors Service.

The following is from a detailed circular to which reference is made, copies of which should be obtained from the undersigned.

CUMULATIVE TRUST SHARES have been created for the purpose of providing an economical and uniform voluntary trust service for the large and small investor alike. By a single investment may be obtained the benefits of wide diversification in high grade American common stocks, with the factor of safety resulting therefrom. Since no discretionary substitution is permitted and because of an unusual elimination feature, the quality of the portfolio should always be kept at a high standard. Maximum accumulation is accomplished by the retention of all stock dividends and split-ups except unavoidable minor fractional adjustments, and by reinvestment of the proceeds of the sale of rights, other than profits resulting therefrom in additional shares of the common stock of the company of issue. CUMULATIVE TRUST SHARES enable the investor to avoid the management problems and secretarial details which necessarily accompany the individual ownership of a broad list of securities.

DEPOSITED STOCKS—The portfolio of CUMULATIVE TRUST SHARES was selected after making careful studies of a large group of the leading American companies, placing proper emphasis upon past record and long term outlook for their future growth.

NO SUBSTITUTION—No discretionary substitution may be made for any of the deposited stocks.

STATISTICAL RECORD—The statistical history of the above companies shows an average unbroken dividend record of 30 years. Based upon the average market prices of the underlying stocks for the year 1921 and for the first six months of 1930, Cumulative Trust Shares, had they been created in 1921, would have appreciated from $10.35 per share to $59.71 per share in 1930 or to over 576% of the original offering price. Such an investment of $10.35 per share to $59.71 per share in 1930 or to over 576% available, would have yielded up to July 1, 1930 an average annual cash income of 10.99%.

DISTRIBUTIONS—Distributions will consist of regular and extra cash dividends received on the underlying stocks along with any small cash adjustments and profits resulting from the sale of rights plus interest paid on funds in the hands of the Trustee pending distribution.

CAPITAL ENHANCEMENT — Cumulative Trust Shares are designed to preserve for the investor the potentialities of enhancement in value. Distribution of capital is reduced to a minimum since the smallest stock dividend or split-up except minor fractional shares will be retained in the portfolio. The Trust Shares provide practically complete capital accumulation in that the proceeds of the sale of rights, except profits resulting from such sales which are credited to currently distributable funds, are reinvested in additional common shares of the issuing company.

TRUST SHARE SPLIT-UPS—From time to time the number of shares issued by the Trustee against the unit of stocks may be increased as provided in the Trust Agreement. In the event of such increase, at their option, shareholders may surrender their certificates to the Trustee in exchange for new certificates.

CONVERTIBILITY—Holders of 500 CUMULATIVE TRUST SHARES or multiples thereof, may, upon surrender to the Trustee, receive their proportionate share of the underlying stocks with cash adjustment for fractions. Holders of any number of shares may convert them into cash at the market value of their interest in the deposited stocks and accumulations thereon, as provided in the Trust Agreement.

ELIMINATION—Any stock in the unit may be eliminated for sound investment reasons at any time. Such eliminations may be made only in strict compliance with the provisions of the Trust Agreement and with the final consent and approval of the Trustee acting entirely in its own discretion.

OFFERING PRICE—The offering price of Cumulative Trust Shares is based upon and varies with the current New York Stock Exchange and New York Curb Exchange quotations of the underlying stocks. Seven and one-half per cent of the offering price of the Trust Shares represents a charge to provide for Trustee's fees, cost of issue and deposit, cost of distribution and for profit, as detailed in the circular. All purchasers of Cumulative Trust Shares are relieved from the usual odd lot charges insofar as one hundred share lot purchases are made by the Depositor Corporation.

TRUSTEE'S FEES—The Trustee agrees that through funds deposited with it by Cumulative Shares Corporation, the Trustee's fees, except nominal charges for conversion or surrender of shares, will be provided for during the life of the trust and that, as set forth in the Trust Agreement, it will have no lien upon the deposited property for its services.

MARKET—Cumulative Trust Shares, it is contemplated, will be quoted in leading newspapers in the United States and the sponsors expect to maintain a bid price at the rate of approximately ½ point below the asked price for each ten dollars of trust share market value.

TAX EXEMPTION—In the opinion of counsel, distributions are exempt from present normal Federal income tax insofar as they represent cash dividends from the deposited stocks. The Depositor Corporation will furnish a semi-annual statement of the source of distributions on the request of any shareholder.

Legal matters incident to the creation of this trust have been approved for the depositor by Messrs. Hughes, Schurman and Dwight and for the trustee by Messrs. Delafield, Thorne, Burleigh & Marsh. The statistics upon which compilations are based have been prepared by Moody's Investors Service. Auditors of trust: Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co.

PRICE AT THE MARKET—APPROXIMATELY $8.75 PER SHARE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"For the Defense." The clash between law and crime offers interest. William Powell.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"The Last of the Duanes." More doings on the prairies with that adventurer, George O'Brien.

California, Main near Eighth—"Olympia." Opens tonight.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." Opens tonight.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, this production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Madam Satan." A spectacular but noisy De Mille product. With Kay Johnson.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Anybody's War." Moran and Mack in something rather good.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"The Melody of the Heart." Opens tonight.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"The Matrimonial Bed." A French farce that has its moments. With Frank Fay.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Those Three French Girls." Reviewed in today's Times.

Majestic, Broadway at Ninth—"The Bad Man." No sense to this, but then there's Walter Huston.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Silent Enemy." Reviewed in today's Times.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Rain or Shine." Delightful foolishness by Joe Cook.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Her Wedding Night." Reviewed in today's Times.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Half Shot at Sunrise." A war comedy which ought to bombard the box-office. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Bdwy. at 8th—"Sins of the Children." A sympathetic scene of a family struggle poignantly interpreted by Louis Mann.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Call of the Flesh." A charming romance of Spain with Ramon Novarro.

United Artists, Broadway near 9th—"Whoopee." Eddie Cantor in the best of screen musicals.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Road to Paradise." Opens today.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Sweet Kitty Bellairs." Opens today.

Wilshire, 8430 Wilshire Boulevard—"Dough Boys." Buster Keaton's latest and it's funny.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"The Crimson Hour." Lurid melodrama for those susceptible to Pauline Frederick's charms.

Biltmore, 5th and Grand—"Death Takes a Holiday." A fantasy somewhat slow in putting its dream. Henry Daniel.

El Capitan, Holly'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Kongo." The tropics will surely get you if you don't watch out and Charles Middleton is the victim.

Mayan, Hill near 11th—"Temptations of 1930." A modern revue exhibiting some tuneful songs, clever dancing and colorful ensemble work.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

Bishop Cannon Avers He Will Refute Charges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., announced tonight he will deny and refute charges filed against him by four ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, when a committee is appointed to investigate the accusations.

In a formal statement the southern Methodist churchman said he has been informed of the charges and requested the public to suspend judgment until the complaints have been "properly adjudicated in accordance with the procedure prescribed by the church."

Cannon added he was strongly inclined to issue a "clear, full-sweeping statement" at present in denial of the complaints, but the case is not one to be "tried in the newspapers."

SENATOR METCALF WINS RENOMINATION

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Oct. 9. (AP) Jess H. Metcalf, senior United States Senator from Rhode Island, was renominated by acclamation at the Republican State convention today. Congressman Clark Burdick of Newport, and Richard S. Aldrich of Warwick also were renominated. Notable in the platform adopted were planks pledging the party in Rhode Island to abide by the result of the 1930 referendum on the question, "Shall the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States be retained?" and praising the work of the Hoover administration while denying the national government is responsible in any degree for business depression.

DEPRESSION LEAST HERE, SAYS EARL

Scotch Insurance Leader Thinks United States Will Lead in Recovery

Los Angeles and San Francisco appear to have been less affected by the depression than other cities visited by the Earl of Mar and Kellie, chairman of the Scottish Union Insurance Company of Edinburgh, on a tour that has taken the visitor to many parts of the world, the visitor said yesterday at the Ambassador.

"It is my opinion that the recovery from the depression will be more likely to begin in the United States than Europe," said the visitor. "I do not look for any sudden boom, but, rather, for a gradual recovery."

The Earl of Mar and Kellie is accompanied by Lady Mar and Mrs. James Parrish, the latter of New York. They have been in the United States and Canada since early September. One of the chief purposes of their trip was to participate in the American golden jubilee of the insurance firm with which he is associated. The company has been operating in Edinburgh for 106 years, he said.

Particular interest in Los Angeles' motion-picture industry was expressed by the Earl of Mar. The party will leave for the East tomorrow.

Mrs. McPherson Recuperates in White Mountains

While followers of Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple pastor, celebrated her fortieth birthday anniversary at the temple last night by a special program of music composed by the evangelist, it was announced that she is recuperating "somewhere in New Hampshire."

F. C. Winters, business manager of Angelus Temple, declared yesterday that no one knows when she will return.

"She may not be back before the first of the year," he said. "She is resting in the pines of the White Mountains with friends. She has been there ten days now and a wire from her indicated that she is regaining her strength. Miss Emma Schaffer, her secretary, and her son Rolf are with her."

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, with whom Mrs. McPherson engaged in a bitter controversy several weeks ago, is living in her flat adjoining the temple on Le Moyne street.

VON KLEINSMID TO SPEAK

Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, will speak on "The Relation of the Engineer to Society" at a dinner next Wednesday evening of Los Angeles Section, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, at 833 South Spring street.

CONGRESSMEN END RED QUIZ

Los Angeles Yields Vast Amount of Data

Films Free From Radical Taint Assured

Imperial Valley Lettuce Plot Detailed

Declaring that they had received more illuminating and comprehensive reports on the activities of Communists here than anywhere in the country, the Congressional committee investigating Bolshevism in America wound up a two-day session here last night and prepared to depart for Washington.

Earlier plans of the committee to hold a short session in Phoenix, Ariz., have been abandoned, Representative Fish of New York, chairman, announced. He also said at adjournment that the next meeting of the group will be held November 12 in Washington. Members of the committee will spend today in Hollywood and San Diego, leaving for the trip East tomorrow night.

Although the five members of the House of Representatives, composing the committee, refused to comment directly on what recommendations they will make to Congress as a result of their investigations, it was intimated that they will consider strong measures to stop the spread of Communistic propaganda.

Witness after witness was called before the committee, sitting in the Federal Building, yesterday. Many of them had made intensive studies of the radical movement here and elsewhere and gave their opinion as to what remedies might be applied to the situation. All these statements were taken down by a court reporter that accompanies the committee.

CLEAN FILMS PROMISED

An outstanding declaration before the committee yesterday afternoon was that of Fred W. Beetson, secretary of the California Association of Motion Picture Producers and western representative of Will Hays, who assured the committee that no picture will be made or distributed that is tainted in any way with Communistic propaganda.

Beetson's statement was of considerable significance in view of questions asked him by the committeemen. It developed that they had been informed that a motion-picture studio had imported a Russian director to make a picture in Hollywood and that this director had been accused of having made Communistic propaganda pictures in Russia.

Beetson offered to produce the director in person today at the hearing, and assured the Congressmen that the executives of the studio, whom he named, will beyond doubt guarantee that no picture adverse to American interests will be produced.

HYNES'S REPORT

Another outstanding witness yesterday was Acting Captain William J. Hynes, in charge of the police intelligence bureau, supervising radical investigations. The officer presented the committee with what they declared was the most lucid and comprehensive report on radical activities that they had received since they left Washington. Included in this was a full report from undercover agents working in Southern California. The report, however, was national in scope.

G. C. Wilmoth, immigration inspector of El Paso, made the trip from Texas to appear before the committee. He reported on various instances of Communistic activities in his district and recommended that radical propaganda be restricted from the mails and other means of interstate transportation. He believed that the suppression of Communism is largely a government job and thought that the Department of Justice should have sufficient funds to carry on this work. He also suggested the immigration quota be denied to countries who refuse to receive their nationals deported from this country.

MAIN DETERRENT

All of the experienced law-enforcing witnesses who testified yesterday declared that one of the main deterrents to deportation is the inability to get foreign countries to accept the deportees. Many persons scheduled for deportation years ago are still in this country for this reason, it was stated.

Officer Hynes in making his recommendations asked for more care in the immigration service, registration of aliens, a better-equipped naturalization service, trained Department of Justice agents and a national criminal syndicalism law.

Elmer H. W. Heald, District Attorney of Imperial county, told of

"CHIC" RAIN OR SHINE.
CROSSING AND SKIDDING

City Dwellers Damp But Undaunted

Behavior of Angelenos in first storm picture in sketch by Times Staff Artist Garbutt.

The first real showers of the season visited the Southland yesterday, leaving as much as .15 of an inch of water and snow in mountain areas and lesser falls for the valleys. Rain was reported far out on the desert.

It was the second rain of the season for Los Angeles and came between 10:40 a.m. and 12:03 p.m., yielding .10 of an inch of water. The Weather Bureau last night believed the rain here is over, but said that cloudy weather probably will prevail today.

The new season's total precipitation in the city now is .11 of an inch, against a normal of .32 and .32 to corresponding date last year. The first rain this season was on September 30, last, when .01 was recorded.

Yesterday's maximum temperature was 66 deg., which is 10 below the average of October maximums.

October's normal rainfall is .68 of an inch in Los Angeles.

The first snow of the season fell in the San Gabriel Mountains. At Big Pines County Recreation Camp rain turned to sleet at about 11 a.m. and then the sleet turned to snow. By noon the ground was covered an inch deep with the snowy mantle. Coldbrook Camp in the same range also received snow. Two inches of snow on peaks around Big Bear was reported. It is the first of the season and much earlier than usual.

Rain in the mountains above Redlands was heavy and extended down into the valleys, where it virtually ended the irrigation for the season. Bear Lake, the largest surface reservoir in the region, now has two feet more water than it had last season when further irrigation for the season was made unnecessary by rains. Bear Valley got 1.5 inches of rain. Seven Oaks reported 1.1. Oak Glen and Forest Home in the Mill Creek watershed reported more than 1 inch. Some San Gabriel Mountain and Sierra Madre localities had no rain at all.

Redlands got its first rain of the season and the first in five months. It had .8 of an inch. The rain began shortly before daylight and continued until noon. Orange trees, washed and refreshed by the rain, now give promise of larger-size fruit, orchardists said. Yucaipa had a good rain, which was welcomed by apple growers now harvesting fruit.

No damage was done by mountain run-offs to the $90,000 water conservation weir and spreading grounds being built by the Water Conservation Association at the mouth of Santa Ana Canyon, Redlands reported. The work is almost completed, it was said.

HALT CALLED IN GRAPE PICKING

FRESNO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Comparatively heavy rain in this district today resulted in temporary suspension of grape picking, automatically placing in effect locally a complete shutdown of grape shipments.

An estimated 30,000 tons of raisins still are in the field and approximately 288,000 tons of fresh grapes on the vines, but growers say no damage will result because the weather is clearing.

RECREATION GROUP INVITED HERE IN 1932

With the Olympic Games in mind, the City Council yesterday invited the National Recreation Association to conduct its eighteenth congress in Los Angeles in 1932. The Playground and Recreation Commission already has extended an invitation.

Strassburger Sworn in By Power Board

Arthur Strassburger, formerly an executive of the Broadway Department Store and president of the Downtown Shopping News, yesterday afternoon was sworn in as a member of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners shortly after the City Council voted confirmation of his nomination by Mayor Porter.

Councilman Williams, as a member of the Council's Water and Power Committee, praised Strassburger's record as a business man.

RETAIL TRADE HERE TEN PER CENT ABOVE 1929

Rapidly Increasing Improvement in Business Reported by Big Stores; Factories Behind on Orders

The volume and value of retail sales in Los Angeles for the month of September just closed was approximately 10 per cent greater than for the same month of the supposedly much more prosperous year of 1929, according to figures supplied yesterday by several of the city's largest department stores. Sales for October so far have more than maintained this average, with excellent prospects that the month's total will show an even larger increase over the corresponding period of last year.

The consensus of the city's leading retailers is that fall business here is on its way to set a high mark and that the holiday trade will be one of the largest in the city's history. That this improvement will continue is evidenced by the preparations already under way by these emporiums for an extensive spring business.

A significant phase of the situation turns upon the fact that in many instances difficulty is being experienced in securing from manufacturers and wholesalers sufficient stocks to meet requirements. In the view of those familiar with this economic phenomenon, this means that the era of curtailed and hand-to-mouth production is at an end and that manufacturing on a much more extensive scale must be resumed in order to fill depleted stocks and meet the situation created by the return of a normal consumer demand. Many factories are already reported working to capacity.

EMPLOYMENT BETTER

The very marked increase in this demand is attributed by the retailers to the fact that price levels, generally speaking, are the lowest in years and to improvement in the local employment situation. The latter has in turn been helped by the improvement in retail trade. One local store which a few months ago was employing 600 sales people has increased that number to 800 and, in the aggregate, it is estimated that several thousand new store employees have been added since September 1. More buying of locally made products is being done, giving more employment to local factory people.

A survey of sales records for several stores shows not only that the number of customers has greatly increased but that the number and value of purchases by the average individual patrons are also larger. This dual manifestation of increased optimism and a determination to take advantage of present low prices to fill depleted household stocks is characteristic of every line of staple commodity.

For some time the increasing size of store crowds has been noticeable. One emporium which keeps a record of customers using its elevators finds that 2500 persons rode on the lifts on one day, as against 1000 on the same day last year.

While individual managements are naturally conservative in their statements, there is no disagreement in the general report of reviving business.

REPRESENTATIVE REPORTS

B. L. Strauss, general merchandising manager for the May Company, said:

"Conditions are getting better, the labor situation is improving and we expect the largest holiday season ever known here."

"There unquestionably is a better business feeling here now," said Harry Philp, vice-president of the Broadway Department Store. "There is considerably more merchandising and we look to a decidedly good fall and Christmas trade. In fact price levels are such as to make advance Christmas trading attractive. Prices were never so reasonable here as they now are. This is surely the time to buy all sorts of commodities. The elimination of dispensable overhead expense at the necessary time along with reductions in wholesale prices are material factors in stabilizing profits."

"The present volume of retail buying would seem to indicate a greatly increased confidence on the part of the public," said T. C. Palmer, vice-president of Walker's, Inc., department store. "There is indication that the bottom has been reached in the business situation and conditions are on the upgrade. An especially significant point, I believe, is that stores here are buying more locally manufactured articles than ever before with the result that more local people are being put to work and this is reflected in a larger distribution of money in business here. We find this October showing a decided upward turn in the volume of business as compared to October a year ago."

COUNTY AND CITY UNITY CONSIDERED

Board of Supervisors Has Plan for Consolidation of Certain Activities

The Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county has been considering a plan for consolidating certain city and county activities to effect a saving in taxes, it was revealed yesterday following the announcement that the City Council has inaugurated a movement to set up Los Angeles city as a separate county government similar to that at San Francisco.

"I haven't studied the details of this particular proposal of the City Council so am not versed enough in what is contemplated to say I am in sympathy with the plan," said Chairman Graves of the board yesterday.

"However, I am sure that a proper consolidation of some of our activities could be brought about that would make a very effective saving in taxes.

"The Board of Supervisors has for some time been considering the organization of a committee of citizens who would make a study of the activities of the county, city and State to determine just which belong to each."

Those who have been agitating the movement for the consolidation of the county and city under one government point out that a great saving could be effected by eliminating duplication of effort such as in the health department and the police departments.

HEALTH OFFICE SURVEY ON CONSOLIDATION SUBMITTED

City Health Officer Parrish yesterday submitted to City Attorney Werner the draft of a survey on city-county consolidation which Dr. Parrish drew up several months ago. City Attorney Werner, under instructions from the City Council, is engaged in outlining the legal steps necessary to creating Los Angeles city as a new county of California.

Dr. Parrish contends that such consolidation will result in the saving of between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 annually in governmental expense, due to the elimination of duplicating departments and functions.

New Apartment Hotel Planned; Cost $450,000

Plans for an eleven-story apartment-hotel building to be erected at Berendo and Fourth streets are being prepared by Walker & Eisen, Ltd., architects, in association with Arthur L. Acker. The building will cost $450,000. Construction will be started as soon as plans are completed, according to the announcement.

The site is the property of Capt. James Irvine and is being sold by him to a corporation being formed, including Capt. Irvine, Mrs. Irvine and Mrs. Grace Harold.

Plans provide for the exterior of the structure to be finished in concrete with reverse form concrete and waste molds used in all decoration work. The exterior design is of the vertical lines.

If Gov. Young's celebrated boxing investigation is to be directed only at solving the mystery of the death of young Campbell, it wouldn't seem to be worth while. It was the other fellow's fist. No mystery about that.

TROUBLE WITH BOXING

Boxing has come to be a pretty rotten racket, but there is nothing mysterious about it. The trouble is with the weekly fight program.

At one time Los Angeles had the best boxing matches in the world. If prize fighting can have a golden age this was it. From about 1912 to 1914 nearly every fight held at the old Vernon arena was for the championship of the world in one division or another.

This was made possible because the promoters only put on fights when good fighters turned up. A promoter who attempts to stage a weekly fight program is at the mercy of the fight managers. He just HAS to have fighters and the managers can force the terms.

The result is that the manager of a good fighter will only match him against the lame, the halt and the blind. Also he will not sign for a fight for his champ fighter unless the fight club owner will also sign up all his hired help for the preliminaries—thus killing the overhead expense of his training camp.

Boxing will remain below par until the whip is taken from the hands of the fight managers and put back in the hands of the promoters—who are answerable to the public. The fight manager isn't answerable to anybody.

A COLLEGE BOY'S ANGLE

Relman Morin, a wide-awake young man who went to China with a party from Pomona College, has returned with some interesting angles—a smart college boy's shrewd observations.

He says that the Chinese people are no more interested in the continuous-performance civil war than the people of Chicago are in the gang fights. Even an army of 300,000 in the field isn't calculated to greatly disturb a population of 400,000,000.

He rightly believes that some day China will become a real nation with certain inevitable results; that Japan will sink in importance to a second-rate power and that the whole system of European diplomacy will have to be readjusted to admit to the inner circle another member of terrific strength and important special interests. At the present rate of going there is no hope for China to achieve such a position during the life of this generation.

HOLLYWOOD FIST FIGHT

To the real friends of Ernst Lubitsch all this fracas isn't so funny. They know how it must hurt. Lubitsch, I feel safe in saying, is the most popular director in Hollywood. With the mind and instincts of a great artist—in many ways the greatest who ever had anything to do with motion pictures—Herr Ernst has the eager heart of a child. He is a great guy any way you take him.

Pioneer Pianist Laid to Rest

Funeral services for Miss Margaret Redding, 80 years of age, pianist, and a resident of Los Angeles for fifty-seven years, were conducted yesterday at the Jones, Andrist and Martig chapel, 717 West Washington Boulevard. Burial was in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Miss Redding died last Tuesday following an illness of about a year. Her home was at 1020 West Sixty-eighth street. She had no living relatives.

SCHOOLS' GROWTH SHOWN

County's Daily Attendance 360,455 Last Year, Representing Increase of 16,789 Pupils

Public schools in Los Angeles county had an average daily attendance of 360,455 pupils during the fiscal year ending June 30, last, as against 343,666 the year before, an increase of 16,789, according to the anual report of H. S. Upjohn, county superintendent of schools, filed yesterday with the Board of Supervisors. The total expenditure for the year amounted to $66,658,489.10.

The report, which covers all the public schools in the cities and unincorpated territory of the county, shows that the enrollment for the year was 594,900, an increase of 47,567 pupils over the year 1928-29.

The discrepancy between the figures showing attendance and the enrollment, Supt. Upjohn explained, is caused by many pupils enrolling in the night schools who attend only a few nights, or a few weeks and then drop out.

Because of the increase in attendance, caused by the rapid incorporated territory of the county, necessitating more teachers and buildings, the total expenditures for the system greatly increased, the report reveals. During the year 1928-29 the total cost of operation and maintenance was $60,222,028.08. During the year just closed it was $66,658,489.10, an increase of $6,436,461.02.

A total of 1755 school buildings were operated during the year 1929-30 as against 1661 the year before. The report also shows that there were 14,313 full-time teachers on the pay roll last year. In the previous year there were 13,299.

There were 1062 more graduates from the eighth grade, high schools and junior colleges last year than the year before.

Police Sergeant O. N. Lawrason, campaign worker for Mayor Porter and for a time first up for Chief of Police, but later just one of the Mayor's army of investigators—

Met at Fifth and Spring streets Monday at noon.

Brother - investigators for months, the two men stood on the street corner to swap accounts of their various assignments.

Then, according to Allen, his former fellow-investigator hit him right on the end of the nose.

The blow came, according to Allen's complaint to Chief of Police Steckel, without warning, but after Lawrason had berated him for failing to assist him to gain the appointment as Chief of Police.

Now, according to Allen, brother-investigators who were once, but are no longer in the City Hall fold of investigators, should not fight on the street, so Allen struck no blows, but—

A punch right on the very end of one's nose is painful and Allen has informed Chief Steckel that he wants something done about it.

So, today Sergt. Lawrason is going on the official carpet in the City Hall to explain how he came to lay the five knuckle bones of his right hand against Mr. Allen's nose. Right out on the street in front of everybody, too.

FLEET'S UNITS REGROUPED

Two Strong Four-Warship Divisions Part of Plan for Tactical Disposition of Navy Craft

Reorganization of the battleship divisions following assignment of the fourteen first-line dreadnaughts to local waters with the battle fleet will be effected in the near future as a tactical measure, it was learned yesterday. Under the new plan, eight of the Navy's nine long-range battleships will be placed in two strong four-ship divisions, leaving the U.S.S. California to operate independently with the battle line as battle fleet flagship.

Indications are that Battleship Division Five, consisting of the West Virginia (squadron flagship,) Colorado, Maryland and Tennessee, will be left intact as the fleet's strongest division. Division Four will probably be composed of the four newly modernized ships, the Pennsylvania (flagship,) Arizona, Oklahoma and Nevada, so that these two divisions, plus the flagship California, will give the battle line nine ships having 30-deg. elevation for their turret guns and a consequent extreme range of 35,000 yards. Division Three, as the weakest link, will then include the New Mexico (flagship,) Texas and New York, main batteries of these ships having an extreme elevation of only 15 deg.

While this plan is in effect the battleships Idaho and Mississippi would be undergoing partial modernization at the Puget Sound navy yard instead of their previously planned complete modernization at east coast yards. As they return to the fleet, probably in the summer of 1932, the New Mexico would then undergo similar modernization, so that there will be a minimum of twelve battleships in commission with the fleet at all times.

The old battleship Arkansas and Wyoming, sister ships with twelve-inch main batteries, will remain in

THIRTEEN LISTED IN INDICTMENTS

Cash Finance and Title Companies Accused

Use of Mail and Radio for Fraud Charged

Bail Set at From $2500 to $7500 Each

Thirteen persons have been indicted by the Federal grand jury on fourteen counts of using the mails to defraud in connection with the operations of the Cash Finance Corporation and the Record Searching Title Company, it was revealed yesterday by Asst. U.S. Atty. Davis. An indictment was returned by the Federal grand jury on Wednesday, it was stated.

It is charged that the individuals named, through the medium of the two companies, made misrepresentations regarding the financial condition of the companies and thus, through the use of radio broadcasting and mail correspondence, induced hundreds of persons to invest in the Cash Finance Corporation. It is asserted by Davis that the officers of the company stated in mailed letters that the company was in a sound financial condition and ready to pay dividends, whereas it was not. It is asserted that examination of the company's books showed that stock, sale of which for cash was authorized by the State Corporation Commissioner, was traded in for property of doubtful value.

Those indicted are A. Corenson, president; Theodore Elias, secretary; Leonard Mendelshon, vice-president; John R. Kantor, fiscal agent; Sidney M. Karns, a radio announcer; J. Knight Cardon, radio announcer; Leo Kaufman, salesman; S. B. Bucksbaum, salesman; Harry B. Seelig, treasurer; Robert Fink, accountant; Ned Rogoff, salesman; L. J. Miller, director, and Sam Kaufman. Arrangements were made for bail, ranging from $2500 to $7500.

FAITH IN DIRIGIBLE RETAINED

Golfer Arrives With British Notable

Sir Philip Sassoon and Horton Smith

UNDAUNTED by the disaster which overtook the British dirigible, R-101, in France, Sir Philip Sassoon, former British Undersecretary for Aviation, declared here yesterday that lighter-than-air craft are particularly valuable to an empire with scattered possessions and that he believes England will go ahead with its development of dirigibles.

Sir Philip arrived yesterday, in company with Horton Smith, the golfer, from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., with the expectation of remaining a week here, before visiting Del Monte and other California beauty spots.

It was brought out that the plans for the R-100 and R-101 were perfected, largely, during Sir Philip's service with the British aviation department from 1924 until the accession of the Labor government. He was horrified, he said, when he learned of the disaster which befell the R-101; yet, at the same time, he commented, such great costs are the costs of pioneering.

The visitor is at the Ambassador.

Constable Wins New Bribe Trial

Oscar Moe, former Downey constable convicted of two counts of bribery, yesterday was granted a new trial by Superior Judge Aggeler on grounds that material evidence in behalf of the defendant was excluded at the original trial. The trial was set for November 19, next.

The officer was convicted of accepting $200 in marked money to extend "protection" to still operators.

Suspect Seized on Coin Charges

L. S. Freed, jointly accused with Donald McRae, former Federal dry officer in Los Angeles, was arrested yesterday at Pocatello, Idaho, according to information received by United States Marshal Sittel. Freed and McRae are accused of passing counterfeit coins in Madera. McRae was arrested at Hoquiam, Wash. He is awaiting removal to this city for a hearing.

TWO LEAVE TODAY FOR AIR RECORDS

Laura Ingalls and Buck Scheduled to Hop Off on Return East

Laura Ingalls, who set the first transcontinental air mark for women air pilots from east to west, and Robert Buck, 16-year-old flyer, holder of the junior air crown for the same crossing, expect to take off this morning for record flights to New York.

The 25-year-old woman pilot, who landed here last Wednesday with an elapsed flying time of thirty hours and twenty-seven minutes from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, will leave from Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale. Buck's plane was ready last night at Western Air Express Port, Alhambra. Both departures will be governed by weather conditions, however.

Buck will try to better the time made by his school chum, Eddie Schneider, of twenty-seven hours and nineteen minutes, on his way back.

Miss Ingall's ship, a D-H Moth open biplane, is much smaller than Buck's and its Wright Gypsy engine is more than 100 horsepower less than the one in Buck's plane. She will set an eastbound record for women.

She flew it here in the face of head winds and storms over the Arizona Mountains. Previously she had rolled the little open biplane to a new world's barrel-roll record for both men and women and a loop record for women, besides piloting it to third place in the Dixie Derby in the 1930 national air races.

Both pilots stopped at the Flying Club of California, Buck as a guest of the Richfield Oil Company and Miss Ingalls as guest of Maj. C. C. Moseley.

efforts of Communists to cause a strike in the lettuce and melon fields that would have caused a loss of millions of dollars. He said the Communists proposed armed force to carry out their ends and had succeeded in getting a following of Mexicans and Filipinos when they were arrested. Heald asked for Federal aid to control the situation, declaring that a county like Imperial is not equipped to battle such an organization.

Superior Judge Thompson of Imperial county was the next witness and told of threats received by him while the trial was going on that resulted in the conviction of the radical leaders. He also asked Federal aid.

Thomas W. Myles and Rev. William A. Venerable, colored, told of efforts of Communists to organize the Negro population. Testimony of these and other witnesses, however, was to the effect that the radicals have made small progress among the colored people, who remain loyal to the United States.

B. E. Montgomery, oil driller, told the committee that he went to Russia last year for a Russian concern, which painted the soviet country in glowing colors. Montgomery said he found misery and want and in the end the Russian company failed to keep its contract with him and the Communists stole his clothes and money.

REFUSES TO ANSWER

Rev. Clinton J. Taft, director of the Southern California chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, was one of the last witnesses called. The organization has been attacked by many witnesses as closely allied with the Communists in this country. Taft denied this and asserted that the organization he represented only asserted itself for the right of free speech.

"Would you defend anyone who advocated the overthrow of government by force and violence during such a so-called free speech?" demanded one of the committee.

Taft refused to answer directly to the question and finally yielded the floor to another witness when the committee indicated that they did not want to hear him if he would not answer their questions.

Other witnesses heard were John Beardsley, attorney, who has appeared in a number of cases where Communists have been on trial, and also a member of the American Civil Liberties Union. He declared this organization has nothing to do with the Third Internationale, directing genius of Communism, and is not organized to promote Communistic interests.

Upton Sinclair, Socialist, was a brief witness, and gave a resume of what he termed the reasons for the organization of the Liberties Union here. George W. Slocomb filed copies of pamphlets he has written on the radical and Communistic problems, after a short questioning.

Prior to adjournment, Lieut.-Col. Leroy S. Smith, director of the speakers' bureau and editor of the bi-weekly bulletin of the Better America Federation, filed with the committee written reports and recommendations from his organization.

Those composing the Congressional committee are Hamilton Fish, chairman, of New York; Robert S. Hall, Mississippi; Carl G. Backman, West Virginia; John E. Nelson, Maine, and E. E. Eslick, Tennessee.

Jury Locked Up Second Night in F. C. Hill Case

Unable to reach a verdict in the case of Frank C. Hill, former president of the California Eastern Steamship Company, accused of fourteen counts of grand theft, a jury in Superior Judge Tryon's court was locked up at 10 o'clock last night following the reading of a portion of the testimony given during the trial.

This is the second night the jury has been out. The case was submitted at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Hill is charged with defrauding his firm out of approximately $100,000. He denies the charge, however, declaring that he merely re-invested the money for the benefit of the stockholders.

The botany department of the University of Southern California plans to take up the problem of making it easier for the golfer to hole his putts, according to Dr. W. B. McDougall of the department.

Members of the Greenkeepers' Association of Southern California, of which Robert S. Greenfield is president, have long been trying to engage the attention of scientists in their problem of keeping the grasses under their care green and smooth the year 'round. Prof. McDougall announced recently that there will be co-operation between the greenkeepers and the Trojan botany department, whereby the former will have many of their problems investigated in the laboratories of Science Hall.

of the report is that portion covering the costs for educating pupils in the public schools. The figures show that it costs the taxpayers $111 a pupil a year in kindergartens, $112 a pupil in the elementary schools, $229 in high schools, and $226 in junior colleges.

FAST GROWTH NOT DESIRED

The average cost of $112 per pupil in elementary schools of Los Angeles county compares favorable with cost figures of schools in 170 leading cities of the United States, the average being $106.

Commenting on the increase in the growth of the school system of the county, Supt. Upjohn declared:

"We don't want a tremendous growth in our school system, that is, a growth that comes too rapidly. If we grow to fast too much of our time and attention is taken up with creating facilities, which takes from our time the administration of what we have and in "finding the right kind of teachers."

The superintendent also declared that the new system of teaching, known as the child centered school system, tried out in places during the last year in the schools here has been very successful and will be continued next year. This is the system whereby the teaching is made to fit the individual child, making it a pleasure for him to attend school instead of a disagreeable task to be gotten over with as quickly as possible.

CITY ENROLLMENT NOW TOTALS 294,208

Total enrollment in the city school system at the end of the first month of the school year was 294,208, according to a report submitted to the Board of Education yesterday. At the same time last year the enrollment was 284,902, and at the end of the first month five years ago it was 206,279.

Elementary school enrollment at the end of the first month this year was 163,947, including the 2828 students in the Americanization classes. Last year at that time the enrollment was 161,962. Day high school enrollment this year was 57,086, as against 52,054 last year; evening high students numbered 45,006, as against 44,105 last year, and there were also increases in special classes conducted by the high school system, bringing the total high school enrollment to 110,369, as compared with a total of 104,338 at the end of the first month last year.

There was a slight decrease in the kindergarten enrollment, the figure this year being 17,892, while last year it was 18,602. This was thought to be due to some parents' reluctance to start their children at school until they were positive the infantile paralysis epidemic had subsided completely.

Atlantic waters as a training squadron, carrying regular complements of only 463 men each. Fleet leaders believe that the battleship divisions here will suffer little from the all-Navy personnel reduction of 4800 men, pointing out that the cut will be effected by retiring the old battleships Utah and Florida and decommissioning of sixteen destroyers and twenty-five submarines; plus the base force flagship Procyon, the aircraft tender Aroostook, the control force flagship Camden and the old cruisers Rochester and Pittsburgh.

AIRCRAFT REVISION

Announced reorganization of the aircraft squadrons will largely comprise shift of the old aircraft carrier Langley and two scouting plane squadrons to the scouting fleet in the Atlantic. The remaining fourteen squadrons, based on the carriers Lexington and Saratoga, the battleships and the Omaha and Aroostook are scheduled to remain with the battle fleet.

Following decommissioning of the Procyon it is expected that Rear-Admiral William D. MacDougall, commanding the United States Fleet base force, will shift his flag to the fleet repair ship Medusa.

BUSINESS MEN GOING NORTH TOMORROW

A special train carrying more than 150 business men leaves tomorrow night for San Francisco. The delegation represents the Downtown Business Men's Association of Los Angeles and will pay a good-will visit to the northern business men's organization over the week-end. E. J. Fleming, president, is head of the contingent. The members will be guests of Mayor Rolph during their stay. Arrangements for the trip were handled by Frank H. Partridge.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUERS END MEET

Bidwell of Sacramento Elected to Presidency at Long Beach Session

LONG BEACH, Oct. 9. (Exclusive) C. H. S. Bidwell, Mayor of Sacramento, was elected president of the California League of Municipalities at the final business session this afternoon. Monterey was chosen as the 1931 convention city. Resolutions adopted by the convention urged that part of the gasoline tax money be set aside for grade separation work; approved a form of civil service requirement for smaller cities and opposed a service charge for utility companies. At the department elections held today Leon T. David of Palo Alto was elected president of the city attorneys; C. R. Blood of Sacramento, president of the engineering section; Reeves Conover of Monterey, president of the planners' organization; Mayor Christensen of Palo Alto, head of the Mayor-Council group, and Miss Gladys Roberts, Petaluma, chairman of the clerks, assessors and auditors. A new department of public utilities was created by the general assembly this afternoon.

Attorney, Dowdy al... has been granted parole ... is to become effective on the ...

VICTIM WOUNDED

The major crime of Dowdy's career occurred on May 21, 1923, Fitts charges, with the robbery of David Antink, Sun Drug Company treasurer, of $25,000. The District Attorney charges that Dowdy was aided in the robbery, in which Antink was wounded, by Morrie Moll, George B. Blair and George Stafford.

Following Dowdy's sentence to San Quentin prison efforts to apprehend and return the other men to Los Angeles for trial on the same offense have proved fruitless. Twice Moll has been arrested, once in St. Paul and once in New York City. On both occasions the man evaded extradition.

SHOT TO DEATH

On September 26, 1929, Antink was clubbed and shot to death by three men in front of his Hollywood home a few weeks after he had gone east to aid officers in identifying Moll as one of the bandits who robbed and shot him.

Pitts urges the prison board to reopen the inquiry and carefully check the man's record before permitting the parole to go into effect.

PARIS INN OWNERS FREED

Bert Rovere and Innocente Pedrovli, proprietors of the Paris Inn, were exonerated of charges of maintaining a nuisance in connection with the operation of the cafe in a ruling made yesterday by United States Commissioner Head. Charges against them were dismissed.

Jean La Forgue, a waiter, was held to answer to the Federal grand jury on a charge of sale of liquor.

PLANS FOR SERVICES COMPLETE

Mrs. Gibson Memorial Meeting to Be Conducted Sunday Afternoon

A comprehensive program has been arranged for the memorial services to be conducted for Mrs. Frank A. Gibson at 3 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium of the Friday Morning Club, 940 South Figueroa street. All of the speakers were closely associated with her in her long years of civic and social betterment work.

Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey ex-superintendent of city schools, will tell of Mrs. Gibson's work to promote adult education, what she accomplished through the Home Teachers' Association and the Kindergarten Club.

Mrs. Seward H. Simons, a friend of many years and ex-president of the Friday Morning Club, will tell of Mrs. Gibson's early work in suffrage, also what she did in the League of Women Voters, the Council on International Relations, the Committee on the Cause and Cure of War, Indian Defense League and the English Speaking Union.

Chester H. Rowell, who is making a special trip from San Francisco for this meeting, will talk of Mrs. Gibson's work on the State Commission for Immigration and Housing, the commission for choosing a noted Californian to represent the State in the Hall of Fame at Washington and her State-wide interest in politics.

Marshal Stimson will tell of her work in the History and Landmarks' Club, her interest in local politics, her diversified friendships and her inspiration to all who came in contocts with her. He also will discuss her interest in the International Desert Conservation League.

Mrs. Joseph Sartori, president emeritus of the Friday Morning Club, will tell of Mrs. Gibson's club work, her writing of the federation history, her connection with the Women's Athletic Club, Daughters of Pioneers and Orphans' Home.

While this meeting is being conducted by all the organizations with which Mrs. Gibson was affiliated and sponsored by the Friday Morning Club, it is open to the general public. All are welcome who are interested in honoring one who stood for the highest in citizenship and service to the community, or who were in any way associated with Mrs. Gibson throughout her long life of unselfish service.

Arizona Wants More Hands to Harvest Cotton

A call for additional families to work at cotton picking at Phoenix, Ariz., was yesterday issued by the United States Employment Service, 901 North Alameda street. Several hundred families are needed.

"The type of families desired are experienced cotton pickers who have their own conveyance," the call sets forth. "The expense of gas and oil to Phoenix will be refunded after the pickers have worked three weeks, providing the expense does not exceed $10. About 95 per cent of the families so far directed have been white people, the others Mexicans.

"The prices being paid, with free shelter and water, are 75 cents per hundredweight for short staples and $1.25 per hundredweight for long staples, which is in keeping with the prices being received for the cotton by the growers."

J. H. Fallin, superintendent, added all nationalities are accepted.

HUTTON FIGHTS STILL CHARGES

Oil Chemist Denies He Used It to Make Alcohol

Wife Says He Claimed Right to Battle in Home

Divorce Contest Hinges on Custody of Child

The only still that Harold P. Hutton, wealthy oil chemist, maintained in his Hollywood home was maintained strictly in the interests of science and his profession, he replied from the stand in Superior Judge Sproul's court yesterday to intimations by his wife's attorneys that fractional distillation of alcohol by her husband made their home life unpleasant.

Mrs. Genevieve Hutton sued for divorce asserting cruelty, and her husband replied with a cross-complaint charging his wife associated with another man. Testimony yesterday indicated that both parties to the suit would welcome a divorce, the only contest being over the custody of a 3-year-old child.

FIGHT DESCRIBED

Mrs. Hutton described a fight between her husband and his brother, Donald A. Hutton, which, she said, was about her.

"He told me he had a perfect right to fight in his own home," said the witness, "and asked me where could he fight if not there."

When Hutton took the stand he was asked by his attorney, Roger Marchetti, about the still his wife accused him of operating.

TESTED MOONSHINE

"It was just an ordinary glass still, such as every chemist uses for experiments," replied the witness. "I sometimes used it to test alcohol for my friends, who claimed they didn't trust their bootleggers."

"Did you ever distill anything with it fit to drink?"

"I made some weak water that smelled like alcohol, but it wasn't fit to drink."

The case will continue today. Mrs. Hutton is represented by Attorney John J. Craig.

DRIVE OPENS FOR GRAVES RE-ELECTION

Headquarters Established and J. P. Britt Assumes Campaign Direction

Inauguration of an intensive drive to obtain re-election for Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was heralded yesterday by the opening of two campaign headquarters. Announcement also was made of the acceptance by James P. Britt of the post of campaign director. Main quarters are on the third floor of the Hayward Hotel and Hollywood headquarters will be maintained on the main floor of the Taft Building.

"I consider it a pleasure to be identified with the campaign of Mr. Graves," said Britt. "His record in office entitles him to re-election on the basis of actual accomplishment. For the past year he has been chairman of the board and as such has been instrumental in materially reducing tax bills. He saved the county almost $1,500,000 through a reorganization of the flood-control department. Records of this department under his administration show a month-to-month history of economy and efficiency."

Graves is scheduled to address three meetings today, speaking at noon before the Wilshire Chamber of Commerce, at 2 p.m. before the Republican Study Club, and in the evening before the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Patriotic Hall.

Officer Killed on Trip to Utah to Attend Funeral

En route to his brother-in-law's funeral, Leo W. Sperry, 34 years of age, a policeman attached to the Lincoln Heights Division, was killed yesterday when his automobile overturned on a sharp turn fourteen miles south of Beaver, Utah, a telegram to Chief Steckel last night stated.

Mrs. Hazel Sperry, his wife, was critically injured, and Allen, their 3-year-old son, was less severely hurt.

With Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Saxton of 4052 South Budlong avenue the Sperrys had started from their home, 960 West Vernon avenue, to attend the funeral of Creighton G. King, attorney, of Beaver. Mrs. Saxton was bruised, but her husband escaped injury.

Sperry was appointed to the force in July, 1928.

JOHN G. BULLOCK SAYS:

OF THE COMMUNITY CHEST

The welfare and charitable work done by the agencies of the Community Chest is so great that its value can hardly be overestimated. It has been organized to centralize not only the gathering of funds for charitable and welfare work, but also the assembling of information concerning the organizations to which these funds are to be distributed—in order that this work may be wisely and well done.

"The success of this year's Chest is of supreme concern to these organizations. May I emphasize the importance of the opportunity that the Chest brings to each individual to help toward this success."

To Bed at 9 o'Clock! You're Crazy!

"Sorry, but I'm all in again"—thousands like her who never suspect the REAL cause.

SHOES! Plain, ordinary, every-day shoes. The kind that SEEM to feel comfortable . . . the kind you see on thousands of others who get tired like you.

What you DON'T see, however, is this. A rigid steel shank right in the arch of your shoe that goes right along every day, pounding and pounding on delicate nerves, breaking down muscle tissue in your feet. What you don't notice is a last that throws unnatural burdens on the wrong muscles of your leg, thigh and back. No wonder you're tired. Your feet can stand it, but the rest of you CAN'T.

Slip into a pair of good-looking Cantilevers if you want a new sensation. Just feel the amazing comfort, the glorious freedom they give—not merely your feet, but your whole body. FLEXIBLE ARCHES, sensible lasts, and as good-looking as any shoe you ever put on. You'll swear by them once you try them. Faultlessly fitted and prices reasonable. Come in today!

GOING WET

The Democrats in twenty States have declared in favor of a moderation or repeal of prohibition. The party is getting pretty wet, but is not yet able to agree upon a program to suit its supporters in the South.

BLUNDERING ON

The World War was a series of mistakes. A noted magazine editor has written a volume with the title, "Colossal Blunders of the World War," and it looks as if nobody did the right thing at the right time. The greatest blunder of all was when the Germans suffered the thing to start. But it will be found mighty hard to fight any war to the satisfaction of the magazine editors.

SAFE AND SANE

Some of the experts who are in the know are of the opinion that there might easily have been a regular panic following the big splash in Wall street last year but for the cool head and steady hand of President Hoover. The facilities of the government were made available to head off any rocking of the boat. The President could not act direct, but his power was felt. The Democrats who are forever criticising the Executive because he did not stop people from buying stocks are not impressing the general public with such claptrap.

HOMES FOR THE ELITE

The Rockefeller family is providing what is promised to be the finest home development proposition in the world. It is located on the old Forest Hills estate of the Rockefeller family of 400 acres at Cleveland. There will be single dwellings, flats and apartments all created by a group of architects, working together. There also will be an exceptionally high-class business district built in conjunction with some of the apartments. More than $2,000,000 was expended in the preliminaries—such as paving, sewers and fancy lights. All wires are under ground and the landscaping of the tract has been going on for some time. It is expected that the district will furnish attractive homes for a large group of high-grade business executives and will supply as beautiful a setting as money can provide. It may take $100,000,000 to see it through, but that would not jar the Rockefeller family a lot. They can pay for the best there is.

THE WORLD SERIES

We have safely turned the corner of another World Series of baseball.

Thirty-two to forty thousand fans per game smashed hats and howled themselves hoarse as the tide ebbed and flowed for their respective teams in Philadelphia and St. Louis. And millions of others sat and twisted in agony or delight as the word came over the radio. The whole country took sides and the Republican and Democratic parties are not as evenly matched. But when the Athletics finally won everybody applauded them, shook hands and were friends again.

Baseball is said to be the evolution of the old English game of rounders. It calls for great athletic ability as well as skilled strategy. Connie Mack of the champion Athletics was winning pennants as manager when Bobby Jones was in his cradle and Jack Dempsey could not down a rag baby. He is a man of fine integrity and all the sporting world has caught his spirit.

In days of depression, baseball helps to restore the country to normalcy. As long as old and young, male and female, can cheer, there is nothing organically the matter with the republic. When the entire country can sit out in the boiling sun, or in front of the radio, and unravel the sleeve of care, Wall street, nor Russian Reds can permanently disturb or disable it. The trouble with Russia is, she takes herself too seriously and has never learned to play.

Good sportsmanship may begin on the diamond, but it cannot be kept there. If it be good for either diamond or gridiron, it is naturally carried across to machine shop, out into the field, or up into the counting house.

As long as a nation can play, it is on the road to complete recovery!

BALLOTS AND BULLETS

The year 1930 seems likely to go down in history as one of widespread political disturbances. Revolts and revolutions have occurred, or are threatening, in various countries of the Western Hemisphere and to a lesser extent in Europe. Two explanations are possible; one that the spirit of revolt spreads from country to country like influenza, the other that these disturbances are not fundamentally political at all, but economic, and that the world-wide industrial depression is at the bottom of them. The epidemic theory seems to have no facts to support it, the economic the advantage of being at least reasonable. There is no doubt of the depression, and of its being a condition common to all the disturbed countries.

It seems somewhat unreasonable to us for people to blame the existing governments for these business conditions, at least to the extent of ousting them or attempting to oust them with bullets. But the Hoover administration is being assailed in this country in much the same fashion, though it is being threatened with ballots rather than bullets. The change in political administration that took place in Canada was another revolt which took the ballot route. The disposition of people to blame the political "ins" for all their troubles, thus manifested, is general. It testifies to the correctness of former Ambassador Morrow's recent shrewd observation that the people of all countries are more alike than different; it is in their choice of attempted remedies, rather than in their fundamental reasoning, that they diverge.

But there is, we think here at least, a fundamental difference between a bullet and a ballot, even admitting that they are but different methods for accomplishing the same somewhat illogical result. There is considerably more finality about a bullet, at least when it finds its mark; he who goes down under a barrage of ballots lives to fight another day. The ballot method, too, is a good deal less noisy and expensive.

American elections and American political campaigns cost a great deal more than they should, but this cost is not to be compared with that of even a minor war, with its concomitant destruction of property, disruption of communications, disjointing of business and deterioration of morale. That revolution, like other forms of war, costs far more than it is worth, in the majority of cases, is probably its outstanding characteristic.

The material progress of any country depends to a great extent upon its store of capital. That the accumulation of capital depends upon the maintenance of peace and order and the making of changes only by predetermined rule seems to be an established and incontrovertible fact. Not only is capital destroyed by revolution, but its accumulation is prevented. Capital is nothing more nor less than saved surplus production, and where peace permits this saving to take place over several generations, there material progress is greatest.

Under the ballot system, too, the commercial system can depend upon changes being made only at definite intervals, with plenty of advance warning of their possible coming so that preparation can be made for them. Revolution, on the contrary, is haphazard in its appearance and its results are unpredictable. They cannot be discounted or insured against, except to a very limited extent. After any Presidential election in the United States, it can be pretty well judged what the next four years, politically, will be like, in the main outlines. But governments which change by revolution, and to a lesser extent the parliamentary governments, have no definite life. Parliamentary governments acquire flexibility, but at the expense of stability.

Again, the casting of a ballot is the result of a certain amount of reasoning and consideration, frequently of mature deliberation. The result of a decision by bullets is almost wholly a matter of chance, and so cannot possibly be correct more than half the time. Admitting that decisions by ballot do not always turn out well, they have a distinct percentage in their favor both in theory and in practice; they will prove correct two-thirds, perhaps three-fourths, of the time, since they are influenced by reason as well as by chance.

It is not to be denied that the ballot system lends itself to inequities, that many political campaigns have no more sense to them than a hunter abusing his dog because he misses a shot, and so on, but it is still the fact that ballots in the long run settle questions infinitely better than do bullets. Countries which desire material progress, and few do not, prefer and ultimately will abide by the ballot system.

AND MORE ANTIQUES

It has long been a mathematical certainty, of course, that large numbers of antiques are so by courtesy and in appearance only. To contend otherwise, would be to declare that Chippendale, Sheraton, Heppelwhite and earlier English furniture designers had the automatic machinery of Grand Rapids and a corresponding output. In the days of hand work, chairs and tables, highboys and lowboys, were not built like Fords, and to account for the volume now extant and said to be authentic, it would need to be assumed that the entire population of early England was engaged in furniture manufacture.

But where the will to believe otherwise exists, mathematical demonstration is not wholly convincing and it takes a jolt like the customs settlement with a New York "antique" dealer to destroy faith. Antiques, it may be explained, are not subject to duty, as they are not considered competitive with products of modern manufacture, and the passage of goods through the customs duty free is a sort of guarantee of antiquity. New "antiques" must be good enough to fool the customs inspectors, and those imported by this New Yorker apparently were.

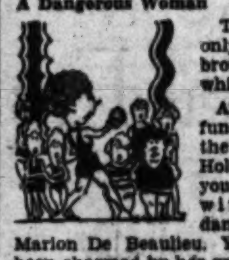
Apparently the facts would not have been revealed but for a leak from the inside. A stenographer whose conscience hurt her or who wanted a reward, or both, tipped off the game. Among the list of the importer's patrons are many who are prominent in society or in finance, and who must be uncomfortable now that the matter has become public. The principal effect of the revelations is likely to be a sharp drop in the price of several famous collections. Yet these articles of furniture will not be affected intrinsically; they will be as beautiful and as useful as they were before, even if they are not so considered.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

WE HAVE been gazing on the handwriting on the wall and do not need soothsayers to interpret it to us. It seems to spell "Finish" for us mere men.

A Dangerous Woman



This is for men only. Draw near, brothers and let's whisper. Shh!

At recent public functions, such as the ballet in the Hollywood Bowl, you may have witnessed the dancing of Mme. Marion De Beaulieu. You may have been charmed by her grace and lightness. But that was because you don't know nothin' yet.

That woman is organizing our wives and sweethearts into gymnasium classes, the result of which will be that soon most of the women in our very best neighborhoods can whip their husbands! That is not, of course, the open and avowed purpose of the classes. Our helpspend joined one because she said she weighed only ninety-three pounds and the twenty-mule-team quartet is getting so big that she soon won't be able to spank 'em unless she gets some muscle. And the woman just across the street from us has joined because she weighs 193 pounds and wants to get down to 130. But Southern California women take naturally to athletics.

We've seen one of those classes work. We've seen them do things we couldn't do, couldn't hope to do. Ostensibly, they did it all for the sake of grace and poise. But we'll bet if any member of that class had got into an argument with you she could have broken your nose with a single blow.

Land of Superior Women

It was out near Rodney Drive and Los Feliz—and you know what sort of folks live around there. Rupert Hughes's house is just 'cross the way and Cecil De Mille lives a few blocks down. As we peered cautiously in, forty women in gymnasium suits were lying on their backs. As the music played, their feet swung up and touched the floor behind their heads. Then with one resilient bound they were on their feet following the leader like a flock of geese, their feet flying out behind, higher than their heads. Suddenly they were down on all fours, shaking themselves as dogs shake when coming out of water. Next they were hurling medicine balls and then playing basketball with speed and stamina which took our breath. While we watched, they did a dozen things we couldn't do and three-fourths of the men we know couldn't do! In a neighborhood in which the homes were filled with softening influences, those women were as hard as nails.

"But you should see my class at the Vista del Arroyo," said Mme. De Beaulieu, deprecatingly. "And I have several other classes. I like the women of Southern California. They take so well to the physical education. Besides mine, there are many other classes. And the athletic clubs and many other clubs have classes for women. Southern California has every resource to produce a race of superior women. Sea and mountains and climate all encourage outdoor life and exercise, physical well-being and grace."

No Laughing Matter

Now, fellows, before we stop whispering, let's consider this matter seriously. While we're chasing dollars what are our wives doing? Improving their minds at their clubs. Hearing lectures we wouldn't have the brains to sit and listen to without yawning. Keeping up with music, art, drama, education, civic and international affairs. Becoming our intellectual superiors. And now they're becoming our physical superiors, too. What's going to happen to us men pretty soon if we don't watch out? Who's going to be washing the dishes and the clothes a few years hence? Who's already doing a large and increasing share of it?

Joshua Little Says

"Now is the 'time to buy.'" Unfortunately, for the fellow inclined to take a meaner advantage of the situation, now is the time to alibi.

There's some real good in any period in which a fellow is either fired by industry or fired by the boss.

They say there are 11,000 extras in Hollywood. That's almost as many as our afternoon papers get out.

The woman who is always smelling a mouse in some neighbor's affairs is usually a cat.

OLD MAN LITTLE

Poor dad shouldn't mind being broke. It just shows how ready the family always is to give him a break.

Maybe they ought to revise it to "Give poor dad a brake."

There can't be anything much wrong with a country in which a world's series makes us forget everything else.

THE NARCOTIC PROBLEM

The narcotic problem in its international aspects is to be considered in a conference of the manufacturing nations at Geneva this month and a general conference next June. During the sessions of the latter the International Narcotic Education Association will meet at Geneva, starting in July. The general program of all these conferences is to discuss ways and means for limiting output of opium and its derivatives to the amount actually needed for medical purposes.

While narcotic addiction is apparently on the decrease in this country and the problem is therefore not as serious as it appeared, several years ago, likely to become, the best hope of wiping out narcotism altogether lies in international effort. Limitation of production is difficult to obtain, but by no means impossible. To what extent the United States will take part in these conferences officially remains to be seen, but if a program to which we can subscribe is the outcome, its adoption here will be heartily supported. Efforts to curb narcotism are farther advanced here than in most countries and any aid the United States can give or receive will be approved by public opinion.

No harm, at any rate, can come from talking things over, and a clearer conception of what is necessary to be done as well as of what is impracticable will certainly be useful.

TO SPEED UP WATER FLOW

Deeply scoured and scarred by the flow of water over it for nearly seventeen years, the floor of the Owens River Aqueduct is being resurfaced and polished by crews of men strung along the waterway across the desert and up into Owens Valley.

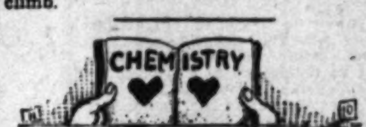
Anyone in the least familiar with the effects of aqueous erosion will understand the need of this work. Though it operates slowly, this mighty force is one of the most powerful in nature. It cuts out such great waterways as the Straits of Mackinac between Lake Michigan and Lake Huron, four miles wide and many feet deep, and chisels down the steep sides of cliffs and mountains. That it should have pitted and corrugated the concrete tunnel which is the channel through which Los Angeles receives the greater part of its water supply is only natural, and these defects must be remedied without delay.

The wisdom of the voters of Los Angeles in voting the water bonds last May is indicated by the necessity for this improvement and the fact that by increasing the flow through the tunnel the city will be afforded a large additional supply, amounting to millions of gallons a day.

Although the cost of the work will be about $600,000, it will pay for itself many times over. Nature cannot be expected to repair her ravages in cases like this, and man must take up the burden as part of "life's endless toil and endeavor."

GROWING FAST

Seems that the city of Dearborn, which is the home town of Henry Ford, shows the greatest percentage of gain in American towns for this year's census. It swelled from a paltry 2470 ten years ago to a present 50,605. This is an increase of nearly 2000 per cent—which is quite a jump if anybody should ask. In this case it may be conceded that Henry Ford has had something to do with the climb.



AFFINITY

By James J. Montague

A scientist says that love and friendship are merely the result of the agreement of the chemicals composing the interested parties.

You doubtless suppose that you choose your own friends;
You tell yourself, now and again,
That your liking for Bilkens or Smithers depends
On your marvelous judgment of men.
You approve Judson's humor, or Rafferty's wit,
You are sure you will never forget 'em
And you often declare when a little bit lit,
"I was strong for those boys when I met 'em."
But the reason that you and your pals are so thick
Is just that your chemicals happen to click.

You think when a damsel comes into your life,
That you are her predestined man,
And that she was the girl who was meant for your wife
When the march of the ages began.
You say that you know at the very first glances
You exchanged as you passed by the way
That all of your previous tender romances
Were the fleeting affairs of a day.
But it's merely the clicking of chemical forces
That cuts down the annual crop of divorces.

It isn't the wisdom you boast of, dear
 sir,
It isn't the throb and the beat
Of your pulses that lead you to smile or demur
When a stranger you happen to meet.
Reactions are busy in breast and in brain
And atom is calling to atom,
And to fancy that you either love or disdain
Is what Cicero called an erratum.
The emotion we speak of as love at first sight
Means that atoms and ions are clicking all right.

HEARSTIANA

Stubborn Los Angeles

The idea of giving receptions to Mr. Hearst in all those cities where he has newspapers and political alliances seems to have originated with the French government. Of course, the French government never avowed this. But about September 2 it did tell Mr. Hearst that there were to be no receptions for him in Paris and that the sooner he went from there the better the French government would be pleased.

Our own government and other governments have from time to time invited visitors to get hence. Up to September 2 the right to say who should be admitted and who shouldn't has been considered an attribute of every sovereign power.

International law has been fearfully and wonderfully remade. Entangling alliances have been hunted to their lair. It has not been necessary to prove to Mr. Hearst that he is the last real American left in this decadent age. He and the promoters of his official receptions admit it. But for him the line of American patriots is extinct. The receptions are to be the proof.

But some cities are stubborn in the face of facts. There is Los Angeles, for instance. The city officials strangely have not fallen in line and Mr. Hearst's welcome will be strictly an affair of Hearst employees and individuals who could be persuaded.

My! Won't Los Angeles be jealous of San Francisco when we pull off our official celebration of Mr. Hearst's rescue from the dangers of entangling alliances in Montmartre and other alluring quarters of that perfidious Paris!—[San Francisco Chronicle.

Citizens, Arise in Wrath!

Is not William Randolph Hearst a trifle inconsistent? After his expulsion from France he went to London, where he told interviewers that the government had conferred on him a great distinction by requesting that he leave that country. Since returning to the United States, Mr. Hearst has occupied the radio to tell his fellow-citizens how grossly they have been insulted by the French authorities through the personal affront to him who, according to John H. McCooey, Democratic leader of Brooklyn—as reported in Mr. Hearst's own newspapers—is "One of America's outstanding citizens." The Brooklyn gentleman adds: "No matter what the French government does it will not diminish his popularity, or his glory, or the high regard that the people of our city, State and nation have for him." Think of it! But for the fact that Mr. Hearst was able to get this felicitous expression from Mr. McCooey and broadcast it to the country by radio, and through his papers, the public might not have known how highly it esteems the publisher, whom the dastardly French government dared to expel. Citizens, arise!

Let poets strike their lyres no more,
Let Washington his wrath outpour;
Let Lincoln his chagrin express,
Let Roosevelt maledictions stress;
Let Senators the Frenchmen flay, Let saints in anguish kneel and pray;
Let politicians hurl defiance,
Let statesmen plan a new alliance;
Let Uncle Sam his loins gird,
Let lovely woman show she's stirred;
Let commerce halt, its wheels
 abate,
Let everything on Willie wait—
Until the French, in humblest guise,
To Banished Hearst apologize.
—[Los Angeles Saturday Night.

Blood Upon the Moon

It strikes us that it is high time something were done to head off the impending war between the French government and Mr. William Randolph Hearst. The situation is getting more acute every day and no one can tell when it may break out into open hostilities and one shudders to think of the frightful carnage that would inevitably ensue.

Developments to date foreshadow something of the horrors to come unless peace is brought about by friendly intervention. On the one side we have the ominous calm and silence in France. But that doesn't fool anyone, least of all the Hearst forces. For they, on the other hand, are going forward with fevered mobilization. A call to arms has been issued to every word in the dictionary. No slackers will be permitted. Mr. Hearst expects every syllable to do its duty.

Mr. Hearst had just grounds for suspecting a plot to draw him into an entangling alliance and he hates entangling alliances. There was nothing for him to do but come home and order mobilization. His call to arms has swept the country like wildfire, some wilder than others, and the wilder the better.

Wherever a Hearst newspaper is found—and city officials who have alliances with it, we hope and pray for Mr. Hearst's sake that they may not be entangling—there is a focus of the flame of adulation of the only Simon-Pure American!—[San Francisco Chronicle.

Twilight on Fifth Avenue

There is a dull, forbidding house on Fifth avenue, New York, built seventy-five years ago at a cost of $5000, which has been occupied during its entire existence by one family, the last member of which is now surviving. The family has always been wealthy and the accumulation which has fallen to the last heir amounts to about $100,000,000. The members of the family have been noted mainly by their retiring disposition, for they have never figured in public life despite their wealth. The Fifth-avenue home has never been profaned by the introduction of the electric light or telephone. Gas and candles supplied the illumination. The real estate on which the house is located is now said to be worth a little more than $2,000,000.

Australia's radio craze is growing rapidly.

"Non-Profit" Hospital Case

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Where are these "non-profit hospitals" that wish exemption from taxation? I have failed to find one. A gracious example of the sort asking "relief" has just come under my observation. A laborer's wife was hurt. In the hospital she lay for a long while. He paid, he tells me, $1987 to the "non-profiting hospital" and $200 to the doctor. Later, this woman had pneumonia and the man paid $65 a week, or $1300, for her illness. He sold his little home to pay the bill. His wife died and he is outdoors. The doctor got nothing. Why not exempt him from taxation? His vocation is more nearly "non-profit" and almost thankless. Rather, instead of lifting taxation from any business, why not put it upon a wider range than at present—bonds, trusts, mortgages, money, churches, "non-profit hospitals," etc., and thus make it possible to own a home without forfeiting for extortionate taxes, essentially large because so many escape. Real estate now pays about all the taxes, or an undue amount of them. Under the late Cryer regime, special assessments took all, and often left a residue unpaid. If anything, undertakers and non-profit hospitals should pay much more. They often get all one has after a sick spell.

What About Brush Cover?

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Permit me to comment on the article appearing in the last Sunday issue of The Times, in reference to the water storage flood-control plan as set forth by Mr. E. C. Eaton, county flood control engineer for Los Angeles county.

The most important part of the plan has been overlooked in Mr. Eaton's report, inasmuch as no reference is made to the planting of the area in question with the necessary brush cover without which the plan cannot hope to succeed. The plan was the plan of the American Green Cross as presented by the head of that organization, Mr. George Barnes, over six years ago.

At that time in the Supervisors' room and in the presence of Mr. Eaton and Mr. McClellan, Mr. Barnes set forth this plan and numerous times thereafter it was presented and discussed at public banquets. It is of vital import, not alone for the intelligent operation of the plan itself, but in view of the decreased amount of money available, that the forestration be accomplished and I am very sorry, indeed, that Mr. Eaton omitted that.

Invisible Speeders

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I note your issue of the 7th a few pertinent remarks by A. H. Harvey on the so-called "Billboard Nuisance."

The average tourist pays about as much attention to billboards as he does to scenery. In fact, traveling at the average speed of forty or fifty miles per hour, the near-by landscape is just a blurr and the traveler gets no impression at all of what he is passing.

The landscape he sees is ten or fifteen miles away as his eye focuses and at such distance the billboard at twenty or thirty feet away leaves no impression either for or against it. The only place that this class of advertising is effective is in the town or city where the foot passenger has time to catch a glimpse of what is offered.

Just Puttering Around

OCEANSIDE, Oct. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Referring to the new game, why not call it "Putt-Golf?" That being exactly what it is, the putting part of golf, considerably elaborated and played with a putter. It is certainly not miniature golf, peewee golf or baby golf, nor any other kind of golf but putt golf. Short, sharp, snappy and descriptive what more is wanted?

Silicates in the Arts

Sodium silicate, commonly known as water-glass, is familiar to many principally as a means of preserving eggs, but recently chemical advance has found a number of other uses for it. The adhesive properties of silicates have led to new uses as well as refinements of old ones. A comparatively new process blows shredded paper along with atomized adhesive silicate solution onto interior walls of houses to form a thermal insulating layer. The substitution of porous kraft papers for smoother, and often better-sized sheets, has lead to new standards of viscosity in the silicate as well as new mechanical requirements in mills making solid laminated fiber containers. Waterproof protein adhesives containing silicate are used on plywood and wallboards. A water-resisting silicate wallboard has been patented with the claim of improved physical properties as compared with gypsum boards. It is made of an intumescent mass of silicate and finely divided limestone, preferably of the dolomitic type, and the mineral mass is retained between two paper layers. It has good strength and is practically unaffected by water.

RIVAL CLASSES BURY HATCHET

U.C.L.A. Friendship Ax Sunk in Stump

Bob Page and Parkman Hardcastle

RIVALRY between the freshman and sophomore classes at the University of California at Los Angeles was officially terminated for the year last night when class representatives buried the hatchet at a stag smoker in Westwood Village.

Tat hatchet, buried deep into the traditional tree stump, will be consigned to the Associated Students' trophy case, where it will be kept until the freshman-sophomore brawl in 1931.

The stump in which the "friendship ax" is buried was obtained from sophomore grove on the old Vermont-avenue campus in order to carry out further the theme of terminating class ill-feeling.

COLLINS DAMAGES FOUGHT

Court Denies New Trial for Police Captain Jones, But Considers Plea to Reduce Judgment

Police Captain J. J. Jones yesterday made a motion for a new trial of Mrs. Christine Collins's suit which had resulted in a jury assessing the officer $10,800 damages. Mrs. Collins sued Jones charging he falsely imprisoned her in the psychopathic ward when she refused to accept a youthful impostor as her missing son Walter, 9 years of age. Superior Judge Hahn denied the motion on all grounds advanced except that which holds the amount is excessive, which he took under advisement.

Attorney Frank Hutton, for Jones, argued for reduction of the award, asserting that the police captain is a poor man and that the jury did not know that when the amount was fixed.

"Millionaires and paupers are treated alike in courts of justice," announced Judge Hahn.

When Hutton asserted that the jurors were "incensed by a preacher with a radio," Judge Hahn said there was no evidence to that effect. Jones's attorney suggested that $1000 is enough judgment, considering that Mrs. Collins was held only five days.

Attorney S. S. Hahn, for Mrs. Collins, cited a case in which he won a $25,000 judgment for a client falsely imprisoned only one hour. He contended that Mrs. Collins had been confined with insane persons, four of whom are now in Patton.

Mrs. Collins wept during the argument. Following the hearing she reaffirmed her belief that her son is alive and that she will spend her $10,800 judgment searching for him. She is unwilling to believe Walter was slain by Gordon Stewart Northcott, whom she interviewed just before he was hanged. The mother said Northcott told her two contradictory stories.

DAIRY HERD HEALTH GOOD

Report of Inspector Shows 55,979 Head of Cattle in County With High Ratings

There are 55,979 dairy cattle in Los Angeles county at the present time, with a high health standard among them, according to the annual report of County Livestock Inspector Hurt filed yesterday with Supervisor Shaw for the fiscal year ending June 30, last.

The health standard of the herd of dairy cattle in the county is constantly improving, the inspector's report declares. This is shown, he says, by the small number which reacted to tuberculosis tests during the year. Less than 4 per cent of the cattle reacted to the tests last year as against 30 per cent a few years ago.

The inspector further points out that during the year all of the 55,979 head of cattle were tested at least once and more than half of them twice during the twelve months.

Los Angeles county produced approximately $2,000,000 worth of pork and pork products during the last year, the report says. In 1924 the number of hogs in the county totaled 25,000. Today it is more than 54,000, an increase of 110 per cent in five years.

Slaughtering of cattle increased 24 per cent during the year. Hog killing increased 33 per cent and sheep 27 per cent.

Dairy cattle imports from other States and counties decreased from 27,880 in 1928-29 to 25,271 in 1929-30. Of the cattle shipped in from other States 3301 came from Idaho. Utah was second with 3028. Iowa shipped the least, only nine head coming from there during the year.

Relative to shipments from other counties within the State, 617 animals came from Kings county, 466 from San Bernardino county and three from San Mateo county.

According to Hahn, the order sets a precedent in local courts. He said last night he will have a minister awaiting the couple at the marriage license bureau and that the ceremony will be performed immediately on their arrival.

Fernekes, who expects to leave the County Jail tonight to begin serving a sentence of from one to fourteen years for forgery, and his wife, now serving a three months' sentence in the jail on a similar offense, expressed a desire to remarry when, according to Fernekes, it was learned that a ceremony performed in New Jersey last January was not recorded.

Their application to Jailer Peoples to be permitted to have the ceremony in the jail was denied, the jailer demanding a court order. Following service of the court order on Chief Criminal Deputy Wright last night, Hahn announced that all plans for the wedding were completed.

Fernekes, who is 32 years of age, several months ago escaped custody of a police officer who was returning him to face charges here from El Paso. He leaped from a moving train near Phoenix and was not recaptured for several weeks. His bride-to-be is 18 and was granted five years' probation with a three months' jail sentence to be served.

Last Argument in Fewkes Trial Set for Today

Final arguments in the trial of J. B. Fewkes, charged with eight counts of grand theft, will be made in Superior Judge Fricke's court today by defense and prosecution counsel.

Fewkes is accused of defrauding Mrs. Thomas E. Merrill, Beverly Hills matron, out of $6500 in a stock transaction. The defendant asserts that Mrs. Merrill voluntarily invested the money in a purchase of a partnership in the Accounting Service Company, a firm which he organized.

Police believe the theft was made because of the gold used in the dental constructions.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

[Requests for recipes and information pertaining to the proper preparation and serving of foods will be answered in this column every Friday. Address all requests to A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, 424 Arden avenue, Glendale.—Ed.]

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS
BROWN SAUCE FOR FRENCH SANDWICHES

H. B. B., Los Angeles, Cal.: I think the sauce you have reference to is a brown sauce as far as I can find out, and is made by placing two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and allowing it to brown, being careful not to burn, then add two tablespoonfuls of flour, and when it bubbles add one and one-half cupfuls of brown stock, or make a brown stock by using one teaspoonful of meat extract with a cupful and a half of boiling water. Season with salt and pepper and dip the French rolls in this.

EGGNOG PIE

D. E. J., Los Angeles, Cal.: The yolks of three eggs, one and a half teaspoonfuls of cornstarch or flour, two whole eggs, two-thirds cupful of sugar, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of gelatine, one and a half tablespoonfuls of cold water, one and one-half cupfuls of milk. Beat the yolks of the eggs, and the two whole eggs together, sift the cornstarch and sugar together and gradually beat it into the eggs, scald the milk in a double boiler, and pour it slowly into the eggs and cornstarch, and continue the beating. Return to the double boiler and cook until the mixture is thick and smooth. Dissolve the gelatine in the cold water and add it to the hot mixture, and stir until dissolved, remove from the fire, add one-half teaspoonful of nutmeg and one tablespoonful of rum flavor, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs, while the mixture is still warm, beat well and pour into a baked pie shell. Either cover the top with whipped cream or a meringue.

SANDWICHES

J. B., Los Angeles, Cal.: There are so many nice sandwiches and it is more or less up to the maker of them to combine the ingredients together that would be palatable. Meat sandwiches are usually liked by men, and the best way to do with the meat is to either chop it fine, or pound it in a mortar, highly season it and spread it on thin slices of bread. Veal, chicken, tuna, and meat may be used and a potted sandwich is made of one pound of tender, cooked veal, which has been chopped fine, one-fourth cupful of fat pork chopped fine, season with salt, pepper and a little anchovie essence. Moisten with butter and work until smooth, press the mixture solidly in a small jar, pour melted butter over it, to the depth of half an inch, and place it in a cool place. When ready to serve, slice thin, place a lettuce leaf on thin slices of bread, then sliced potted meat. Garnish with pickles and ripe olives.

FAIRMOUNT SANDWICHES

Work a small cream cheese until smooth, using a wooden spoon and season with salt. Chop red and green pepper, separately, place in a cloth, and wring out some of the moisture. Mix one-half of the cheese with some of the red pepper, the other half with the green pepper. Spread four thin slices of white bread sparingly with butter, on the lower slice spread the green pepper mixture, cover with another slice of bread, on top of that spread a layer of the red pepper mixture and cover with the fourth slice of bread. To serve, garnish with lettuce leaves and watercress.

FRUIT CAKE

M. C. N., San Diego, Cal.: You ask me in your letter if I know anything about a fruit cake that is steamed. I have not tried it, but I do not like the idea as, unless thoroughly dried out in the oven afterward, it would have a tendency to be heavy and soggy. Do not try to bake your fruit cakes in the small, round tins you speak of. In the first place the tins are not thick enough or heavy enough for the purpose and it is much better to get small bread tins made of blocked tin. They must be lined with two or three thicknesses of well-oiled paper, both bottom and sides, the baking of them is one of the most particular things, they should be put in a moderate oven, a pan of water placed in the bottom of the oven, and after they have formed a crust on top cover with two thicknesses of oiled paper and bake slowly. The time depending on the amount in the pan, and the best way to test them is by trying them in the center with a toothpick. If the toothpick comes out clean, with no dough adhering to it, the cake is baked. As the water evaporates, add more hot water to the pan. Herewith a fruitcake recipe which I have used many times, with wonderful success:

Mix four cupfuls of sifted flour with one tablespoonful of cinnamon, one tablespoonful of mace and one tablespoonful of nutmeg, add to the flour one pound of currants, one-half pound of seedless raisins, one-half pound of seeded raisins, one-half pound of candied orange peel, one pound of chopped blanched almonds, and one pound of candied cherries, one pound altogether of candied pineapple, candied pears and candied apricots. Beat two cupfuls of butter to a cream and gradually beat into it two cupfuls of sugar and beat until light and creamy, add the well-beaten yolks of eight eggs and beat for five minutes, add one cupful of brandy flavor and one cupful of cider, add this to the fruits and egg yolks, then combine with the fruits and flour, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eight eggs, place it in your cake pans, and bake in a slow oven.

A Bedtime Story

SAMMY JAY DISCOVERS THE TRUTH

> The stoutest heart doth yield to fear
> When helplessness seems drawing near.
> —Old Mother Nature.

It was daybreak of the morning after the start of the great fight in the Green Forest. Sammy Jay hastily got a bite to eat and then flew straight over to where the night before he had left Lightfoot the Deer and the strange Deer fighting. He hoped he would find some one who could tell him who had won the battle. You can guess how surprised he was when he discovered the two fighters apparently fighting as hard as ever. Anyway, they were standing head to head and every now and then one would give the other a push. Could it be that they had fought all night? All about the ground was torn up and trodden. Not far away stood little Mrs. Lightfoot and on her face was a worried look—a look as if there were something she did not understand. During the night she had wandered about, but always after a little came back where she could watch the two who were fighting for her.

Blacky the Crow arrived a few minutes after Sammy Jay. He, too, was surprised. "I never heard of such a thing!" he exclaimed. "It looks as if neither knows when to quit."

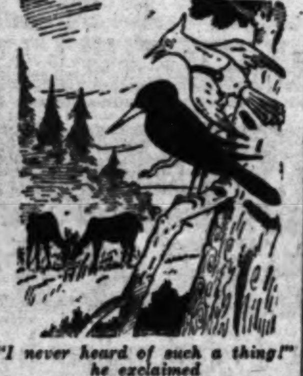
Just then both slipped to their knees. Sammy's sharp eyes discovered something. Yes, sir, they did so! Those eyes of his are very sharp and they are forever discovering something.

"Did you see that, Cousin Blacky?" he exclaimed.

"Did I see what?" demanded Blacky.

"Those two were trying to pull apart, instead of trying to push each other," exclaimed Sammy, growing more and more excited. "Watch, and you'll see that I'm right."

Blacky leaned forward that he might see better. "It's as true as you're alive!" he exclaimed in his turn. "They are not fighting at all! They are trying to get apart and they can't. It's those antlers of theirs!"



"I never heard of such a thing!" he exclaimed

"They are locked together!" cried Sammy Jay. "Those antlers are all tangled together. Now, what will they do? Why, this is dreadful! If they can't get themselves apart, no one else can part them. I never heard of such a thing; but there it is! See, Lightfoot isn't angry any longer, he is just frightened. It is the same way with the stranger."

It was all true. Lightfoot and the other Deer had locked antlers. They had come together in such a way that the antlers had been pushed apart and then sprung together; so that it was impossible for them to separate them. They were bound together head to head as surely as if iron bands had been locked around their antlers. They had not known just when it happened. In the fury of the fight they had pushed and pushed and when at last they had sought to separate for a moment's rest, and had been unable to, each had thought that the other was simply continuing to push. It was not until long after the thing had happened that either had realized that he could not get free. Then a dreadful fear had taken possession of them.

Really, it was a dreadful situation. You see, it meant slow starvation. Locked together that way, neither could get food nor drink. They could not understand what it all meant. Each blamed the other; yet, after a while, each lost the anger that had filled him in the beginning.

Jeritza to Sing Western Opera Role Tomorrow

"Girl of the Golden West" brings Maria Jeritza back to the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow night for her final appearance in the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association's annual season, which ends Monday night.

Jeritza has the role of Minnie in the Puccini composition, which is known as California's own opera. Puccini based his opera on David Belasco's play of the same name, which had California for its setting.

Jeritza has scored this season in "Salome," "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Tannhauser."

The Metropolitan favorite will appear with Frederick Jagel of the Metropolitan and Gaetano Viviani, leading baritone, at the La Scala opera, Milan, Italy. Tickets for the performance are available at Barker Brothers'.

Gaetano Merola, director-general of both the Los Angeles and San Francisco associations, will conduct both tomorrow's opera and "Lucia," which will bring the season to a close Monday night.

AUTO CAMP TENANT FEARS FOR HIS WIFE

James A. Bradt, occupying an auto camp bungalow at 4101 Alhambra avenue, yesterday asked Captain of Detectives Allen of the missing persons bureau to help find his wife, Mrs. Ethel Bradt, who disappeared last Monday. A bottle of poison disappeared at the same time, the anxious husband explained, and he fears his wife may have ended her life.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PEACH TIMBALES

Place in a double boiler one-half cupful of well-washed rice and cover with one cupful and a half of cold water. Place boiling water in the lower part of the double boiler and allow the rice to cook until tender. Then add three-fourths cupful of rich milk which has been scalded and one-fourth cupful of sugar and one-third teaspoonful of salt. Allow to come to a boil, then place the mixture in the oven and bake until dry. Beat the yolks of four eggs, add to them a teaspoonful of lemon juice and one teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, remove the rice from the oven and gradually add the egg yolks to it. Butter a baking dish and dust it heavily with stale cake or bread crumbs. Spread the rice mixture over the bottom and sides, arrange in the center a layer of drained peaches, cover with the rice, place in a pan of water and bake until firm in the center. Serve with a sauce made from the peach syrup.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

Take the required amount of peppers, remove the stem end and seeds, pour boiling water over them and let simmer slowly for about eight minutes; remove the peppers, drain well and place them in muffin tins. Fry one onion chopped fine in a half a cupful of butter or shortening until slightly browned, season with salt and one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Place one tablespoonful of this mixture in the bottom of each pepper, then carefully break a raw egg into each one, cover the egg with well-buttered bread crumbs that have been seasoned with salt and paprika. Place in the oven and bake fifteen minutes. Serve on toast with a Hollandaise sauce.

BUTTERSCOTCH WAFERS

Two cupfuls of brown sugar, two-thirds cupful of butter or shortening, two eggs, three-fourths teaspoonful of salt, three cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Cream the shortening with the sugar, beat the eggs and add to the mixture. Continue the beating until the mixture is fluffy. Sift the dry ingredients, add it to the first mixture, make into rolls about two inches in diameter and place in the ice box wrapped in waxed paper overnight. When ready to bake cut in thin slices and bake in a moderate oven about ten minutes.

PLUM PUDDING

Take one-half pound of kidney suet and chop fine or run through the meat grinder. Add to it a half a pound of California currants, half a pound of seeded raisins, one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of grated lemon rind, four cupfuls of bread crumbs, half a cupful of finely chopped candied citron, two tablespoonfuls of grated orange rind, one-third of a cupful of orange juice, one teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of mace, one-half teaspoonful of nutmeg, half a teaspoonful of allspice and a half a cupful of cider. Mix well and beat in one at a time four eggs and beat again. Fill buttered molds two-thirds full of the mixture, cover tightly, place on a rack in a kettle and have the water come up two-thirds of the way on the molds, boil for four hours, renewing the water as it boils away. Let stand in the molds for ten minutes, unmold, allow to become thoroughly cold, wrap in waxed paper and store in an air-tight tin. Before serving steam again for one hour. Serve with hard and orange sauce.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Artists to Aid School Musicians

That the programs of the symphonic orchestra which is now being organized by teachers of music in the public schools may become outstanding events of the winter season, a number of professional musicians will be included in its membership. Henry Svedrofsky, assistant conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra, will serve as conductor.

As announced by Louis W. Curtis, director-general of music for the Los Angeles city school district, members will meet for their first rehearsal at the Los Angeles Junior College the 13th inst. at 4:15 p.m. The Symphonia Praeceptorum is the name of the new organization.

Driveway Curb Marks Protested

Gasoline filling stations and parking stations are utilizing too much curb space for their driveways, Councilman Cooke contended yesterday in a resolution introduced in the City Council, which calls on the traffic engineer to make a survey and draft an ordinance regulating this situation with consideration both to the stations and to the public.

The resolution was referred to the Police Commission and to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

Both Products Now Fresher Thru Flavor-Protection Packing

No coffee but M·J·B is protected by Hi-Test Vacuum

ANOTHER PARALLEL SUCCESS IN MODERN FLAVOR-PROTECTION

Fresher bread is due to invention of the well known waxed paper Flavor-Protection method. Fresher coffee is due to invention of M.J.B.'s exclusive Hi-Test Vacuum Tin, a patented Flavor-Protection Method.

NO OTHER COFFEE is kept completely fresh just as M·J·B is. No other tin excludes air like the Hi-Test Vacuum Tin M·J·B's engineers invented. No other coffee can use this Hi-Test Vacuum Method.

M·J·B owns one of the nation's largest can factories to make these tins. M·J·B is alone among vacuum coffee packers in owning its own factory. It puts savings on tins into better quality coffee.

M·J·B scientifically blends and roasts the world's best coffees. The invention of a superior easy-opening key-type can with a special snug-fitting cover insures better PROTECTION of this fine, fresh flavor.

FLAVOR is everything in coffee. 50 years of coffee specialization developed the rarer, richer flavor of M·J·B. This permits using less of M·J·B than of ordinary coffees.

Ask your grocer today for a tin of M·J·B, the Flavor-Protected Coffee.

Hear M.J.B "Demi-Tasse Revue" every Wednesday, 8 to 8:30 p.m., over Columbia network.

when you buy sanitary pads specify Kotex

No sanitary pad can give you the same wonderful absorbency, perfect fit and lasting softness.

TAKE no unnecessary chances in this important matter of sanitary protection—specify Kotex.

Kotex—first of all sanitary pads—remains best of all sanitary pads. Every month, every year, scientists add details to perfect its comfort, to give you the feeling of being well groomed, at ease; to offer you inconspicuous protection.

First, its amazing absorbency

The absorbent of which Kotex is made—Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding—is unique. It is five times more absorbent than surgical cotton, by actual test. Five times more lasting for that very reason.

Kotex is guaranteed to last longer, to stay soft longer than any other sanitary pad.

It is not only soft and downy at first, but it remains that way even during use. Its comfort is lasting comfort.

Hospitals use it

Do you know that 85% of our leading hospitals use Kotex absorbent today? Yes, they specify Kotex, they insist on Kotex absorbent in cases where the utmost safety and delicacy are necessary.

You can have the very same sanitary care that world-famous hospitals give their patients. You should not be satisfied with anything less. Never is safety more vital, never is comfort more essential. Specify "Kotex." Accept nothing else.

Cooking Class to Make New Baked Dishes

Every woman who enjoys baking unusual dishes will come to the Los Angeles Times' free cooking school today and learn how to prepare a trio of delectable baked foods—one is Dutch biscuits, a rolled biscuit made with a filling of grated orange and lemon rind. Another novelty, especially suitable for a bridge luncheon, is a chocolate pecan wafer, and the third is a delicious cocoanut loaf cake. In addition Chef Wyman will prepare another "whole meal" dish that is unusually attractive as well as appetizing, veal and spaghetti in a ring mold, and she will complete the program with a pineapple pudding.

This class, which is held on the third floor of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, begins promptly at 2 p.m. and The Times invites everyone to attend.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Common-Sense Economizing

It is very difficult for the housewife who has to exercise care to keep down the food allowance to provide proper food for her family. The "greens" and fresh vegetables are so expensive while starches are very reasonable. The best plan is to cut down on the meats, substituting rice, macaroni, etc., and with these have the greens. They are much more beneficial than so much meat and not so expensive.

Miscellaneous Hints

Wash all uncooked fruit before using.

A paste of cold water and borax will remove chocolate stains.

Only experienced persons should install or repair electrical fixtures.

The juice of ripe cucumbers will remove vegetable stains from the hands.

Be sure to leave plenty of room for ventilation between lamp shades made of cloth or parchment and electric light bulbs.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BABIES DO SURVIVE BAD FEEDING, BUT PLAY SAFE

We often marvel at the feedings some children survive. It would seem that the mother were testing the child's ability by offering almost anything eatable, however indigestible or unsuited to a baby's diet.

A recent letter from a horrified neighbor outlined the diet that was being fed a 2-month-old child of her acquaintance. In addition to getting a formula that would be excessive for a 6-month-old child this helpless infant is being fed lime flavored candy drops (because the mother had heard that lime was good for babies!) was spending most of his daytime hours sucking on a nipple filled with honey and corked, and had already been regaled with pop and mashed potatoes. Two months old.

TOO BAD FOR BABY

If the child has the constitution capable of living after such mistreatment, the mother will be more than ever convinced that babies can be given anything. If he dies she will probably piously insist that he was called by the Lord.

To prevent mothers from making use of tabooed foods, we usually avoid mention of them. But we get such constant pleas to tell mothers what foods are unsuitable for children that we are appending a list. We trust that mothers will read this carefully and remember that for various reasons these foods put an unnecessary burden on the child's digestion. They are quite all right for adults.

FORBIDDEN FOODS

Do not feed young children pork, sausage, goose, duck, brains, kidneys or sweetbreads, salt or canned fish, dried beef or in general any kind of fried meats.

Do not give a young child hot rolls, biscuits, hot bread, hot cake or cake with nuts or dried fruits in it.

Do not give partially-cooked cereals.

Do not give rich preserves or rich puddings, hard cheeses, pies, pastry, salads (except with oil and lemon dressings of the simplest kind,) nuts or rich candies.

Do not give tea, coffee, chocolate, cider, pop, ginger ale or beer.

Do not give green fruits, or too-ripe fruits, or large amounts of any fruits containing quantities of seeds.

Do not give sweet corn or canned corn, dried peas or beans (except when boiled with soup and well strained,) cucumbers, radishes or pickles of any kind whatsoever.

This is a comparatively small list. When there are so many fruits and vegetables, simple cakes, cookies and puddings, the elimination of the above foods from the child's diet list entails no trouble whatever. Those listed are adult foods and children can understand readily that they do not wear adult clothes, do adult things or eat adult foods.

BRIG. BELL TO SPEAK AT MASS MEETING

Brig. James C. Bell, commanding officer of the Los Angeles and South Coast Division of the Salvation Army, will address a mass meeting of the Temple Corps at 832 West Ninth street Sunday night. Adjt. FRESH from the original vacuum pack. EASILY opened with the key. LOOK for the Arab on the can.

IF YOU see the Arab on a can of coffee, it's Hills Bros. Coffee. And that's the coffee to buy. For it is roasted a few pounds at a time—never in bulk—by Hills Bros.' patented, continuous process — Controlled Roasting. No other roasting method can produce such delicious, abundant flavor.

When you open a can of Hills Bros. Coffee it is just as fresh as when it came from the roasters. The vacuum can in which Hills Bros. Coffee is sold has all the air removed at the time of packing. By such complete exclusion of air, there is no chance for the rare flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee to be changed. No ordinary air-tight tin will keep coffee fresh.

Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

FARCEURS FROLIC AT PARAMOUNT

Capable Comics Support Clara Bow in Adaptation of Hopwood Play

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

It has the audience in stitches, this Avery Hopwood bedroom farce of another day, "Little Miss Bluebeard," transferred to the talking screen under the title of "Her Wedding Night" and showing this week at the Paramount Theater.

The reason why is perhaps not so much the presence of the attractive Miss Clara Bow in a more or less decorative role, but the presence of three capable young men, Ralph Forbes, Charles Ruggles and Skeets Gallagher. What that trio don't do to the old farce isn't worth mentioning.

They carry the brunt of the acting, that is, if you can designate the farcical and very funny antics in which they indulge as acting. They wisecrack, they prance about, they fall down, they sneak in and out of bedrooms (particularly Hr. Ruggles,) they engage in good old-fashioned burlesque, but they do so in such a generally suave and debonair manner that you just know they really do belong in the drawing room after all.

Ralph Forbes does a particularly nice piece of work. He photographs well and he performs well. The picture ought to do him a lot of good, as it reveals undoubted ability for clever characterization, even though his role is not the significant type.

Ruggles is called upon for most of the comedy, and most of the falls. He is his usual inebriated ingratiating self. Skeets Gallagher is good.

Miss Bow really hasn't a lot to do or to say, although one of her lines—"you see I'm an actress and I hate publicity"—brought down the house. I don't think it was the way she said it; it was what she said.

Geneva Mitchel, Rosita Moreno, Natalie Kingston, Wilson Benge and Lillian Elliott also have parts. Frank Tuttle directed and did a good job of injecting life and merriment into something that might easily have been passe.

Featured on the stage of the Paramount this week is Horace Heidt's Californian band.

The aggregation is comprised principally of former students of the University of California. Many of the boys are from Los Angeles. They proffered some good snappy tunes. There was a Paramount sound news reel, a comedy called "My Gal Sal," and Rubinoff conducting the Paramount orchestra in "Chanson Russe," the overture.

Million-Dollar Demand Puts Him in Lock-up

An asserted demand for $1,000,000 written in vigorous language, supposedly by Powell Catlett, 38 years of age, caused a stir yesterday at a bank at 639 South Spring street.

Detective Lieutenants Jones and Robertson, operating on rush orders from Chief of Detectives Taylor, escorted Catlett to the City Jail, where the following explanation was forthcoming:

Not long ago Catlett's wife's grandfather died, leaving a trust fund for Mrs. Catlett and her son, but not Catlett. This angered Mr. Catlett, it is charged, and he got to writing notes to the bank caring for the trust fund. The more he wrote and the less attention the bank paid to him, the more vexed he became, it is said, and the more he demanded.

A temporary charge of suspicion of extortion was lodged against him, but this will be changed to disturbing the peace, police said, if the bank will make a complaint. Catlett has been living at a hotel at Seventh and Main streets.

DUCKS' POISONER SOUGHT

Sheriff's office investigators are seeking to uncover a motive for the poisoning of 250 ducks owned by Mrs. Earl Mason of 1212 Mission Drive, Rosemead. The fowl, valued at $400, were found dead in their yard by Mrs. Mason.

NEW R.-K.-O. FILM ANNOUNCED

John Stahl Will Direct His Own Story for Universal; Kay Johnson Plays Feminine Lead in "Squaw Man;" Erwin and Green in Clara Bow Vehicle

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Now that "Office Wife" is such a success, it is to be expected that all the film concerns will rush into production with stories of love amid business surroundings. R.-K.-O. seems to be in the vanguard with this line, and romance that blossoms behind the closed doors of the work-a-day world of business constitute the theme of "Private Secretary," an original story soon to enter production at the R.-K.-O. studios.

JACK MULHALL

Announcement of its acquisition was made yesterday by William Le Baron, who also let us in on the fact that the story was written by Alan Brener Schultz.

No definite announcement of cast or director has been made, but it is rumored that Jack Mulhall will have the leading male role, and that Mel Brown will direct.

UNIVERSAL ASSIGNS STAHL TO STORY

John M. Stahl is not to be allowed to rest on his laurels won in his direction of "A Lady Surrenders."

Universal has just assigned him to guide another story, written by himself, the name and nature of which are in such embryonic stage at present that they are not ready to disclose.

This will be Stahl's second production under his newly signed contract with Universal.

Summerville's Narrow Escape

A very narrow escape from being blow to bits in a dynamite explosion was made yesterday by Slim Summerville, during the making of the Spanish version of "Oui, Oui, Marie" at Universal City.

The comedian was supposed to hurl a hand grenade into a set representing a building, and thus to blow it up. A charge of dynamite had been placed to explode, but giving time for Summerville to escape. Somehow the dynamite blast went off more quickly than was expected; Summerville saw a little puff, and made a flying leap into a shell hole near by, and at the same moment the set was blown to bits. A singed coat tail was the only damage suffered by Slim, other than the damage done to his nerves.

KAY JOHNSON PLAYS "SQUAW MAN" LEAD

If all goes as planned by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Cecil B. De Mille, Kay Johnson will play the leading feminine role in "The Squaw Man" which De Mille is to direct as soon as his injured foot is well enough to permit him to leave the hospital.

KAY JOHNSON

Miss Johnson at present is distinguishing herself by her appearance in "Madam Satan" at the Criterion. The role which she will play in "The Squaw Man" is an equally exacting one.

Comics With Clara Bow

Two comedians will help to bolster up the humorous end of Clara Bow's next Paramount picture, "No Limit," according to announcement made yesterday by B. P. Schulberg.

Harry Green and Stuart Erwin are the comedians in question. Both will have important roles in the picture.

Erwin formerly appeared with Miss Bow in "Dangerous Curves," distinguishing himself as an excellent fun-maker.

Zelma O'Neal in Show

It looks now as though fate is conspiring to keep Zelma O'Neal and her husband, Anthony Bushell, apart for many months.

Miss O'Neal has just been signed by Messrs. Gaensler and Green, theatrical producers, for a new musical show to be put on in New York, opening in November and not yet titled. Bushell, on the other hand, is remaining in the West for pictures.

'MIGNON' BRINGS EFFECTIVE CAST

Thomas Opera Stars Mario Clairbert, Gigli

Individual Hits Won by All the Principal Singers

Settings and Direction Attain Excellent Impression

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

Light, graceful and with some of its music very familiar, Ambroise Thomas's "Mignon" was presented by the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association as one of the most pleasing productions during their entire series. An unusually well-balanced cast was heard in this work of the romantic French school, Beniamino Gigli, Clare Clairbert and Queen Mario undertaking the principal roles, with Ezio Pinza and Elinor Marlo prominent in the moviesque plot.

"Mignon" might almost be classed as a Ciderella opera. Its happy ending, with the long-suffering heroine restored to her rightful aristocratic heritage, would justify that description. Then, too, she is rescued by the stalwart hero, when flames menace her life, and she has to compete with a vampish and intriguing rival.

The opera has long been an absentee hereabouts. Probably a full twenty years have elapsed since its last presentation.

"Mignon" requires real singing. The opera is a succession of airs, duets and ensembles. A tasteful presenting of all these numbers from a musical standpoint is what the work most demands. Not a few of its many set pieces are downright exacting, and the Titania Polonaise is true vocal fireworks.

Miss Mario, as the heroine, seemed very ideally cast, and early won her audience with her expressive rendition of "Connais-tu-le pays?" the well-worn "Knows Thou That Sweet Land?" It was well modulated sensitive singing by her of this commonplace that endowed it with a particularly attractive character.

The most prolonged outburst of applause for any of the opera's numerous individual numbers rewarded Clare Clairbert's Polonaise, "Je Suis Titania," difficult and florid excerpt, which she rendered with ease and rare technical finish. It is a great pity that this singer's tone quality does not always match her superb technique. She would be a super-dazzler among coloraturas. He interpretation of the role had a nice abandon.

Gigli, of course, receives a handsome recognition for his Adieu to Mignon and also his final act aria. The artistic seal might be placed irremovably upon all his singing during the evening, and again the fine pianissimo effects he attained were a gratification.

In most ways, though, it was Miss Mario's evening. The ovations for her when she came before the curta'n alone were notably reverberant.

Gigli, as usual, was shy about taking the bow alone. Clairbert received huge applause after the garden scene.

Some remarkably fine work was done by Pinza in both the group numbers, and in the solo in the last act. Sincerity distinguished his portrayal, and also his singing. Miss Mario was approved for the Gavotte.

Wilfred Pelletier's conducting was a material factor in the appeal of the opera, and chorus and ballet contributed to its interest.

This production of "Mignon" was a notably enjoyable one. The settings were generally excellent.

The opera season draws to a close with "The Girl of the Golden West," Maria Jeritza in the title role, Saturday evening, and "Lucia," Monday evening, with Claire Clairbert. The tenor, Frederick Jagel, heard so far only in "Cavalleria," sings in both operas.

STAR WILL APPEAR AT DOWNTOWN

Loretta Young Plans to Greet Patrons of "Road to Paradise"

In connection with the opening of "Road to Paradise" at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater today, Loretta Young, who has the leading role, will appear in person on the stage.

In this First National and Vitaphone Production, Miss Young plays, for the first time, a dual role. She portrays twin sisters who are separated at birth, one raised by crooks in the underworld, and the other in wealth. In the supporting cast are Jack Mulhall, Raymond Hatton, Purnell Pratt and Fred Kelsey.

The story was adapted to the screen from the stage play, "Cornered," by Didson Mitchell, and directed by William Beaudine.

FILM FUN PROFFERED AT LOEW'S

'Those Three French Girls' Enacted by Fifi Dorsay and Other Notables

BY JOHN SCOTT

Those three French girls constitute the main appeal of the picture which started yesterday on the screen of Loew's State Theater. The young ladies rattle off French at a rapid rate and English occasionally, all the while displaying the large amount of vivacity and personality usually accredited to Gallic individuals.

"Those Three French Girls" is comedy, some of which is quite broad, almost slapstick, but entertaining for the most part. There are no serious characterizations. Even the butler reaps his share of laughs.

The story is of no great import, serving as a means to bring together the three girl, the Englishman, his uncle, Earl of Ippleton, and the two Americans, who have returned to France to recall their war days and to see if it is still raining.

A rapid tempo is maintained throughout the production, which is, incidentally, essential. Otherwise, the situations in which the principals find themselves might seem rather stupid.

Some of the amusing scenes reveal the three girls, the two Americans and the Englishman in jail; a rehearsal for a wedding, in which Larry persuades the Earl that he should not marry Charmaine, and the rainy night spent in a barn.

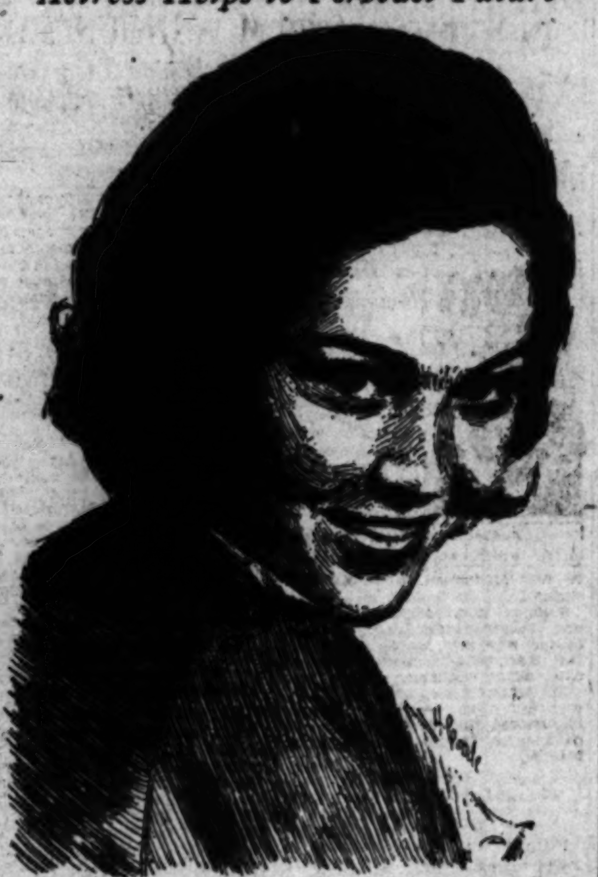
Fifi Dorsay, Yola D'Avril and Sandra Ravel portray the three French modistes in vivacious fashion. They are the exact images of what most Americans would imagine three French modistes to be. Their wide-eyed astonishment at the rough and ready Americans and the "Oh, I say" Englishman is charming yet at the same time brings a smile.

Reginald Denny is the Englishman. His role approaches burlesque at times, especially when he waxes enthusiastic in the Claud Allister manner. When he drops this type of characterization, which he does at times in the picture, he is more effective. The two Americans are realized by Cliff Edwards and Edward Brophy, the former plucking away at his famous ukulele with spirit every now and then. These two comedians have some of the more humorous lines of the farce. George Grossmith is the Earl of Ippleton and is good. Peter Gawthorne has his innings as the butler.

The original story of "Those Three French Girls" is credited jointly to Dale Van Every, Arthur Freed and Richard Schayer, the last two named having something also to do with the music and lyrics. P. G. Wodehouse did the dialogue and Harry Beaumont directed.

The stage show has the "Official United States Indian Reservation Band" in the star spot. The redskins supply some tuneful selections. Brenck's Golden Horse is seen again, and Muriel Gardner leads the Albertina Rasche girls. Rube Wolf and band are in the pit.

Actress Helps to Forecast Future



Maureen O'Sullivan

Plays a prominent part in "Just Imagine," a musical film which is built upon events as they might happen many years hence. The picture will have a gala premiere at the Carthay Circle Theater tonight.

"PAY OFF" SCREENED AT R.-K.-O.

Lowell Sherman Portrays Chief Role in Melodrama as Suave Gangster

BY ELENA BOLAND

Suave, smooth and with a flair for elegance, comes the politics of gang law to the R.-K.-O. screen this week. The hand of ancient melodrama is heavy in the construction of this rehabilitated play, which, however, was fresh from the pens of the Messrs. Shipman and Hymer as recently as three years ago. The authors called it "Crime" and under that title it served to exit the drama from the President Theater this last season. Now, among other changes, it is known as "The Pay Off," directed by and starred in by Lowell Sherman.

The hero, Fenmore, which Sherman has chosen for himself, is the happy combination of gentleman, crook (the brainy kind, no guns) and Sir Galahad under the skin. He enters doorways with a gesture and leaves with an air; he is quiet and cool, with nerves of steel and a great big heart. He is, in short, the type of man actors love to play, and Sherman plays him with all that poise and finesse for which he is justly known.

But Lowell Sherman's facility in direction is not yet pliable enough to break the bonds of stage tradition. He has taken a play and moved it about with a camera and that is all. His fondness for close-ups is an aggravation, especially as most of these are devoted to the changing expressions of the heroic Gene Fenmore.

The story, which has to do with a gang of crooked mental giants, had as its original climax the trial of Fenmore by his henchmen for the murder of Rocky, a likely bandit, but a trifle yellow. In the picture this trial is only just begun when it is suddenly stopped by the arrival of the police. The point should be Fenmore's acquittal, but that remains utterly untouched, so that the ending, which is the same, carries none of the sacrifice intended.

Supporting Sherman is a large and excellent cast whose work does much to raise the standard of the story. Hugh Trevor has the thoroughly disagreeable role of Rocky and plays it with a force and skill to be commended.

Marion Nixon and William Janney are equally competent as the youthful and innocent victims of the gang. Their romantic quality and humor are delightful.

Then there are George Marion, as a quaint old duffer called Mouse; Helene Millard, Walter McGrail, Alan Roscoe, Lita Chevret and Robert McWade, whose talents are all outstanding.

On the stage as a special attraction appear Bill Sharples and his gang in a rather populous skit which sets to music the beauties of the Southland and the West. Two gentlemen sing each one's praises until a horse is brought in to decide the winner.

Other numbers are Casa and Lehn in "The Hollywood Rush," a satire on the town; Ward and Van, "The Vagabonds with a Comedy Note," and another humorous bit by Alice and Sonny Lamont.

MACK DOES THINGS

Russell Mack, Pathe director, has a reputation for getting things done the way he wants them. This was recently shown on the set of "Big Money," a Pathe special which Mack is directing, when he actually played a "bit" before the camera. Being dissatisfied with the work of an extra after repeated rehearsals, Mack is said to have borrowed a coat and done the scene himself.

NARRATIVE OF INDIANS WELL TOLD

"Silent Enemy" Reveals Poignant and Beautiful Story on Screen

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

With a simplicity that approaches greatness, the story of the North American Indian is told today on the screen at the Million Dollar Theater. The effort, an independent venture, backed by some wealthy New Yorkers, is called "The Silent Enemy." Paramount, privileged to release it, names W. Douglas Burden and William C. Chandler as producers, H. P. Carver as director, Julius Johnson as titler.

"The Silent Enemy" is silent. Yet like that superlative record of Byrd's flight which the same company sponsored a few months ago, this film possesses a beauty whose vividness is enhanced by a synchronized score, whose appeal is profound, whose identity is complete without the utterance of a single syllable. Only in a brief preface does one hear the chief of the Ojibways, dedicating the picture to posterity. It is enough.

The hostile force of the title is hunger, its application the long march of a sturdy, superstitious race from Northern Canada into the region of the subarctic. That the oldest of movie narratives is employed to give point to the larger background of man and the elements detracts not at all from the general effect, which is one of freshness and a sharp poignancy throughout. The actors seem unaware of the camera's nearness, and the animals are.

Only passingly may one touch on the episodes which are there, clear as life, at the Million Dollar: the shooting of the rapids, and its bear-cub sequel; the hunt for deer and moose and caribou; the threat of the wolverine, and the coming of the chill north wind; the vigil of Chetoga, the chief, in communion with the great Manitou; the rip and tear of conflict between a bear and a mountain lion; and finally the crossing of the caribou, a "stupendous horde" which cuts a jagged swath in its mad stampede down the barrens. Here are photographs scarcely retouched, and a grand thrill.

The romantic leads are portrayed by Chief Long Lance and Spotted Elk, the "menace"—a bad medicine man—by Chief Akawanush, and Chetoga by Chief Yellow Robe; from which one gleans that the only Ojibways who are not chiefs are women. But they are all good actors, and so we cannot begrudge them the distinction. Little Cheeka, son of the big chief, poses naturally for his picture, too.

If you seek something which the talkies do not give you, if you crave the adventure of strange lands and high empires, go to see the Indians of "The Silent Enemy." For, once among them, you will find that their hunger is your meat.

Jack Laughlin stages an eleven-unit act, the title of which may be deciphered after diligent application as "Montmartre Madness." Well, perhaps it is, perhaps it is. Certainly the program is substantially correct in reading, "Thirty dancers all in action—each one doing a separate distinct routine at the same time."

"DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY"

CONDEMNATION VERDICT GIVEN

Wilshire Boulevard Awards Total $655,432

Money Will Go to Owners of Four Parcels Hearing of Several Other Suits Under Way

Ending a series of jury trials in suits to condemn property for the widening of Wilshire Boulevard immediately west of Figueroa street, a verdict returned before Superior Judge Burnell yesterday awards property owners $655,432 for four tracts.

Of this amount, $369,000 will go to the owners of the Rex Arms Apartments; $19,000 for land, $75,000 for improvements, and $275,000 for severance damages. Owners of another tract are to get $232,297 for a piece of property their appraisers said is worth $496,732, and which city appraisers valued at $184,577.

Testimony in the case revealed that one piece of property near Wilshire and Figueroa, now valued at nearly $500,000, has been in the hands of its present owners since 1885, when it was purchased for $11,000.

Several more Wilshire-widening suits, tried without juries, are being heard in Judge Burnell's court, and will occupy the court's time for several weeks, it is stated, unless the owners and city officials effect compromises. Four such compromises were made last week, avoiding four long, tedius trials.

The Wilshire widening project eventually will result in an eighty-foot roadway from the East Side to Ocean avenue in Santa Monica. The problems of extending Wilshire Boulevard through the business district east of Grand avenue, and completing the gap at Westlake Park, remain to be solved.

Latest Modes for Tiny Misses Displayed With Histrionic Ability

Modes for the young miss from about the time she takes her first step until she reaches the mature age of 8 years or thereabouts, were the feature of a fashion revue yesterday afternoon in the Ambassador ballroom, given in connection with the annual two-day exhibit of the Assistance League Exchange in the Indian Room of the hotel.

Fourteen demure daughters of the motion-picture colony, all less than 8 years of age, under the direction of Mrs. John Ford and Mrs. Todd Browning, served as models and tripped with all the aplomb in the world across the stage, displaying school frocks, play clothes, pajamas and party dresses, all of which are made in the workrooms of the Assistance League Community House at 5904 De Longpre avenue.

The children taking part included Gloria and Peggy Lloyd, Loris Niblo, Barbara Ford, Barbara Bushman, Karon Hale, Susanne Ellsbach, Marjorie Stratton, Patricia Beardsley, Barbara Blue, Thomasina Mix, Patricia and Paula Schertzinger and Florine Harris.

The Assistance League Exchange, directed by Mrs. Arthur Bumiller, was started about a year and a half ago when workrooms where all manner of fine sewing might be done, were opened in Community House. Employment is given to seventy-five women who have to be self-supporting, the materials are supplied by the exchange and all work is done under supervision. The things made include all sorts of gift articles, children's clothes, lounging robes, lingerie and such. All of the work is done by hand and the finished articles are on display in Community House all of the time.

The exhibit at the Ambassador will continue throughout today, with another children's fashion show during the afternoon. Members of the league serve as hostesses and Mrs. Bumiller is assisted by Mrs. Alphonzo Bell and Mrs. Eugene Consigny, as vice-chairman.

WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE

Benjamin F. Taylor tried to send his wife back to her relatives, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor testified at her divorce trial in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday, so she concluded he wouldn't mind if she sued him for divorce. Judge Fleming gave Mrs. Taylor a decree, and awarded her $200 a month alimony for the support of herself and two children.

DEATH BATTLE INQUIRY ENDS

Verdict in Mushaney Slaying Given by Inquest Jury

Officer Found to Have Lost His Life in Line of Duty

Killing of Lopez Declared Justifiable Homicide

Death from gunshot wounds sustained in the performance of his duties.

Thus did a Coroner's jury yesterday afternoon bring to a close official investigation into the gun battle last Tuesday at San Fernando which cost the life of Sergt. Benjamin W. Mushaney of the San Fernando Police Department, resulted in the critical wounding of a woman and the death of Mushaney's slayer from the bullets of a posse.

Inquiry into Mushaney's death and that of Arviso Lopez, 72 years of age, his killer, was conducted at the undertaking parlors of Paschall & Gault in San Fernando by Deputy Coroner Kane. The jury's verdict set forth that Mushaney's death resulted from gunshot wounds inflicted by Lopez with homicidal intent.

WITNESSES HEARD

Witnesses who testified were John P. Mushaney of Azusa, brother of the dead officer, who identified the body; Miguel Arviso, husband of the wounded woman, who was shot in the groin as she fled from Lopez, and Police Chief Grady and Officer Wallace of the San Fernando Police Department.

Testimony revealed that the shooting was precipitated when Arviso sought the return of a part of $8 he had paid Lopez three days before for the rental of a small house at 1343 Hollister street, after Lopez is asserted to have attempted to attack Mrs. Arviso the night previous.

HISTORY OF CASE

Mushaney was fatally shot by Lopez when he went to the house in answer to a call and Mrs. Arviso was wounded when she sought to flee. After barricading himself in the house and firing at other police officers, Lopez was driven into the open when Deputy Sheriff Schottmiller exploded a tear bomb in the house at the risk of his own life.

Mushaney was 30 years of age and leaves his widow and two small children. Funeral services in charge of the Elks' Lodge will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the San Fernando Presbyterian Church. The services will be followed by burial in the Oakwood Cemetery in Chatsworth.

The death certificate of Lopez was signed by Deputy Coroner Kane as justifiable homicide. At the undertaking parlors it was stated that funeral arrangements are being held in abeyance pending word from a relative in Texas.

Stenographer Who Wed Boss Wants Divorce

Gilbert F. Wyvell, attorney, was divorced from his wife and married his stenographer two years ago, and now the stenographer, Mrs. Muriel Wyvell, is suing for divorce herself.

According to the petition, Wyvell owed his wife $200 for stenographic services, then gave her an automobile but neglected to make over the pink slip. She is asking for the car.

Mrs. Hazeltine Wyvell obtained a divorce in 1926 on grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Muriel Wyvell married the defendant a year later.

SIMONS IN MORE TROUBLE

Man Facing Two Grand Theft Charges Must Pay $1445 Alimony or Go to Road Camp

Unless Joe T. Simons deposits a total of $1445 within the next two months to insure payment of $80 monthly toward the support of his minor children, he must spend the next two years in the county road camp, Municipal Judge Eagan ordered yesterday.

Deputy City Prosecutor Ida V. Wells, after telling Judge Eagan that Simons has been in court several times on the same complaint, pleaded that he be sent to work on the road camp. "This man never does anything to help his children until the court forces him to," she said. "We have never had a man in the court who deserved a road-camp sentence as much as this one."

City Probation Officer Berry said that Simons, granted probation two years ago, had visited the probation office only once during that time, and never advanced money for his children's support as ordered by the court. He is $205 in arrears on payments, Berry said.

Simons's attorney, Paul Tapley, said that his client was ready to deposit $100 immediately, and would make any other deposit required by the court to insure payment, an offer which Judge Eagan accepted, also ordering him to deposit an additional $345 by the 15th inst., and $1000 more by December 1, next.

Simons, who is at liberty on $10,000 bail pending preliminary hearing on grand-theft charges on the 21st inst., was arraigned before Municipal Judge Stafford yesterday on an additional charge of grand theft of $225 from T. C. Clark, 4408 West Second street. Judge Stafford set preliminary hearing for the 21st inst. and ordered him released without additional bail.

Now Wife Can Buy Lean Meat

Mrs. Cora McCoy could eat no fat, according to her testimony in Superior Judge Hanby's court yesterday, but her husband, Charles L. McCoy, always provided fat meat for the table.

This situation led to awkward complications, Mrs. McCoy said, since she didn't get much to eat. The couple have been living together to save alimony overhead, pending their divorce.

The court ordered McCoy to pay his wife $20 a week, and now Mrs. McCoy will do her own meat marketing.

CAFE NEWS

Advance reservations for the gala premiere of Eddie Cantor at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, next Monday night, forecast a brilliant gathering of stage and screen notables. This will be Cantor's first and only appearance in a cafe, and his engagement is limited to one week. Olsen announces a $5 dinner-dance for the premiere. Thereafter an added feature will be a dinner show nightly at 8 o'clock, with no cover charge until 10 o'clock. The combination of Eddie Cantor plus an elaborate revue, with Olsen and his music, noted principals and beautiful show girls, assumes the caliber of a regular Broadway musical show. In staging the numbers for the new show, the Mosconi Brothers, dancing stars, selected a chorus of sixteen youthful Hollywood girls, the pick of the studios.

WEEMS MAKES BOW

With many notables present to witness their western debut, Ted Weems and his Victor recording orchestra made their premiere appearance in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt last night. Coincident with their opening the Blossom Room was given its first showing following complete redecoration in an ultra scheme of green, silver and black and featuring the blossom motif in an unusual and handsome decorative scheme. Weems and his group, who are henceforth to be heard nightly in the supper room, are to feature a number of special nights regularly during their engagement, which is to be an indefinite one. Outstanding among these will be "celebrity nights" on Mondays and "collegiate night" every Friday.

MUSSO BACK HOME

In order to correct misleading statements, Joseph Musso, of Musso & Frank Grill, Hollywood, wishes it understood that his cafe interests are individual and centered solely in the Hollywood location, having been located at the same address for ten years. After a vacation in Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Musso are back greeting their old friends and now personally suggesting tasty foods.

ARTISTS AT CAFE

Peluffo's Casa di Pranso, quaint Italian and Spanish cafe on Olvera street, this week has as guest artists Luis Frondi, baritone, and Nelita Capucetti, soprano. They will present several numbers in Italian, Spanish and English. Luis Frondi is known as the man who laughs, having made a record of his laughing song. This week's program will feature a Columbus Day celebration planned for next Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

COUGARS IN SHAPE FOR TILT

Hollingbery Reports All Athletes Ready; Wet Field Almost Certain

PULLMAN (Wash.) Oct. 9.—Washington State's football warriors will be in perfect condition for the battle with Southern California next Saturday unless something entirely unexpected occurs. Even the hard contest last week with California did not batter up the players and they returned here last Monday without a casualty. Since then Coach Hollingbery has been giving them some tough workouts until he tapered off today. He says his boys are fit and they certainly look it.

La Verne Faces Caltech in Pasadena Tomorrow

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

The football championship of the Southern California Conference is liable to be at stake tonight in the Rose Bowl, when the Oxy Tigers and the Whittier Poets collide in the feature clash of the four conference struggles listed for this week-end.

CAPT. JERRY CHAPPELL

Both the Poets and Occidental are early season favorites in the championship race and tonight's encounter will in all possibility eliminate one of them from the running. A close battle is expected with the game called for 8 o'clock.

Santa Barbara State makes the trip to Redlands tonight in an endeavor to trounce the up and coming Bulldogs, but Coach Leo Trines's outfit should be too heavy for the Roadrunners.

Tomorrow afternoon Lee Eisan makes his debut in conference ranks when the La Verne Leopards take on the Caltech Engineers at Tournament Park. Coach "Fox" Stanton is looking forward to a hard bat-

CITY PREP LOOP STARTS

L. A. High and Manual Arts Tangle in Feature Tilt of Opening Schedule; Toilers Picked

With threatening rain clouds hovering overhead, twelve City League elevens are ready for the opening round of play to begin this afternoon in the enlarged and rejuvenated local prep circuit.

With a strong possibility of the winner going on to take the championship, the L.A. High Romans and the Manual Arts Toilers tangle on Wilson Field in the feature battle.

CLARK de GROOT

Preseason dope is strongly in favor of Coach Jim Blewett's charges, but the Romans surprised the dopesters last season, and may have something up their sleeve again this year.

However, the Toilers will go on the field a two-touchdown favorite to win, their powerful line being the main reason for the Artisan optimism.

Five other games are scheduled for the first round, with the Roosevelt-Jefferson struggle looming as the best of the lot. While Coach Clark De Groot's Rough Riders are the logical choice to win, Harry Edelson in his debut as a football coach at Jefferson is likely to surprise the pickers.

Not much has been written about the Democrats this season, but if spirit and willingness count for anything, Edelson will come close to the top this year. Harry attended Jefferson not so many years back and he has quite a hold on the students, every man on the squad looking on the former Trojan backfield ace as a demigod.

Anyway, no matter how you look

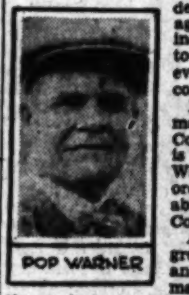
Minnesota Fans Expect Stanford to Score Decisive Win Over Gophers in Minneapolis Tilt Tomorrow; Midwestern Squad Plans Fast Attack

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Oct. 9. (Exclusive)—Leland Stanford University's veteran football eleven is expected to "put on a show" when it meets Minnesota here Saturday. The show will go as far as the Gophers, who suffered humiliating defeat from Vanderbilt a week ago, will permit. Just what the inexperienced local eleven may do to prevent that show is not known even by the Gophers or their coaching staff.



POP WARNER

HARLOW ROTHERT

Pop Warner, Stanford coach, is making his first visit from the Coast in Big Ten territory. That is why local opinion is that Warner will "shoot the works" in order to leave in this vicinity an abiding impression of Pacific Coast football.

Against Stanford's seasoned aggregation Minnesota will present an eleven in which no first-string man is playing in the same position as last year. Its line averages 187 pounds with its backfield 170 pounds.

Yet the Gophers are at their practice field daily receiving their final scrimmage, not with the intention of playing a defensive game against the invaders, but with the idea of launching an attack of their own that will get them into the scoring column by running plays and passes, forward and lateral. That was the offense taught this afternoon while the linemen, especially tackles and ends, were receiving pointers on how to meet Stanford slashes off and inside tackle.

These pointers were relayed to the squad from information supplied by Dr. Albert Boles, now a practicing physician, who came on from the Coast for that very purpose. Dr. Boles, when at Minnesota, was Boles Rosenthal, captain and center on the 1914 eleven.

Physically, the Gopher line looks well. An observer could not judge the worth of the backs from practice drill.

Harlow Rothert and company will arrive tomorrow morning and the players will be whisked to the Lafayette Club at Lake Minnetonka, seventeen miles distant, for quiet. They will return in the afternoon for a signal drill at Minnesota Stadium at which a crowd of 50,000 is expected to be present Saturday.

MACK WILL KEEP SAME LINE-UP NEXT SEASON

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9. (AP)—Connie Mack, five times winner of the world's baseball championship, said today the Athletics next year would try for their ninth American League pennant and sixth world title with virtually the same team.

MAJOR LEAGUERS TO HOLD DRAFT MEETING TODAY

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9. (AP)—The question of universal draft, which the two major baseball leagues wish to apply upon players of the minors, will be threshed out in conference here tomorrow at an assemblage of officials of the organizations.

Officials of the International and Pacific Coast leagues, and the American Association will hold a preliminary session to decide a policy regarding the draft and then lay it before big-league officials. Officers of the American Association met here today to decide upon a line of action which they will propose to the other minors tomorrow.

The American and National leagues wish to draft players from the minors when the players reach major-league caliber. The minors have held to the limited draft under which they hold a player if they do not wish to sell him even though he has reached major-league caliber.

The minor-league policy, the majors maintain, cuts off many good players from advancement.

The session tomorrow will be a reception for Connie Mack, manager of the world title-holding Athletics, who arrived here tonight from Philadelphia. Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, czar of baseball, will also attend.

SERIES ARCH-ENEMIES TO TEAM UP IN VAUDEVILLE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9. (AP)—The arch enemies of the 1930 world series are going on the stage. Burleigh Grimes, belligerent star spitball pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Mickey Cochrane, scrappy catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, have arranged for a vaudeville tour, it was learned today. The always confident Burleigh confidently declared he can be an actor and said Cochrane can handle a saxophone almost as good as he does baseballs back of home plate. Grimes and Mickey, who barked at each other throughout the series and received much publicity because of the feud, patched up their differences before the Macks took the sixth game and the series yesterday at Philadelphia.

Johnny Lamar Favored to Beat Bobby La Salle Tonight at Hollywood Legion Stad

LIGHTWEIGHTS IN SPOTLIGHT

Good Stiff Club Fight Looms at Film City Arena

Palacious and Offerman Mix in Semi-Wind-up Clash

BOBBY LA SALLE

Bobby La Salle and Johnny Lamar, main eventers at the Hollywood Legion stadium tonight need no introduction to the Film City fight fans. They are local boys, but have a reputation of being good two-fisted fighters and as game as they come. Lamar, the Mexican, has always been classed a notch higher in the fight racket than La Salle. Lamar will be the favorite. He wants to win so he can get in the running with Cecil Payne, Hector McDonald and Goldie Hess, the best lightweights in California today. Payne is fighting Ignatio Fernandes in the main event next week and Lamar wants the winner of that fight.

Hollywood fight fans have always shown a preference for club fighters. Reputations do not cut much ice with the regulars. They want an evening's entertainment and most often the preliminary fighters are the ones who save the show. Bobby La Salle and Johnny Lamar have grown up in the fight game around Los Angeles. Their style and ability is as well known to the fight fans as it possibly could be. The La Salle-Lamar match is considered a hot shot for Hollywood and an unusually good fight is expected.

Backing up the main event will be four bouts that should be interesting. Teddy Palacious and Sammy Offerman, lightweights, are in the semi-wind-up. Palacious is yet to reach his best form. The boy is in the process of development and on the form he has shown to date it looks as though he should beat Offerman. Sammy is no sucker, but Teddy has enough on the ball to win the duke.

Middleweights who can sock and are willing mixers will be in the special event. Johnny DeCoursey fights Jack Tremaine. DeCoursey looks like the winner. He has had many fights in and around Los Angeles and should have an edge over Tremaine.

The second spot fighters are heavyweights. They are total strangers to Hollywood fans. Jack Gelvone fights Jack Dunsmith. There is no choice. Tony Ross opens the show with Max Morgan. Ross looks like a good boy and will be the favorite.

Loyola Frosh Eleven Meets San Bernardino

Averaging approximately 188 pounds to the man, Coach Sam Dagley's Loyola University freshman football team is all prepared to start its 1930 schedule tonight when it meets the strong San Bernardino Junior College eleven.

The Loyola yearlings show much promise with such men as Jack Strutzel, Bach and Breslin from last year's Poly High eleven holding down positions on the heavy squad. Other candidates of note are Bill Rich, a fullback from Whittier; Breusseau, a halfback from Alhambra; Kilitsky, an all-State man from South Dakota, and Johnson, a center from L. A. High.

Dagley's eleven uses the Notre Dame system and already have a smooth offensive attack. The line-up for the game tonight, which will be played under the arc lights at San Bernardino, is as follows:

Loyola		San Bernardino
Strutzel	L.E.R.	Pearson
Ward	L.T.R.	Quile
Casey	L.G.R.	Cisco
Johnson	C.	Brause
Kennedy	R.G.L.	Ferini

Bach	R.E.L.	Velman
Breslin	Q.	Ferraris
Breusseau	R.H.L.	Goodwin
Atkinson	L.H.R.	Barrenn
Rich	F.	Houser

Loyola substitutes: Pantalone, e.; Ashen, t.; Hastanchbury, t.; Magnus, c.; Atherton, g.; McGrath, t.; Del Valle, e.; Adams, q.; Baby, h.; Neal, h.; McBride, f.

San Bernardino: Cory, Evans, Schaefer, Murphy, Mangrove, Berk, Jacoby.

BELMONT LIGHTIES TROUNCE FRANKLIN

Coach Clarence Ebers's Belmont High School lightweight football team opened the league season yesterday by defeating the Franklin Class B eleven by the score of 6 to 0. Duncan scored the touchdown in the opening minutes of play on a 10-yard jaunt around end, and the game ended with the ball on the Franklin 3-yard line in the Hilltoppers' possession. The game was played at Belmont.

The line-ups:

Belmont (6)		Franklin (0)

FELIX TO RIDE FOR YELLOW JACKET FOUR

Strengthened by the addition of Winslow B. Felix at No. 3, the Yellow Jackets will face the Whites Sunday in another fast polo tilt carded for the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club.

Buddy DuBrock, the regular No. 3 for the Jackets, tore several ligaments in his knee in last week's tussle and will be confined to the side lines for at least two weeks. Felix, however, is a great player and should aid his team considerably.

IN SPOTLIGHT AGAIN

At least Johnny Lamar will be tonight at the Hollywood Legion Stadium where he fights Bad Boy Bobby La Salle in a scheduled ten-round bout. Lamar, veteran Mexican, has been performing around local rings since the four-round days. He recently was beaten by Goldie Hess but he figures he will get back in the limelight again if he whips La Salle tonight.

LELIVELT SIGNS NEW CONTRACT

popular leader and won over a lot of fans to the Cherub cause.

In announcing that Lelivelt had been signed to a two-year contract, Prexy Patrick said that he was more than pleased with the way Jack had handled the Seraphs. He ought to be, anyway, for Lelivelt piloted the Angels to victory in the first half of this year's race and then led them to second place in the last half despite the fact that injuries deprived the club of the services of Johnny Moore, Carl Dittmar and Frank Sigafoos, three of the Seraphs' star players, for quite a period of time.

Last season Lelivelt had the Angels on top of the heap in the second half until the Chicago Cubs recalled the club's heavy-hitting first sacker, Slug Tolson. Minus Tolson's punch and with the infield broken up, the Angels finished third behind Hollywood and the Missions.

During last winter Lelivelt engineered the trades and purchases that made the Angels pennant contenders. The Angels and Stars open the play-off series for the championship at Wrigley Field a week from Wednesday.

Showers yesterday morning caused the postponement of the scheduled double-header between the Seattle Indians and Angels. Another twin bill is carded for today with the opener starting at 1:30. Art Delaney and Berly Horne are slated to pitch for the Seraphs, while Rudy Kallio and Paul Zahniser are expected to be on the mound for the Tribe.

The Angels will be minus the services of their stellar shortstop, Carl Dittmar, for the rest of this series and possibly for part of next week's series against Hollywood. Dittmar is suffering from a compound fracture of the nose as a result of being hit on the proboscis by a bad-bounding ball from Dutch Holland's bat in the second game of Wednesday's double-header.

BEVERLY HILLS WINS

The Beverly Hills class Cee football team scored a 19-to-0 victory over the Van Nuys eleven yesterday in a game staged on the latter's field. Kuhn was responsible for all three of the Tartars' touchdowns. A ninety-five-yard run back of a punt for a touchdown by Kuhn was the highlight of the game.

CATHEDRAL PLAYS INGLEWOOD TODAY

Cathedral tackles Inglewood High in a practice game today. The game will be played on the Sentinels' field. Cathedral opened its schedule last week with a 7-0 victory over El Segundo. Inglewood won its opener against Santa Barbara.

ROMANS MEET MANUAL TODAY

at it, the Rough Riders are in for a tough afternoon.

The four other battles find Hollywood and Poly meeting at L.A. High with the Mechanics given the edge. Frank Hess's Franklin Panthers travel to Belmont for a tussle with Sid Witherow's Hilltoppers. Last season Belmont dropped a practice game to the Panthers by a 20-0 score and Witherow is out for revenge today. Whether he will get it is another matter. The two elevens are pretty well matched.

Jim Tunney, Lincoln coach, like Edelson, is making his debut in the varsity class. The Tigers meet Hugh Welch's Fairfax Colonials on the Hollywood High field. Lincoln is given a slight edge, although Fairfax has shown up well in its practice contests.

The last game on the list finds George Dirckx's Fremont Pathfinders taking on the weak Garfield Bulldogs on the Garfield field. The Pathfinders should win easily.

Three other prep circuits get underway this afternoon, while one, the Coast loop starts tomorrow. The trio opening today are the Marine, the San Gabriel and the Orange county loops.

The San Fernando Valley League got off to an early start last week and will play the second round this afternoon.

Tennis Stars in Exhibitions

Five of Southern California's leading net luminaries will take part in a series of exhibition matches which will offically open the Hollywood Tennis Courts, in North Hollywood Sunday.

Ellsworth Vines, new Trojan ace, who won the recent Pacific-Southwest tournament, Helen Marlowe, also of S.C., who paired with Vines to take the mixed doubles in the same tournament, Jack Tidball, U.C.L.A. star; Dorothy Workman, Southern California junior champion, and Lester Stoefen of the L.A.A.C., will play. The courts are located on North Vista.

THEBAUD WINS OCEAN CLASSIC

Gloucester Vessel First in Opening Race

Fisherman's Trophy Up for Competition

Schooner Blue Nose Hopes to Win Tomorrow

BY TOM HORGAN

Associated Press Staff Writer

GLOUCESTER (Mass.) Oct. 9. (AP)—The schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud, pride of the Gloucester fishing fleet, today defeated the famous Lunenburg (N. S.) schooner Blue Nose in the opening contest of a series of three races which will be sailed off this old fishing port. The Thebaud needs now only one victory to win her the Thomas Lipton international fisherman's challenger trophy and the purse which goes with it.

Capt. Ben Pine, Thebaud's veteran skipper, drove his charge across the finish line fifteen and a half minutes ahead of Capt. Angus Walters and the big Lunenburg schooner. Thebaud's time for the course of thirty-seven and five-eighths miles—twice around an eighteen-mile triangle and a mile and five-eighths up the harbor—was 5h. 19m. 46s.

It was not remarkably good time, but entirely satisfactory for the conditions prevailing, a fifteen to eighteen-mile wind and a long ground swell.

Blue Nose's crew and many others attributed her defeat, or at least the wide margin of her defeat, to a badly fitting suit of sail. As soon as she reached her dock this evening she was stripped and her canvas rushed to a sail loft to be recut.

Her big mainsail was much too large—so large that Capt. Walters was forced to swing Blue Nose's ponderous main boom by the topping lift instead of by the canvas supporting it. This means that the topping lift pressed against the sail, ruining its contour and greatly reducing its efficiency.

Members of the Blue Nose crew said it was necessary to lift her main boom two feet above the point where it would have been supported by the sail in order to clear the wheel and after-house. Her top sails did not fit well, either, and hung limply like grain sacks during most of the race. They, too, will be recut before the big "salt banker" goes out for the second race Saturday.

HOLLYWOOD BABES DRUB POLY, 19-0

In the opening game of the season the Hollywood High lightweights defeated the Poly babes on their own field with a score of 19-0. Shigi Teraji, Redshirt half, gave the fans a few thrills with some spectacular open field running, and was responsible for the first score. The Redshirts tallied once in the first quarter and twice in the fourth. Manbo went over for both touchdowns in the last and carried the ball off tackle for the lone conversion.

BRUIN FROSH TANGLE WITH ONEONTA TEAM

Starting line-ups have been released for the U.C.L.A. frosh eleven's game with the Oneonta Military Academy squad tomorrow afternoon in the Coliseum as a preliminary struggle to the U.C.L.A.-Pomona varsity engagement. The game looms as a close contest and the toughest one yet for the Bruin yearlings.

For the Bruin yearlings the starting eleven will probably be McGue and Kasl, ends; Dimas and Rafferty, tackles; Austin and Hendry, guards; Baldwin, center; Post, quarterback; Robb and Blackman, halfbacks, and Joe Keeble, fullback. The cadets line up as follows: Marsh and McChesney, ends; Hoegee and Muller, tackles; McComas and McGinley, guards; Albright, center; Morgan, quarterback; Zadian and Jamison, halfbacks, and Tex Jones, fullback.

BEVERLY BABES IN WIN OVER VAN NUYS

With Hamm scoring all of their points but one, the Beverly Hills lightweights trounced the Van Nuys gridders, 21 to 0, yesterday, on the Tartar's home field. Hamm scored all three of his team's touchdowns with runs of 50, 70 and 5 yards, respectively, and then chalked up two of the conversions. The third conversion was made on a pass from Hamm to Abbot.

HACK WILSON TURNS SONG AND DANCE MAN

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Hack Wilson, the home-run champion of the major leagues, today became a song-and-dance man.

With three of his mates, Gabby Hartnett, Kiki Cuyler and Cliff Heathcote, the Cub center fielder was the chief character in a song-and-dance skit at one of the Loop theaters.

NEWSBOY BROWN SIGNS FOR CHANCE AT TITLE

Newsboy Brown gets his title chance in November at Madison Square Garden. His manager, Emmet Ledwith, signed yesterday for Brown to fight the winner of the Midget Wolgast-Frankie Genaro bout a week from tonight.

The Garden crowd has the options on all three fighters—the best flyweights in the country—now Wolgast is favored in the East to defeat Genaro. Brown has whipped both.

The Newsboy moves up into the bantam class next week at the Olympic when he boxes Claude Varner, young Bakersfield slugger, in one of the ten-round bouts on a double wind-up card.

Maurice Holtzer and Goldie Hess, principals of the other top ten, are both working in outdoor camps. Because Holtzer defeated Louis Kid Kaplan in the East before he came here Spring street is making him choice over Hess.

However Holtzer, a legitimate featherweight, will spot Hess four or five pounds. The weight is 132, give or take a pound. Holtzer is under 130 now and isn't likely to build up much.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams yesterday announced he had booked Johnny Torres, Mexican, and Hymie Miller for the six-round semi-wind-up. Bud Baker and Billy Papke, Jr., will work in the special event.

The Olympic is still trying to land Tommy Freeman for an over-weight bout with Sammy Jackson. Tommy McGinty, manager of Freeman, may be on the Coast in a few weeks and the match may be made then.

Another prospective bout is Holtzer, if he whips Hess, and Bud Taylor for a November show.

L.A.J.C. Meets Compton Team

Coaches Scheutzner of L.A.J.C. and Pine of Compton are putting the finishing touches on their elevens in preparation for the clash between the squads on the Compton gridiron tomorrow. The battle is the feature event of the first round of the Southern California Junior College Conference and will draw plenty of fans because of the power of the two teams.

Two perennial rivals will meet when the Long Beach and Santa Ana squads get together on the latter's field, while Glendale, the so-called dark horse of the Jaysee conference, plays host to Fullerton. The Pasadena Bulldogs drew a bye and will not open their league schedule until next Saturday.

The Compton Tartars and the L.A.J.C. Cubs are rated of equal strength and the battle tomorrow ought to be a close affair. The Tartars held the powerful Trojan Frosh to a scoreless tie after having the ball on the 1-yard line at the end of the half. The Cubs ran all over Coach Lee Eisan's La Verne College varsity, winning by a 36-to-0 score.

Until a few months ago Malciewicz's mat work was clean, highly scientific and of the most spectacular variety. aulding's Bruins Figure to Be Heavy Favorites Over Pomona in Tomorrow's Game

GEHENS GIVEN LITTLE CHANCE TO BEAT RIVALS

wood Squad Likely to Run Up Sizeable Score on Nixon's Team in Coliseum Clash of many years ago when the Bruins of U.C.L.A. were at the Branch, Eugene Nixon's Sagehen football teams Pomona College regularly plucked the hide of the Bruin gridiron each season. But that order changed when "Bill" Spaulding came to the U.C.L.A. institution in 1925 Minnesota and took over the coaching reins. For the past the Bruins individually and collectively have been bigger and stronger while Pomona still remains through own choice a small college with a limited student body, so tomorrow when teams of the two schools meet in their annual game at the Coliseum, the former figures to dump the under a sifting of touchdowns.

BY FRANK ROCHE

at the situation the fore; the Bruins bigger and better team than ever before and Pomona, on its season form, one of the weakest. At least the Pomona alumni around town claim it is. Of course, alumni often break into tears in discussing their alma mater's football chances but there does seem basis for worry at dear old Pomona this season. They to date shown anything giving them a ghost with Spaulding's warriors.

BRUINS HAVE MEN

Bruins have two teams Pomona has one. That it tell the story tomorrow, claim. The Bruins have if nothing else, one out, and they can win almost alone.

does not take any Nixon team lightly, despite the the Bruins seem to hold. He has drilled his thoroughly during the past and they will be ready over the top of the Sagehens they tangle on the care groomed Coliseum turf.

once since Spaulding has the Bruin coaching reins has Pomona caught up U.C.L.A. and that was in 1927, two teams tied, 7 to 7. the Bruins won, 20 to 0, year before that, 20 to 0. thing the Bruins are now of the Coast Conference Sagehens are still in the Conference.

is sure to miss in tomorrow's. The absence of a good passer Pomona's line-up is very disappointing to Sagehen followers. is an old fox, though, and uncover one in the game. captain of the Sagehen and Bob Baynham are the of the Pomona team. Engstead, an end and a -center, may annoy the Bruins a bit, too. One thing Pomona will have is a veteran line which will average better than 175 pounds.

Spaulding will send the same team, with one or two exceptions, that started against the Trojans into action in the Pomona game. In the backfield will be Capt. Eddie Solomon at quarter, Buddy Forster at half, Ruben Thoe at half and Norm Duncan at fullback. The line will be the same as the opening game except that Goodstein will start at center instead of Oliver.

After the game gets going "Bunker Bill" will no doubt shoot in Lenny Bergdahl, Bob Decker and Guttormsen in the backfield. He also has enough reserves to switch his line and save his players for the St. Mary's game, which is scheduled for next Friday night at the Coliseum.

The kick-off will be at 2:30 p.m.

SAGEHENS WORK OUT IN RAIN FOR TILT

CLAREMONT, Oct. 9.—Not even rain could keep Coach Eugene Nixon's Pomona College Sagehens from working out this afternoon in preparation for their nonconference tilt Saturday with the U.C.L.A. Bruins in the Coliseum.

Although intermittent showers made the ball and field slippery, the Sagehens went through their last stiff drill before Saturday's fracas. Signal practice featured the workout. The Sagehens were able to keep their feet despite the wet grid.

The rain, which began shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, nearly prevented the Sagehen workout. A heavy shower in the early afternoon abated just as the Hens were ready to take to the field.

Weather permitting, the Sagehens will hold a light drill on Alumni Field tomorrow afternoon. They will leave Saturday morning in private cars for the Coliseum.

SQUASH SEASON STARTS

The national squash handball tournament season starts this month with tournaments carded for the Hollywood and Los Angeles athletic clubs. The national junior singles will be played at Hollywood, October 20-24, and the junior doubles at the L.A.A.C., October 27-31.

Sidney Wood is Freshman

EUGENE (Or.) Oct. 9.—Sidney B. Wood, Jr., of Pasadena, Cal., and New York, arrived here today to enter the University of Oregon. Wood is one of the outstanding young tennis stars of the country today. He won two important grass court tournaments in the East this summer, and has conquered many of the ranking players in the country during his sensational rise to the heights of the court game.

Fire Gridmen Journey North

The entire fire department football squad will make a trip tonight to San Francisco for the game tomorrow with the West Coast Army team. E. O. Barnett, athletic director, and Bill Blewett, coach of the team, decided to take every man on the squad because of their fine showing against the Olympic Club and San Jose recently. They believe they will use plenty of reserves and Blewett wants to give all of his players a chance to get into action.

The Firemen play their next game locally at Wrigley Field. This is scheduled for a week from Monday night. They clash with Santa Barbara American Legion players.

The recent victory of North Dakota University over the highly touted Davis Elkins team makes the Christmas Day game of the firemen and the farmers at the Coliseum look real appetizing, E. O. Barnett states. North Dakota, Barnett points out, is a real card. They play West Point on November 1. Barnett looks for a real turnout for the final game on the fire department schedule this year.

COMPTON BABES BEAT LONG BEACH ELEVEN

Coach Harold Lovejoy's Compton lightweights made a victorious entry into the Coast League by trimming the Long Beach Poly lightweights by a 12-to-0 score. The game was held on the winners' field and marked the entrance of the lower division of the Compton Junior College into the Coast League. Orrin Matheny, quarterback for the winners, was the star of the game. He made many long runs and played a bang-up defensive game. Matheny and Wilbur scored the touchdowns for the baby Tartars.

A VITAL GAME

TAKING it by and large, tomorrow's football battle between California and St. Mary's means a lot more to Coach Nibs Price of the Bears than it did a week ago.

Had the Bears not lost to Washington State, 16 to 0, in their first conference game of the year St. Mary's could have been taken in stride.

As matters rest now, Nibs must key the boys above normal. A defeat by the Gaels after the disaster of last Saturday would be distressing, to say the least.

The dear old alumni would be just about ready to leap down Nibs's throat on all fours. This is generally supposed to be a California year, and two lickings in a row are more than the average alumnus, expecting fulfillment of a California year, can stand.

But he may have to stand it, anyhow. St. Mary's, under Slip Madigan, is a football team of the first caliber. For the last three years there has been no more than a two-touchdown difference in any Bear-Gael game. In 1929 the rivals played to a scoreless tie.

St. Mary's last victory was in 1926—26 to 7—the first year of Price's regime.

TOUGH ON CARDS

HEC DYER, the Stanford sprinter, reports old Pop Warner didn't let the Card gridders down even after they lost eight to fifteen pounds in the Santa Clara game last Saturday.

Pop even worked 'em on Sunday, which proves the old boy wasn't letting any moss grow under his feet just because Vanderbilt bumped Minnesota off, 33 to 7. Pop's boys play Minnesota tomorrow.

Loss of weight in the Santa Clara fray was due largely to the thermal condition of the weather.

He adds there were 26,000 sunburned faces and necks after the game, but that the heat was worse on the players than the spectators.

He says the Broncos have a new wrinkle on the offense, which he terms the "King Alponso shift."

They line up in two rows facing each other with the quarterback in the center.

He gives the play, then on his count—1-2-3-4-5-6—the players, with knees lifted high, all march in unison to their positions with goose steps. Then they shift in unison.

It was novel to the crowd, which formed the habit of counting out loud for them, according to Dyer.

A BOXING FAUX PAS

IT HAS always been a general suspicion that nice, clean honest young men who know the game are wanted as boxing referees.

However, that is found to be a mistake.

Clayton Frye, boxing instructor at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, applied for a referee's license recently.

As references he appended the names of George Blake, Si Masters, and others.

Back came a reply from Joe Genshlea, secretary of the commission, at Sacramento.

"Application refused. We have too many referees."

BUD TEACHOUT ON WAY

LETTER from Dr. R. J. Morrison of Santa Monica:

"Thought you would like to know that Bud Teachout is expected in Los Angeles next week (he is too modest and reserved to announce himself.)

"Many of his admirers were pleased to see your mention about his success with Chicago this year.

"We are very proud of the former Occidental pitcher."

TROJANS TAKE WORKOUT

as a tackle, but he is bigger than Bob Hall, and ought to be helpful against the man-eating Cougars.

Jones changes his mind, and being the head man, he has every right to do that as often as he desires. Marger Apsit will be back in the line-up Saturday. Jones figures that Apsit will be more valuable early in the game than at the fag end and as long as Doc Fiesler puts his official OK on Apsit, the blond senior will be in there against the Cougars.

George Kirkwood did most of the offensive running at left halfback in today's session and I have a sneaking hunch that he will really be starting in this position.

As intimated earlier in the week, Jim Musick will play defensive fullback in Saturday's game. Jones has been in the habit of employing his left halfback at this position on defense, but made the switch this time in order that Kirkwood or Apsit, faster men than Musick, might cover those long passes which this chap Ellingsen has been throwing for the Cougars.

"HAP" ON HAND

This special Southern Pacific train is carrying a number of notables to Pullman, among them Leo Aloysius O'Connor, more familiarly known as "Hap." Mr. O'Connor has been called America's guest, but this time he happens to be traveling as man-in-waiting to Jimmy Smith, the former Trojan end. Hap told me this morning that he couldn't sleep at all last night.

"They must have been moving the train with a crowbar the way we bumped along," said Hap. "And that Smith, phooey, talked in his sleep all night."

When asked what Jimmy was talking about, O'Connor's reply was: "Darned if I know; he was speaking them foreign languages."

Hap claims he was a sophomore at Southern California in 1912 and a freshman in 1914, his education being somewhat retarded.

GREAT CAREER

"I wasn't much of a grammar school student, either; they had to burn down the schoolhouse to get me out of the fifth grade," was his parting shot. When asked what he took at Southern California, Hap replied: "Monotony."

Hap clutches a silver dollar so hard the eagle actually screams. He got a bowl of soup at Red Bluff this morning for breakfast and purchased a bag of peanuts for lunch. The whole works cost him 15 cents. He will be Smith's guest for dinner.

Hap is wearing a two-season suit, salt and pepper. His tremendous chin has presented quite a problem to people trying to pass him in the corridors of the train. If it were not for the lack of time railroad officials would call in a crew of workmen and hack a few feet off Hap's jutting jaw. They are thinking seriously of blasting.

The Trojan party was completed this morning with the arrival of Pop Smith, perennial Southern California rooter, who joined the entourage at Red Bluff. Pop hasn't missed a trip in many years, and everything is hunky-dory now. The weather here is perfect, with no hint of rain.

Washington State has a turf field, but it is unlikely that it compares with the Coliseum greensward. Whether it will seriously handicap the Trojans in event of rains remains to be seen. At any rate, Trojan players are pleased to know it is a turf layout.

San Francisco papers are quoting the Trojans as well established favorites to win even after what Babe Hollingbery's team did to California.

POUNDS LINE

The practice session at Red Bluff indicated that Jones will use Jim Musick to pound the center of Washington State's line until something gives way. It will be recalled that in last year's game at the Coliseum, Hollingbery was forced to employ no less than seven guards and three centers in his frantic efforts to put a stop to the line-plunging activities of Musick and Russ Saunders.

Ten men for three positions, more than three deep at every spot, tells the story of what pounding Troy's opponents are subjected to.

Elmer Schwartz, powerful Cougar fullback, went out of last year's game after five minutes of play in the third quarter, which is another indication of what Jones's power plays do to the opposition. It is said that Hollingbery has no substitute comparable to Elmer the great, and if this is the case Mr. Schwartz is in for an afternoon of manual labor, calculated to try the soul and body of football's most courageous performers.

Jimmy Smith was one of the big shots of the workout at Red Bluff. Attired in a pair of Hap O'Connor's black and white plus-fours, Jimmy put his cap on a la Sherlock Holmes, and strode around the field, impersonating Ernst Lubitsch, Hollywood film director. Jim borrowed a movie camera and caused quite a furore by taking "screen tests" of several comely maidens among the onlookers. Assisting Smith was George Davis, who impersonated Frank Borzage, another film city megaphone wielder.

Howard Jones gave his boys an hour of skull practice this afternoon.

"I want to find out how much some of these boys really know about our plays," was the way Jones put it.

POSTPONE PLAY AT FLINTRIDGE

of practice remaining, the women are desirous of getting in as much practice as possible, and will sidetrack all side interests in an effort to get their games to clicking.

Vast differences in playing conditions as well as the fact that the north course is the most difficult test of golf ever selected for the national championship, is playing hob with the scores. Length has not been a serious problem in championships played heretofore in the East, where fairways as a rule are hard and it is possible to get a long roll. The Bermuda grass at Los Angeles is doubly disconcerting to the women, however, as it keeps roll down to a minimum and the soft, spongy fairways make walking tiresome.

The greens, although beautifully uniform, have also been causing their share of trouble. It will be recalled that Bobby Jones, even though admiring our greens, never quite gained his putting touch or confidence while here.

It is understood, although unofficially, that the officials have heeded the hue and cry of the women golfers who insist that Los Angeles is a men's and not a women's course, as it is being played, and will give them the advantage of the short tees.

The women have been accustomed to getting down in the 70's now and then, but so far they have been doing their best to stay in the low 80's over the north course. Mrs. Leona Pressler holds the course record of 76 set some time ago, yet she has not even approached her record in practice.

INFORMAL MATCH

Yesterday's play was featured by the informal match between Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., and Leo Diegel vs. Miss Glenna Collett and Fred Morrison. With Leo banging the ball up by the pin on the first nine to score a 34, one under par, the Agua Caliente pro and his midwestern partner piled up a commanding lead to defeat Miss Collett and Morrison, 4 up. The match was a best-ball, worst-ball affair.

Neither Miss Wall nor Miss Collett were quite up to par, the former scoring 43-46—89, and the latter, 42-45—87. Morrison had the finest iron shot of the day on eighteen, a long iron that was dead on the flag for a birdie 3.

The cards:

Par (out)	444	344	453	35
Diegel	443	343	463	34
Miss Wall	656	355	463	43
Morrison	545	344	552	37
Miss Collett	654	564	453	42
Par (in)	434	453	444	35	70
Diegel	435	463	435	37	71
Miss Wall	646	653	556	46	89
Morrison	434	563	443	36	73
Miss Collett	545	663	556	45	87

Miss Marion Hollins of Santa Cruz, 1921 women's champion, was around in 86 yesterday, and appears to be hitting the ball very well. She has both the stamina and the shots, and is undoubtedly a factor to be considered in the title race.

Practically all of the leading players will play over the north course today and wind up their practice sessions tomorrow. Sunday will be a day of rest before the maelstrom of championship competition starts on Monday.

MACK TO KEEP SAME LINE-UP his team as great until it had won its second world's championship in successive years, said at present he did not contemplate any serious changes. The usual strengthening of the club, as is done by most managers, was to be expected, he added. But there would be nothing radical. He expressed his complete satisfaction with the present make-up, which demonstrated its ability to win.

Connie Mack was at his office in Shibe Park tower early today and ready to tackle a pile of work, but he was constantly interrupted by visitors and telephone calls to congratulate him on the victory of the A's over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The ball tutor, accompanied by Thomas S. Shibe, president of the Athletics, left for Cleveland tonight to attend the minor league meeting tomorrow.

It was learned at the A's clubhouse today that the beaten Cardinals in the depths of defeat showed themselves to be true sportsmen. Just before the game was over and the score 7 to 0 against them some of the Cardinals congratulated Athletic players and wished them well.

With the world's title safely tucked away the triumphant players are scattering. Jimmy Foxx, George Earnshaw and Al Simmons leave Philadelphia tomorrow night on a barnstorming trip.

Most of the players have mapped out hunting trips for some time or other in the autumn.

GLENDALE LOSES TO FULLERTON ELEVEN

The Fullerton High School lightweight football team walloped the Glendale High eleven by the score of 30 to 0 in a game played yesterday on the losers' field. Fullerton scored in every quarter but were unable to make a single conversion. Jordan, Muro, Raitt and Sheldon all carried the ball for big gains for the visitors.

COUGARS IN TOP SHAPE

Hollingbery Declares All Athletes Ready for Game With Trojan Squad Tomorrow

Saturday. Reservations have been received from all towns in the inland empire and the attendance of 20,000 or more will by far exceed that of any previous game here. They are not pulling here for the Cougars to make a showing, but to win, and the general opinion is they have a chance. Extra stands have been constructed and to the ring of the hammers the Cougars have been going through their workouts with snap and precision. Normally there would be a letdown after such an important game as that with the Bears, but the team knows it has the hardest struggle of the year before it, and it is keyed up 100 per cent.

MUCH RAIN

It is not unlikely that there will be a wet field. It has been raining in Pullman off and on most of the week, and while there are signs that the weather is breaking the footing may be none too secure. A wet field would be accepted here as favoring the Cougars and the wetter the better. This is because they are depending primarily on the driving power of the backfield.

Elmer Schwartz and his backfield companions are a powerful battering ram and they have an experienced forward wall ahead of them. It is not doubted here that the Trojans will be faster but slippery turf would tend to slow them up and to the extent that the moisture is in the soil will the Washington State hopes soar. A wet field might cripple the Cougar passes, however. Passes led to a healthy victory over the Golden Bears and it is expected that the Crimson and Gray eleven will take to the air against Troy.

Hollingbery apparently is satisfied with the team he chose to start at Berkeley, for he is doing little tampering with the regular line up. These are occasional alterations at the guard posts during signal workouts, George Hurley and Fred Garrett trading off with Frank Mitchell and Jack Parodi. In the backfield are Tonkin, quarter; Ellingsen and Jones, halfbacks, and Schwartz, fullback, all in good condition and ready to dash after new laurels.

EDWARDS HUSKY

Although Washington State has the heaviest individual player—235-pound Glenn Edwards, at tackle—Southern California will outweigh the Cougars more than two pounds to a man.

Washington State has a wonderful line. Line play was the decisive factor against California, though a sparkling set of Cougar backs won their share of glory. But first and foremost in football comes the line and Washington State has probably the most powerful and certainly the most experienced line in the conference.

Hollingbery always has a good line, but this year it is an extra special line, plus reserves, for the key positions when his first stringers tire.

American school and church furniture is being used in Argentina.

Loyola Ready for Fresno Battle

WET FIELD MAY HAMPER LIONS

Speedy Local Gridders in Tough Position

Lieb Depending on Passes and Deception

Gruelling Battle on Tap With Northerners

The possibility of a heavy turf, caused by rain, was yesterday added to the details of disaster on the already lengthy list of Coach Tom Lieb of Loyola University. Lieb's eleven runs into Fresno State College at Wrigley Field on Saturday night. At best, Lieb is expecting nothing more than an even break with the northerners. On a slow field, his boys may be the underdogs.

TOM LIEB.

Ever since Fresno State announced the weights of its starting line-up, Lieb has been at work building an offense that his light team can use effectively. Naturally, speed and deception were two important items. "But," says Mr. Lieb, with a tear glittering in the corner of his big, blue eyes, "how are you going to show any speed or throw any passes on a wet field?"

AIDS FRESNO

Fresno State will be aided considerably if the Wrigley Field gridiron is soggy. The heavy, crushing attack on the line, featured by the northerners will be just as effective, if not more so, on the slippery gridiron. It should be a wild struggle.

The Lions closed a hard week of work yesterday, running through signals and working out on passes. Bud Brubaker booted a few high spirals and apparently will shoot the sidelines as accurately as he did in his first start. The squad, as a whole, looked to be in good shape, the boys running through their paces with all the vim of a real struggle.

BROTHER ACT

The three Sargent brothers, who play side by side at guard, tackle and end on the left side of the Lion line, were attired in new jerseys, bearing the numerals, thirty, forty and fifty. Vaughn Euge is still Lieb's choice to fill the fullback job. He came up from the reserves and packs plenty of dynamite.

STARS BEATEN IN THIRTEENTH

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Fay Thomas, Sacramento speedball artist, recently sold to the Cleveland Indians, fanned nineteen swatters of the Hollywood Stars in a thirteen-inning ball game here tonight and won over Vance Page, 5 to 4. Thomas whiffed fifteen in the regulation nine frames. It was the first Sacramento win in three starts against the league leaders. Dud Lee played a sensational game at short for the Stars. Hollywood made two runs in the final stanza and Sacramento came back with three. Score:

OXY, WHITTIER CLASH TONIGHT

tle but shouldn't really have much trouble in subduing the Leopards.

Down at San Diego, Walter Herreid bemoans the fact that injuries and illness have cut quite a swath in his supposedly strong San Diego State squad, but figures on turning back the fast-growing Cal Christian Panthers tomorrow night. The game will be the first one for the Aztecs under the Kleig lights of Navy Field.

Getting back to the main pigskin dish, the Occidental-Whittier fracas, Eddie Kienholz's charges claim to have a slight edge on Chief Newman's Poets. They base their claims on the fact that "Tricky Dick" Glover, the Tigers' ace in the hole, has recovered from a slight attack of the "flu" and will be ready to start against the Quakers.

Glover ran wild against the Poets last year, the Oxy outfit winning, 28-0. In the Tigers' first game two weeks ago, against the University of Mexico, Glover showed local fans that he had lost none of his effectiveness by galloping far and wide for four of the Tigers' five touchdowns.

Kienholz will start the flashy galloper at full tonight with Bill Meyers and Tuffy Reed at the halves and Stoney Johnston calling the signals.

Jimmy Meeks and Larry Green are slated to open at the end jobs, with Jack Schurch, the demon Swiss, and Dave Snedden at tackles. Warren Eppinnette and Ben Hilliard are to start in the guard positions with Capt. Jerry Chappel at center.

Newman's first string appears to be Bob Grunsky and Percy Lewis, ends; Lincoln Dietrich and Bob Gibbs, tackles; Herschel Daugherty and Frank Jones, guards, and Claude Groom, center. Francis Dell will start at quarter tonight with Bill Mifflin and Bill Krueger, halves, and Harry Hill, full.

Cliff Ograin and Murle Mashburn, two flashy backfield aces, are to be held in reserve.

While the Poets haven't had a great lot of success in their practice games, the general opinion is that Newman has a strong club this year and is a very potent threat to the championship aspirations of the Tigers. Oxy has won the crown for the last two seasons, but will have a tough time keeping it this year.

MAJORS LOOK TO NEXT YEAR

O'Neill or Ruel May Pilot Boston Red Sox

McCarthy Expected to Sign Up With Yankees

Phillies Due to Tigure in Winter's Trades

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—With the world's series gone, leaving a treasury of memories for the Athletics and a headache for St. Louis, clubs in the American and National League are making plans which they hope will get them in a world's series next year or later.

ROGERS HORNSBY

The baseball season is over but hope lingers on in every club owner's heart and no major or minor league stone will be left unturned to patch up the baseball fences before another spring sounds the annual call to arms.

The turnover in managers will be lighter this year than usual. One change already has been made, Rogers Hornsby succeeding Joseph V. McCarthy as head of the playing forces of the Chicago Cubs.

TO MANAGE YANKS

The genial McCarthy, however, is not expected to remain long in the ranks of the unemployed, for when the excitement of the world's series has died away, in all probability he will be summoned to New York to affix his signature to a contract to manage the Yankees.

The Boston Red Sox are temporarily without a manager, but President Bob Quinn has his eye on a prospect and may introduce him to the fans at any minute.

Two catchers have been frequently mentioned in connection with the Red Sox billet—Steve O'Neill, formerly of Cleveland and St. Louis, who has piloted the Toronto Maple Leafs for two years, and Harold (Muddy) Ruel, an American League regular for twelve years and the last eight with Washington.

The majors started bringing in replacements before the world's series started, with twenty-one players by draft from the minors, and later the Phillies made it twenty-two when they found that Topeka had not lost a man and still was a shining mark for a draft shot.

PHILS BANK ON BOLEN

The Phillies expect Sutart Bolen, smart left-handed pitcher of Baltimore, to win some games for them next year and their belated draft added the name of Roetz, an infielder formerly with the Browns to their roster.

The Red Sox, tail-end team of the American League, dragged back Wilcy Moore, the former life saver of the Yankees, from the American Association, where he did some excellent pitching in 1930.

With the drafted players now removed from the market, direct negotiations will be open between the majors and minors for any promising prospects who escaped the selection drag net.

The Phillies, who finished a bad last in the National League, are being besieged with offers for some of their stars who were held in high esteem by other clubs during the season, although they could win few games for the Phillies.

Brooklyn is understood to have obtained Lefty O'Doul, the hard-hitting outfielder, and Fresco Thompson, a first-rate second baseman from the Phillies. Some of the rail birds at the world's series who had been clocking the mental processes of Brooklyn's master minds, declared that the Robins offered four for two, Ray Moss, pitcher; Jake Flowers, infielder, and Harvey Hendrick and Ike Boone, outfielders.

Schedule Polo Game Sunday

Snowy Baker and Clair Brunson will captain rival polo teams at the Uplifters' field next Sunday when the Blues clash with the Reds in the second meeting of the teams. Baker's squad took last Sunday's game by a narrow margin and are out to repeat in the ensuing tilt, but Brunson and his team-mates still feel that they have the better combination and are confident they can down the Blues.

The Blues will line-up with Will Rogers, Jr., and Charles Crawford in the forward positions, Baker at No. 3 and Dick Smith at back. Smith has some new ponies for the coming game and expects to be as well mounted as any one on the field. The opposition will be furnished by T. Lyell Puckett, Hal Roach, Clair Brunson and Carl Beal, forming the Reds.

Play starts at 2:30 with Hugh Blue as referee. The game is open to the public.

Line-ups:

Blues		Reds
Will Rogers, Jr.	No. 1	T. Lyell Puckett
Charles Crawford	No. 2	Hal Roach
Snowy Baker	No. 3	Clair Brunson
Dick Smith	Back	Carl Beal

MAPLE LEAF PUCKS TRIM BRUINS, 9-6

The Maple Leaf hockey team defeated the Los Angeles Bruins, 9 to 6, at the Palais De Glace last night. Capt. Art Palfrey and Lefty McDonald starred for the winners, scoring two goals apiece. Buster Smith and Rube Brandon also tallied twice each for the losers. Vaughn, Maple Leaf goalie, played a bang-up game on defense.

BUSY WEEK-END AHEAD AT PORT

Group of Eight Liners Due in Offshore Trade

Calawaii and Ecuador Will Make Docks Today

Pennsylvania Scheduled for Arrival Tomorrow

BY WALDO DRAKE

The procession of eight offshore passenger vessels in and out of the port over the week-end with approximately 1200 passengers continues this morning with the arrival from New York of the Panama Mail steamer Ecuador and the Lassco cabin liner Calawaii from Honolulu. Tomorrow morning, the leader in passenger trade will be the Panama-Pacific electric liner Pennsylvania, bringing 500 travelers from New York, via Havana and the Canal.

Yesterday, the Norwegian motorship Brimanger, in Westfal, Larsen-General Steamship service, sailed for River Plate ports and Dollar Line's President Hayes departed for Singapore and Manila. Making a record turn-around, the Calawaii will sail at noon tomorrow for Hawaii and in the afternoon the Furness-Pacific liner Pacific Enterprise gets out for the United Kingdom. On Sunday, the Dollar around-the-world liner President Van Buren is due at noon from New York, sailing the next day for the Orient. The Italian liner Rialto, of the Navigazione Libera Triestina fleet, arrives from the north Monday morning and sails the same day for Mediterranean ports.

Commander Fitzhugh Green, United States Navy, an explorer and author of first-rank, is among the Los Angeles passengers on the Pennsylvania, while coming on the Ecuador this morning is Irving Lindberg, United States Commissioner of Customs for Nicaragua, returning with Mrs. Lindberg for a vacation in Southern California, and Captain L. C. Farwell, of the United States Coast Guard. Prominent among the Angelenos sailing Monday on the Rialto are Mrs. C. E. Smoot, en route with her children to Las Palmas, Canary Islands; and Mrs. S. F. Rathbone and Mrs. Margaret Robinson, of Pasadena, en route to the Mediterranean.

The Brimanger carried out a capacity refrigerated cargo of Pacific Coast fruits for South America, 60,000 cubic feet, the largest cargo of the kind ever departing here on a Westfal-Larsen ship. Incidentally much of it was grapes, loaded here, the first important grape shipment ever taken to Latin America. This heavy fruit movement will continue at least on the next two ships, according to General Steamship Corporation, agents.

GALE-BATTERED CARGO CRAFT MAKES PORT

The storm-battered Shepard Line steamer Windrush came in yesterday after a severe buffeting in the hurricane last week-end 1200 miles south of here.

Capt. B. E. Tuell was nursing a badly cut face sustained when the glass in the wheelhouse was blown out, and several of the crew experienced minor casualties. A lifeboat was lost overboard, ventilators were staved in, and cargo shifted slightly, but the damage was nominal.

Capt. Tuell said he passed entirely through the blow lasting thirty-six hours, and in its center the wind was between 100 and 150 miles an hour.

Half a dozen other ships were caught in the same hurricane, notes compared between the Australian and the Viking Star showing a force of seven at the edges, twelve in the center. The Javanese Prince and an unnamed Japanese ship also passed through the cyclone with minor damage.

Hearing by the State Railroad Commission on Southern Pacific coastal freight rates protested by harbor chambers was continued yesterday to November 3, following the railroad's surprise move in tendering new rates for immediate consideration. Chamber rate experts asked a delay to permit study of the new rates.

Installation of a new propellor was completed by Bethlehem shipyards yesterday on the tanker Sylvan Arrow and the latter loaded 98,000 barrels of gasoline and departed for New York after ten days in port.

Motor liner Seattle will be Hamburg-American Line's Christmas ship from this coast to Germany. She will leave here November 24 and is due in Bremen December 21 and in Hamburg the following day.

Prediction that the Los Angeles Harbor citrus exports for the coming 1930-31 season will exceed the 1928-29 record of 1,500,000 boxes was made yesetrday by officials of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Favorable reports from the 15,000 growers, together with marked progress in the campaign in the United Kingdom and European market centers for "sensible" retail prices were declared indications of a banner export season. Greatly improved ship refrigeration facilities and an increased demand in that field are also expected to swell the exports to the oriental field.

Burt Edwards, general manager of the harbor department, said yesterday that approximately $20,000 will be expended by the department at Berths 115 to 117, in the West Basin, to provide suitable additional mooring facilities for the fishing fleet.

Two second-class nun buoys will be placed at the entrance channels to the Isthmus of Catalina Island next week by the United States Lighthouse Service ship Sequoia, it was announced by Capt. J. A. Sellman, master, on arrival of the ship yesterday from San Francisco.

One will be on Harbor Reef, 500 yards from White Rock, on the way to Isthmus Cove. There are in places less than two fathoms of water over this reef. The other buoy will be 1600 yards west of Bird Rock on a reef projecting within a foot of the water's surface.

Several yachts and one fishing boat, which was on her trial trip with 100 persons aboard, came to grief on these reefs during the past summer. The Isthmus rapidly is being developed by the Santa Catalina Island Company as an additional resort, and the need for navigation aids is recognized by the lighthouse service, Capt. Sellman said.

The Sequoia left here at 12:30 p.m. yesterday to place a new gas and bell buoy at No. 5, in the entrance to Long Beach Harbor, and a similar buoy, marked No. 1, at the entrance to San Diego channel.

QUIT CRYING,
COME IN WHERE THE SALES ARE!

Day by day it's getting hotter; for here is the deal that cannot be attacked, that stands up under any kind of fire, that big ones and little ones both like, that is selling where nothing else will.

People are putting aside reserve funds these days, bank accounts, building and loans, etc. We offer them an opportunity to create an income trust estate, on a 6% plus basis, doubly protected by administrative and supervisory groups; WE OFFER YOU leads galore, hearty co-operation; the prestige of heavy advertising, thorough but brief instruction, and a chance to identify yourself with this trust, capitalized at $100,200,000, and go just as high in its employment as your ability will take you.

Here you MUST succeed! Come in any time. Ask for Salesmanager.

DAM SURVEY ENGINEERS APPOINTED

State Board to Examine Pasadena's San Gabriel Project Announced

The same board of consulting engineers that condemned the San Gabriel flood-control forks damsite for the State last year has been retained by State Engineer Hyatt to examine and report on the site and specifications for Pasadena's proposed dam in the San Gabriel at Pine Canyon, reports from Sacramento stated yesterday.

This move is in response to an application filed with the State Engineer by Pasadena for approval of the damsite and the plans and design for the dam.

The men appointed by Hyatt include: Geologists, Prof. Charles P. Berkey of Columbia University; Prof. George D. Louderback, University of California, and Ira A. Williams, Portland, Or. Engineers, J. L. Savage, chief designing engineer, United States Bureau of Reclamation; George A. Elliott, consulting engineer of San Francisco, and M. C. Hinderlider, State Engineer of Colorado.

Midnight Rites Unite Dancer and Director

A wedding three days ago that was a surprise, even to their close friends, made Joan Na Varre, dancer, the bride of Donald Gallagher, film director and writer. The marriage was announced yesterday.

JOAN NA VARRE

The ceremony occurred at midnight last Tuesday at Gallagher's home at 2371 [illegible] Hills Drive, Hollywood, with Municipal Judge Stafford officiating.

Fifty of their friends had been summoned to the home to participate in the celebration of Miss Na Varre's birthday.

As the clock struck twelve, Judge Stafford called the couple to the middle of the room and proceeded to read a two-ring marriage ceremony. It was not until after the ceremony was over that the guests realized there had actually been a wedding.

The couple met some months ago while both were under contract at the Fox studio. When Miss Na Varre's contract expires in a month they plan a honeymoon motor tour through the North. Miss Na Varre is a daughter of Mrs. Blanche Na Varre, and entered pictures after appearances in many Broadway successes.

Hunters Seek Evidences of Winged Snake

Accompanied by his cameramen, Arthur Gerstle and Dan Baldwin, Paxson C. Hayes left Los Angeles yesterday for a trip into the blue petrified forest of Arizona, in search of a basaltic rock carving of piohicoatl, better known as the flying serpent.

"A picture of a carving of the feathered serpent was obtained by my photographer in New Mexico last May, and the Indians informed us that similar carvings are to be found back of the Navajo country in Arizona," said Mr. Hayes. "If we find such a carving we shall be more than ever convinced that such serpents still exist somewhere in the Southwest and, later, we shall take a trip into Mexico in search of a specimen."

According to Mr. Hayes, only one specimen of the piohicoatl was ever found, and that was in Java, many years ago.

Upon his last trip to Mexico Mr. Hayes captured several boa constrictors and a deer-strangler snake which he brought back to Los Angeles.

STORM DRAIN MEETING CALLED FOR TONIGHT

Property owners in the proposed assessment district for the Jefferson-street storm drain, Section No. 4, will meet tonight at the [illegible] school, Pico and Sentous streets, to discuss the project. The tentative boundaries of the district are Second street, Georgia street, Raymond avenue and Jefferson street.

HOUSE CLEANING URGED

As part of the fourth annual Clean-up and Fire Prevention Week campaign now in effect, today is known as House-Cleaning Day. It is sponsored by the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Statistics released by the national body on fire prevention show that most fires in the home are preventable.

County Recorder's Office Change Recommended

Efficiency Bureau Submits Report to Supervisors

Saving of at Least $175,000 Yearly Held Possible

Installation of a photographic recording system for documents recorded in the office of County Recorder Logan, which, it is asserted, will save the taxpayers ot less than $175,000 a year, is recommended in the report of a survey of the department just completed by the Los Angeles County Bureau of Efficiency. The report and the survey were filed yesterday with the Board of Supervisors.

"Our study of the photographic recording system has been very exhaustive," the report says. "It covers the use of this system over the entire United States.

"In view of the fact that the taxpayers of the county are more urgent than ever in their demands for economies in government, we believe the adoption of this method for recording will be received by them with profound satisfaction."

The report then goes on to relate that the bureau recommends that a bill be introduced in the Legislature which, if adopted, will permit the installation of the photographic recording system in counties of the State.

At the present time all instruments and documents received by the County Recorder are typewritten in full, in the most painstaking manner, into large recording volumes. With the new system each document will be photographed and the print filed for record. The system makes an exact copy of each document. All chance of error in recording is eliminated. The amount of help needed in the department under the present system would be greatly reduced under the proposed change.

The bureau of efficiency is composed of Dr. R. Warren Motter, James K. Reid, George C. Mattison, members of the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission, County Auditor Payne and Sam J. Chappel. Chappel is secretary of both the Civil Service Commission and the bureau of efficiency.

"Asparagus King's" Will Bequeathing Half-Million Filed for Probate

The half-million-dollar estate of the late S. O. Houghton, of Van Nuys, known as the "asparagus king" of the San Fernando Valley, who died suddenly while driving his automobile, was left in trust to the widow, except for minor bequests to other relatives, it was disclosed when the petition for probate of the estate was filed by the California Bank, executor.

Cash bequests aggregating $25,000 were left to the decedent's sisters, Eliza P. Houghton of Paris, France, Clara H. Houghton of Los Angeles, a sister-in-law, Dove Houghton, of Long Beach, and Stanley De Armond of Van Nuys, a business partner.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Lita M. Houghton, four children, Eleanor, John, Patsy and Elise, will share in the trust.

Houghton was vice-president of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, president of the Van Nuys Mortgage and Securities Company, and a member of the advisory board of the California Bank.

Western Chief of Air Traffic Appoints Aide

With the appointment of Harris W. Beck, former T.A.T.-Maddux traffic manager in charge of the western division, as traffic manager of the western region of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., newly formed air transport company which will operate between here and New York beginning next Wednesday, came the announcement last night of an assistant to Beck.

George M. Lord, formerly general passenger agent of Western Air Express, was named by Beck as general passenger agent of the new company in the western region.

Three Listed for Scholarships

Three students of the University of California at Los Angeles who have distinguished themselves in the manner specified in the rules covering the awarding of Rhodes Scholarships have been chosen by the faculty as candidates for such scholarships. Six of these scholarships to Oxford University are being awarded in this State.

The U.C.L.A. candidates are Frederick Kuhlman, editor of the 1930 Southern Campus and a hurdler and pole vaulter on the track team; Bernard Jefferson and Irwin Kellog, both of whom have represented the university on the debating platform. All three have high scholarship ratings.

Husband Killed and Wife Dying

John Mathews, 65 years of age, and his wife, Margie, 60, were struck by an automobile as they stepped from behind a parked car on Telegraph Road near McDonnell avenue, Belvedere, and started to cross the street.

Mathews was killed instantly. His wife suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries from which there is scant hope for her recovering. The Mathews home is at 4620 Triggs street, Belvedere Gardens.

Shingemi Nakata, a Japanese of Bell, was the driver of the automobile. He was not held.

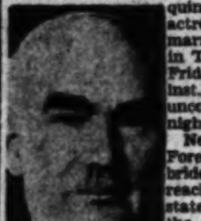
DEFOREST MARRIAGE UNVERIFIED

Rumor of 'Radio Father's' Wedding at Tia Juana to Actress Persists



DR. LEE DE FOREST.

A Hollywood rumor to the effect that Dr. Lee DeForest, "father of the radio," and Miss Marie Mosquini, screen actress, had been married secretly in Tia Juana on Friday, the 3rd inst., was still unconfirmed last night.

Neither De Forest nor his bride could be reached for a statement and the young man who receives the telephone calls at La Leyenda Apartments, 1737 North Whitley avenue, where the asserted newlyweds were reported to be living, was kept exceedingly busy answering inquiries.

Early in the day, in response to an inquiry, the attendant said: "Dr. and Mrs. DeForest have gone out of the city and will not return until Monday. "Was he certain that Mrs. DeForest went with him?" The attendant was quite positive on that point.

As recently as last Tuesday Dr. DeForest was quoted in newspapers as having admitted the possibility of his marriage to the actress, but the ceremony could not take place, he said, until he had obtained a final decree of divorce from his second wife.

Inquiry at the offices of the General Talking Pictures Corporation, of which the inventor is the head, elicited the information that "Dr. DeForest is out, but he will be here tomorrow."

In the meantime, marriage license records were being checked up in Tia Juana, whence the rumor seems to have originated, but word came back that no record of such a wedding was available.

Last night, within an hour of the time he had reported Dr. and Mrs. DeForest absent, the apartment-house attendant stoutly insisted that "Dr. DeForest never lived here and I don't know anything about him. So there!"

"COUNT" SEIZED IN CHECK CASE

Youth Accused of Forgery in Furniture Deal

Goods Worth $1070 Bought by "Nobleman"

Suspect Taken in Attempt to Buy Estate

Victor Von Schubert, 22 years of age, who asserts he is of noble lineage and carries the title of count, was arrested on a check-forgery charge late yesterday while he was in the act of negotiating for the purchase of an estate in Hollywood.

Von Schubert's aristocratic bearing and convincing speech are asserted by the authorities to have enabled him to exchange a so-called worthless $1070 check for an assortment of carefully selected furniture from a Hollywood furniture company.

The estate for which he was negotiating yesterday — incidentally without a bit of currency in his possession but, it is said, with a check book handy—is the property of E. G. Rotgier at 1939 North Canyon Drive.

SUSPICIONS AROUSED

Mr. Rotgier became suspicious of the high social station of his youthful caller and held him in conversation until Detective Lieutenants Fred Troster and John Page arrived.

Police say Von Schubert declined to give a home address when taken into custody, or to explain how, without visible cash or known bank account, he expected to pay for a large house and grounds valued at several thousand dollars.

Detectives Troster and Page began an investigation which is said to have disclosed that the accused young man's claim to title and aristocratic ancestry had opened many doors to him that otherwise might have remained closed to him.

CHECK RETURNED

His purchase of furniture at the Hollywood furniture company was said to have been made several weeks ago. When his check was returned to the store marked, it is said, "no funds," an effort was made to find him without success. Nor could the furniture be found, it is added.

How Von Schubert came to call on Mr. Rotgier was not cleared up last night. In some way the young man learned Mr. Rotgier desired to sell his house and grounds, and called to discuss it.

He very quickly said it was just the purchase he wanted to make, it is said, and was discussing details when Mr. Rotgier became suspicious and called Hollywood police.

Opera Singer's Wife Ordered to Repay Loan

Carolina Segrara, wife of Everett Marshall, Metropolitan Opera baritone, must repay Mary Fabian, Chicago Civic Opera soprano, $300 which she borrowed in Milan, Italy, in 1927, Municipal Judge Bush ordered yesterday. The judgment was directed against Miss Segrara personally and the community property of Marshall and herself.

At the trial some time ago, Miss Fabian testified that Miss Segrara borrowed the money to cover the expenses of her debut at the Milan Opera, after which she married Marshall. Miss Fabian said Marshall admitted the loan but contended that he was not responsible for the debts contracted by his wife before their marriage.

NEW LIGHTING AUTHORIZED

The general ordinance calling for installation of a lighting system on Florence avenue between Central avenue and Avalon Boulevard was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

RETAIL TRADE INCREASES

reports about a 25 per cent increase in volume of sales for September as compared to the same month a year ago. "By degrees, business in general is approaching normalcy," he said. "We look for a very good fall and Christmas business and have arranged our budget for a good spring trade. Prices on the average were never so low in the last twelve years as now, with reductions from 10 to 50 per cent."

FACTORIES BUSY

A. I. Spilker, general manager of The Famous department store, who recently returned from the East, sees as a particularly bright spot in the present general situation the lack of surplus stocks by manufacturers and wholesalers.

"This is due to the fact," said Mr. Spilker, "that the manufacturers, in view of conditions last spring and summer, did not wish to overload themselves with fall stocks and likewise is due to the fact that buyers for retail establishments came on the market for immediate deliveries at about the same time, thus materially reducing manufacturers' stocks on hand. The result is that various manufacturers are behind in deliveries and that is the case with reference to foreign imports. Consequently, the mills and factories are busily at work now to supply demand and this is a condition that bids fair to carry over into the spring season."

Reports submitted for September's Southwest Business Review, issued by the Chamber of Commerce, present an optimistic view of manufacturing conditions here that naturally are contingent on retail trade.

T. W. Penler, secretary of the Associated Apparel Manufacturers here, says in his report:

CLOTHING-MAKERS BEHIND

"The output for September is expected to be considerably more than September last year as more than 500 new machines have been added to this industry since June 1. There is an apparent shortage of skilled operators in the dress industry at the present time. Underwear, knit goods, children's wear are all working to capacity and will continue so until the middle of November, all factories being booked six weeks ahead on orders. It has been noticeable that the number of visiting buyers from distant points throughout the country has been greater this fall than during any previous fall season. During September a large number of the bigger eastern retail establishments sent buyers to this market for new styles, also many of the eastern dress manufacturers have bought new designs and styles in this market to be copied in the East, and three eastern manufacturers are now looking for space for branch factories on the Coast."

WORKING TO CAPACITY

Concerning millinery, Eugene A. Holmes, secretary of the Millinery Manufacturers' and Jobbers Association here, states:

"While September is normally the peak of the season the volume of business has been greater than expected, being from 10 to 15 per cent greater than in September, 1929, as well as considerably more than during August this year. All factories are working to capacity, many overtime. All price ranges are included, and distribution throughout the country is showing excellent expansion, with several eastern chain organizations purchasing for their retail outlets all over the East, Southwest and Middle West."

A report by D. J. Williams, manager of the Furniture Building and secretary of the Retail Furniture Association, here says:

"Business has been increasing during the past month; factories are now all working full time, and some overtime. This is partly seasonal, but also is partly attributable to increased distribution. The policy of hand-to-mouth buying has become an established one among retailers, and is reacting beneficially to the manufacturers, since the accessibility of this market adds to the attractiveness of its products, and smaller orders over the entire year help to keep the factories busy every month, instead of rushed one month and dull the next. Indications are for a good fall business."

VENICE CALLED POOR FIRE RISK

Commission Asks Council to Take Precautions

Oil Field Situation Pictured as Gravely Perilous

Drilling on Small Tracts Blamed by Chief

A recommendation that the City Council take adequate precautions to prevent a disastrous fire in the Venice oil field was made by the Fire Commission yesterday in an unanimous resolution passed following a report by Fire Chief Scott that the field at present is a serious fire hazard largely because of the granting of permits for drilling in small areas.

The commission's resolution set forth that neither the fire department nor the Fire Commission will assume responsibility for the situation until adequate legislation is adopted to correct the situation, which Chief Scott declared might result in a blaze which would wipe out the old field, causing the loss of millions of dollars and many lives.

MAIN TOO SMALL

Chief Scott's report sets forth that water facilities to fight fire are inadequate, as only a four-inch main serves the heart of the field, between Washington Boulevard and Avenue 56.

. . . asserts that trucks hauling machinery and supplies are breaking off fire plugs, three having been smashed during the last week.

Narrow streets, he holds, would make it impossible to get fire-fighting equipment to a blaze.

He points out that the oil is of high gravity and comes out of the ground so hot that it is almost as dangerous as gasoline to handle or control should it burst into flames.

"In their anxiety to put down wells and share in flush production, owners and lessees are erecting derricks, boilers and tanks without regard to the safety of their own and adjoining property," the chief's report states. "A disastrous fire in this oil district may be expected at any time, which will be immediately out of control and spread to adjacent properties, for it is impossible to impose fire safety restrictions where drilling is done on very small parcels of land."

VENICE UNDEREQUIPPED

He points out that due to lack of appropriate legislation the department is without power to impose safety regulations, that Venice is underequipped and undermanned and has been ever since its annexation to Los Angeles, only two engine companies and one truck company serving the entire district, including the oil fields.

His recommendation is that the City Council immediately provide for extension of large water mains, both to serve in case of fire and to provide residents in the oil field with water, as the drilling is now taking almost all the water carried in the small main serving the district.

He recommends that no further permits be granted by the Council to drill on small parcels of land, where proper safeguards cannot reasonably be provided.

THIRTY-SIX ORDINANCES ADOPTED TO ALLOW DRILLING

Thirty-six ordinances permitting property owners to drill for oil in the Venice field were adopted yesterday by the City Council. The applicants, some of whom have several permits, are Leah Emmer, Catherine McKenna, G. M. Jones, William H. Theis, John J. Hummel, M. F. Colburn, A. S. Danforth, G. B. Logan, A. J. Fry, John W. Angus, Elizabeth Dolan, Harry O'Day, C. Gardner Walker, William W. Kirk, the Del Rey Company, A. S. McKenney, Thomas Strain, Roderick Scott, T. E. Klipstein, V. T. Dunnigan, Gladys P. Flagg, L. E. Kent, P. E. Staufenbell, E. T. Sullivan, Emily B. Barkschat, the Bellamy Corporation and E. W. Murphy.

CIRCUS' LURE STILL POTENT

Boy Missing From Home Bobs Up Later With Story of Watering Elephants

Lure of the "big top" with its elephants, pink lemonade and other characteristics yesterday was revealed by Deputy Sheriff Davidson of the missing persons detail as the reason for the disappearance the previous day of Jack Stevens, 11 years of age, of 514 Chandler street, Monterey Park. The Sheriff's office was asked to find the boy by his mother, Mrs. John Stevens.

He returned home early yesterday morning with a tale of having carried water for the elephants and assisted the circus break quarters in Alhambra, the officer reported.

Temple Radio Cut Opposed

The proposal by the Federal Radio Commission to reduce the time allotment on the air of station KFSG, owned by Angelus Temple, of which Aimee Semple McPherson is pastor, is opposed in a resolution adopted by the Northwest Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles.

Any reduction in the time allotted will be a "gross injustice" to those who contributed to the building and maintenance of the station, the resolution states, and interfere with the diffusion of Christian faith. A copy of the resolution was ordered sent to the Radio Commission.

SAGA OF WOMEN WILL GO ON AIR

Don Lee Chain to Broadcast Novel Feature Today

Story of Their Achievements Since War to Be Told

Leading Feminine Figures Listed as Speakers

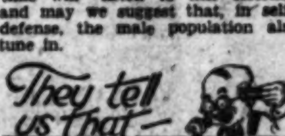
BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

If you have any doubts as to women occupying prominent positions in the world's affairs, tune in on KHJ this morning at 10 o'clock. Woman's accomplishments since the war will be reviewed by a group of prominent women speakers over the Don Lee network.

Part of the program is to originate at San Francisco and the rest of it here. Representative Florence L. Kahn of San Francisco, Mrs. Thomas G. Winters, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Ann Harding, motion-picture star; Mrs. Helen B. Cooper, president of the Los Angeles Advertising Association of Women; Prudence Penny, Kate Brew Vaughan, Velva G. Darling, "the modern girl philosopher," and other prominent women are to be heard during this interesting half-hour.

The San Francisco half of the program will be in charge of Martha Logan, whose radio broadcasts on home economic subjects have been heard from coast to coast. Agnes White, who is equally well known, will have charge of the Los Angeles portion of the program.

It is a foregone conclusion that every woman who can spare the time will listen to this offering, and may we suggest that, in self-defense, the male population also tune in.



They tell us that—

"This is Joe Doakes announcing." Does or does not anybody care three rings in a circus whether it is Joe Doakes or Santy Claus? There's an argument.

A symphonic poem based on the stirring "Battle Hymn of the Republic" will be created by Josef Koestner in the Armour program, 6:30 to 7 p.m. over KFI.

A harmonica player over radio buys his harmonicas by the gross because he wears them out so quickly. That's an advantage he has over singers who wore out their hollermonicas long ago.

The winter series of Standard Symphony hours will be inaugurated over the N.B.C. network, locally KFI, at 7:30 tonight, presenting the San Francisco Symphony. The Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra will give the second concert next Thursday.

You have heard of people "bringing their own applause." It is a new habit of broadcasting stations to use applause from a phonograph record.

Go back to your college days by listening to the football rally over KNX at 6:30 tonight. Pomona College and U.C.L.A. will make merry.

Approximately 6,000,000 school children will receive instruction from the American School of the Air, which is to start the 20th inst.
